| 167   | Machines and apparatus:Machines and apparatus, complete or incomplete, fitted together or in parts:(1) Of cast iron, steel, and other materials:A. All kinds, n. s. m. .... Per 100 kilograms.B. Steam and electric cars, steam wagons, heat cars, steam and electric trolleys, tractors, road levelers, water turbines, mechanism for levers and lifts for motors ..... Per 100 kilograms.C. Steam engines, locomotives, pumps, syringes, fire engines, compressors, vacuum pumps, freezing apparatus, complete or in parts, by weight of one piece:i. To 120 kilograms. .... Per 100 kilograms.ii. From 120 to 300 kilograms. ....iii. From 300 to 750 kilograms. ....iv. From 750 to 1,500 kilograms. ....v. From 1,500 to 3,000 kilograms. ....vi. Above 3,000 kilograms. ....vii. Above mentioned machines with out fly-wheels are subject to an additional duty of 20%.D. All kinds of steam locomotives. .... Per 100 kilograms.Steam turbines by weight of one piece:i. Up to 300 kilograms. .... Per 100 kilograms.ii. From 300 to 4,000 kilograms. ....iii. Above 4,000 kilograms. ....E. For wood work:i. Frame trucks .....ii. All others, n. s. m. ....iii. Simple machines with wooden parts and carpenter's workshops. .... Per 100 kilograms.G. For working metals, by the weight of one piece:i. Up to 300 kilograms, inclusive. .... Per 100 kilograms.ii. From 300 to 1,500 kilograms. ....iii. From 1,500 to 4,000 kilograms. ....iv. From 4,000 to 10,000 kilograms. ....v. Above 10,000 kilograms. ....H. Filament machines:i. All, n. s. m. ....ii. Manual weaving looms .....iii. Auxiliary apparatus, as well as all sorts of bobbin winders ..... Per 100 kilograms.iv. Combs with all accessories, parts, ricks, combs for making hats, willow machines, all sorts of winders, pullers and accessories ..... Per 100 kilograms.Automatic self-spinner, thread circles ..... Per 100 kilograms.v. Finishing machines, washing machines, tape washing mechanisms:(a) Hydraulic presses, with accessories ..... Per 100 kilograms.(b) Whirling, sucking, dyeing, combing, cloth machines, machines for carbonising, washing and drying machines for manufacturing goods ..... Per 100 kilograms.(c) Machines for cuttings, combing, smoothing, apparatus for vaporising, fobbing and rolling, hot pressing, and glossing of cloth. .... Per 100 kilograms.vi. Calendar presses, also smoothers for paper. .... Per 100 kilograms.I. Transmissions:i. All these n. s. m. here .....ii. Blocks without fundamental planes and without consoles, bound to rollers, n. s. m. in par. iii. .... Per 100 kilograms.iii. Bolt strainers, elastic bolts, simple and magnetic ..... Per 100 kilograms.J. Steam conductors, aqueducts, armatures:i. Ore.ii. Steel.iii. Brass and all other kinds by weight of one piece:(a) Up to 3 kilograms, inclusive. .... Per 100 kilograms.(b) More than 3 kilograms. ....(2) Apparatus:(a) Containing more than 10% copper and its alloys ..... Per 100 kilograms.(b) Up to 10% .....(3) Heating accessories:(a) With tubes and forms. ....(b) Radiators and cast kettles weighing more than 2,000 kilograms. .... Per 100 kilograms.(c) Kettles weighing from 1,000 to 2,000 kilograms. .... Per 100 kilograms.(d) Kettles weighing up to 1,000 kilograms. ....(4) Parts of machines, kettles and apparatus imported separately or together with the machines:(a) All n. s. m. .... Per 100 kilograms.(b) Spindles, hoops, leveled cylinders for three machines, spinning tubes .....K. Electric machines:(1) All sorts of accumulators, transmitters, electric ventilators and parts of all above mentioned machines, by weight of one piece:(a) Up to 15 kilograms. .... Per 100 kilograms.(b) From 15 to 150 kilograms. ....(c) From 150 to 500 kilograms. ....(d) From 500 to 3,000 kilograms. ....(e) More than 3,000 kilograms. ....(2) Accumulators, by weight of one piece:(a) Up to 30 kilograms. ....(b) More than 30 kilograms. ....L. Agricultural machines and implements:(1) Ring rollers, Campbell, as well as smooth rollers. .... Per 100 kilograms. | 30 0045 00125 00105 0085 0065 0055 0045 0045 00110 0080 0050 0050 0060 0027 00110 0095 0070 0055 0040 0033 0040 0055 0065 0035 0050 0043 0060 0070 0040 0035 0070 0080 0070 0037 0045 0035 0050 0055 0070 00110 00Free300 00200 00150 00100 0060 00100 0070 0020 00 | (2) Presses for hay and straw, sowing machines for grain and seed, for artificial manure, with and without chains, elevators for hay and straw, all makes of ploughs, throwers for one or two furrows, for horse harness spring teeth for cultivators, for horse shovels for digging ditches, targets with plates of common metal and combined with pressers, machines for pulling out turnip roots from one and several furrows, blowers, mills, apparatus for cleaning corn and seed, potato sorters, weed choppers, corn crushers, mowers for destroying weeds by steam, mills for artificial manure, potato machines, boxes, potato strewers with plates, machines for extracting and working peat, trench graders, Tordau markers ..... Per 100 kilograms.(3) Steam ploughs, all sorts of thrashing machines, mobile for clover and all kinds of grass reapers and mowing machines, self-blinders, apparatus for mowers, sowers with plates and otherwise for corn and seed, for horse work, combined sawers for corn and artificial manure, potato sowers, cleaners for beetroot seeds and clover on sieves or on linen, horse weeders for destroying weeds, horse rakes combined with shakers, for sharpening the blades of mowers, dryers for corn and fruit, mills for bones, ordinary horse rakes ..... Per 100 kilograms.(4) Motor ploughs, sowers, hand pullers for vegetables, tryers with plate drums, frizzled, for cleaning seeds, knives for choppers, squirters for disinfecting trees and buildings, centrifuges for milk, butter churns, presses, pasteurisers &c, milk apparatus for dairies, incubators and jars for milk and all others, n. s. m. .... Per 100 kilograms.(5) Models, originals, models, mounted and perfected agricultural implements imported singly for scientific institutions, museums and for the patent office ..... Per 100 kilograms.(6) Parts of agricultural machines, imported together with the machines or separately ..... Per 100 kilograms.168 Weighing scales and their accessories, parts of weighing scales, except of copper or alloys of copper:(1) For the first 60 kilograms, weight per article: weights for scales ..... Per 100 kilograms.(2) For each 100 kilograms, weight per article in excess of 60 kilograms. .... Per 100 kilograms.NOTE.—Scales for apothecaries and for laboratories, and the weights pertaining thereto, composed of non-precious metals, are assessed under No. 169, sub-division (1).169 Instruments and apparatus of precision:(1) (a) Astronomical and geodetical instruments, except those mentioned in Art. 170, telescopes, projecting lanterns, cameras, optical glasses for field glasses, lorgnettes, eyeglasses, chemical and optical instruments, rock crystals, agate isopters, pharmacy and laboratory balances and their accessories, meteorological instruments, barometers, thermometers, manometers, vacuum gauges, water, steam and gas meters, indicators, tachometers, traction regulators, ordinary and automatic calculators, planimeters, drawing instruments. .... ### TRANSIT AND EXPORT.

GOVERNMENT MONOPOLIES.

The import into Poland and transit through Poland of goods which are the subject of Polish Government monopoly is allowed only under special permits.

GOODS IMPORTED BY PARCELS POST.

On goods arriving by parcels post and weighing not more than 5 kilogs. gross, duty will be paid at the rate of 3 marks (gold), provided that the parcel does not contain goods subject to duty at a higher rate than 100 marks for 100 kilogs., or that they do not contain goods on which duty is paid according to the number of articles.

WAREHOUSE DUTIES &C.

In addition to Customs duty proper, special taxes are payable for warehousing, loading and unloading.

Customs houses which possess their own warehouses may issue special regulations for such charges, but the warehouse fee must not exceed 60 pf. per 100 kilogs. per day. No fees are chargeable for the first three days.

Loading and unloading expenses are fixed at 0.2 per cent. of the duty chargeable, with a minimum of 20 pf. and a maximum of 5 marks. On parcels 20 pf. will be charged.

MONEY, WEIGHTS & MEASURES.

The monetary unit is the Escudo (100 centavos).

Extract from the Law dated June 21, 1913, changing the monetary system: From and after July 1, 1913, the public accounts shall be kept in escudos corresponding to the former milreis. The escudo is designated by the sign $ (formerly the sign for the milreis).

Weights & Measures. The Metric System is in force.

I. GENERAL REGULATIONS.

GENERAL DUTIES AND THEIR APPLICATION.

ART. 1.—All goods imported or exported through custom-houses of the Kingdom or adjacent islands, whatever be the condition of their importation or exportation, shall be subject to the specific or ad valorem duties inscribed in the tariff, save the exceptions mentioned in the present preliminary instructions.

Sole section.—Public establishments of all kinds must pay the duties stipulated in the import tariff and leviable on goods proceeding either from foreign countries or from transmarine provinces.

ART. 2.—Goods presented for clearance are subject to the duties at the time in force and not to those which existed when the goods were stored in a customs warehouse.

SEC. 1.—When the payment of the respective duties is not effected immediately on goods presented for clearance or which have already been examined, and when, in the meantime, the rate of duties have been modified, such goods are subject to the new duties.

SEC. 2.—The following exceptions are made:—

(a) Goods cleared from the custom-house under bond or when the amount of the duties is deposited; such goods are subject to the duties in force at the time of clearance for consumption.

(b) Goods imported by contractors of public works and intended for such work; such goods are subject to the duties in force at the time the contract was signed.

SEC. 3.—In islands where the value of the money is not equivalent to the legal value of that of Portugal the customs duties and taxes shall be levied in specie.

AD VALOREM DUTIES.

ART. 3.—The ad valorem duties established in the import tariff are levied on the value of the goods at the place of origin or of manufacture, increased by the charges for freight, insurance, commission and all other expenses incurred up to their entry in the custom-house where cleared.

SEC. 1.—The value of the imported goods must be attested by an invoice from the manufacturer or seller stating the real price of the goods in question. This invoice can, however, be substituted by a written declaration.

SEC. 2.—The invoice or declaration must state, in addition to the value, the respective quantities of every kind of goods contained in the different packages presented for clearance.

SEC. 3.—When customs officers have reason to believe that goods are undervalued they may protest. In such case the officer examining the goods will appraise their real value.

SEC. 4.—The interested party must immediately declare whether he accepts this appraisal or not. Should he accept, the goods are cleared accordingly. In contrary cases the provisions of article 17 of the present preliminary instructions must be complied with.

ART. 4.—If, from the examination of the goods, it be ascertained that the estimated value does not exceed by 10% (that declared by the importer, the duties shall be levied according to such value. In contrary cases the duties shall, as a penalty, be increased by 50%.

SPECIFIC DUTIES ON WEIGHT.

ART. 5.—Specific duties when levied on the weight of goods shall be collected on the gross or net weight, according to the customs regulations embodied in these preliminary instructions.

Sole section. For goods on which the import duties do not exceed 5 re<sup>is</sup> per kilogram the duties stipulated in the tariff will likewise be levied on gross weight.

WEIGHT SERVING AS THE BASIS OF CLEARANCE.

ART. 6.—By gross weight is meant the total weight of the package, and by net weight the weight of the package after deducting all or part of the weight of the exterior and interior packages.

SEC. 1.—Gross weight.—For goods dutiable on gross weight the weight is ascertained by weighing or by appraisalment. The weight declared in the manifest, if it agrees with that indicated in the invoice or declaration, can, when the weight is clearly marked on the outside of the packages, and when the packages are of the same size, likewise be taken as a basis:—

(a) To calculate the gross weight by estimation, the total weight of the packages is estimated according to the weight of several.

(b) Receipts of goods dutiable on the gross weight and those of goods exempt from duty are considered as goods and subject to the respective duties of the tariff when they are of materials of a different nature and of greater value than those generally employed for packing such goods.

SEC. 2.—Net weight.—For goods dutiable on net weight the weight is established at the option of the administration, when no contrary provisions exist, by one of the following methods:—

1. By separating the goods from their exterior receptacles and from all or part of the interior packages.—Real weight of goods.

2. By deducting from the gross weight the legal tare fixed in the table hereinafter inserted.—Weight by legal tare.

3. By deducting the legal tare from the estimated gross weight.—i.e., the legal tare from the gross weight of all the packages, calculated on the weight of several; or, according to the estimated net weight of all the goods, by taking as a basis the net weight of part of said goods.—Estimated net weight.

The two preceding methods for establishing the net weight are only applicable in the first case when the packages are about the same size and contain similar goods; in the second, when the goods are of the same nature and quality.

SEC. 3.—Packages.—For goods dutiable on net weight the first interior packages are either exempt from duty; subject to the same duty as the goods they contain, or considered and taxed separately as manufactured articles:—

1. They are exempt from duty when they are clearly indispensable for the packing of the goods.

(a) Bales and sacks, in whatever state, are excepted from the foregoing provision. These are subject to duty when made of tissues generally employed for this purpose; both when interior or exterior, at the rate of 50% ad valorem.

(b) For the application of this paragraph are not considered as first interior packages, except in cases mentioned in the present instructions and in the text of the tariff, the partial packing intended to separate goods contained in the same package. These packages are dutiable according to No. 2 of this paragraph.

2. Packages for which no contrary provisions are made in the tariff or in the present instructions are dutiable as the goods packed therein.

3. Are considered as manufactured articles, and consequently subject to the respective duties of the tariff, packages, interior and exterior, of different form or of greater value than those generally used for packing goods, such as cases, boxes of cardboard, ornamented, of lacquer, of composition, and all other similar packages. Boxes of all kinds containing cigars are also subject to this special provision.

SEC. 4.—The net weight, which is the basis for the clearance of articles of precious metals and of artificial flowers made of whatever tissues, does not include the paper, cases, or any other object in which such articles are packed.

SEC. 5. Legal tare.—When the net weight is established by the legal tare, the following percentage will be deducted from the gross weight, according to the nature of the goods and packages:—

|  | Per cent. |

SEC. 6.—When the net weight is established according to the legal tare, the provisions of paragraph b of section 3, determining the real weight of goods, are not applicable.

RECIPIENTS OF EARTHENWARE AND GLASS.

ART. 7.—For goods which are taxed on the volume, the recipients of earthenware or glass are considered as goods and are subject to the respective duties.

FACULTY GRANTED TO COMMERCE FOR THE ESTIMATION OF NET WEIGHT.

ART. 8.—The importer who, after deduction of the legal tare, does not accept the net weight, or the estimated net weight, has the faculty to clear the goods in the first instance according to the estimated net weight; in the second, after weighing. In all cases, however, if from the estimated weight or after weighing a difference greater than 3 ½ % be ascertained in favour of the importer, he must pay for this operation double the established fees.

TARIFF DENOMINATIONS.

ART. 9.—For the classification of goods the special denomination under which they are classed in the tariff is always preferable to any other generic designation which may likewise be applied to them.

PROHIBITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS.

ART. 10.—It is prohibited:

- (a) To change the packages of goods, except under the following circumstances:
  1. When part of the goods contained in a package are to be removed or re-exportation.
  2. When goods are liable to be damaged, split, or when, for transit or re-exportation, they are to be better packed.
- (b) To change the nature of the goods in any way: except articles of gold or silver, which can be reduced to ingots or pieces should the importers so desire.
- (c) To import:
  1. Foreign goods with trade or manufacturers' marks in violation of the provisions of the laws and treaties in force.
  2. Cases and packages bearing the same marks, united and bound so as to form one package containing various goods, or even containing one kind of goods, when the said packages are not accompanied by a declaration stating the number and total weight of the cases or packages so united.
  3. Animals and animal products from countries infested with epizooty.
  4. Plants proceeding from regions infested with phylloxera and epiphyte.
  5. Books of Portuguese copyright, when relating to editions counterfeited abroad.
  6. Fraudulent copies of literary or artistic works referred to in the literary conventions.
  7. Alimentary substances containing saccharin.
  8. Medicines the composition of which is kept secret, or not duly registered.

ART. 11.—Books, printed matter, lithographs, photographs, engravings, and manuscripts in any language, are cleared from the custom-house without the interposition of the censors, except in cases provided for in the penal code.

DAMAGE TO MERCHANDISE.

ART. 12.—For customs purposes, damage is the depreciation which by accident goods suffer from the moment the sea risks commence to the time of their discharge from the vessel, or on account of packages falling into the water at the time of discharge.

ART. 13.—Damaged goods are entitled to a reduction of the duties levied on them in proportion to the difference of the value of the goods at the time of clearance and when in their proper state; to obtain this reduction it is necessary, however, that the depreciation exceeds 5 % of the value of the goods previous to the injury, and that the conditions stipulated in the following paragraphs have been complied with:—

1. If the damage occurred during the voyage, it is indispensable that it be proved by the ship's register, or by any other legal document drawn up by the captain, showing whether the damage has resulted from leakage, collision, stranding, fire, or other similar accidents.
2. If the damage occurred in the port of discharge or on the lighters, this circumstance must be proved by a document executed in the maritime office established for this purpose, either immediately after the discharge, or, at the latest, within the following twenty-four hours.

ART. 14.—The origin and importance of the damage will be required into by two experts, one of which, a customs employee, shall be appointed by the director, and the other by the merchant.

SEC. 1.—The selection of an expert by importers is limited to licensed brokers or, in their default, to merchants of recognized competence.

SEC. 2.—In case of disagreement, the two experts shall select a third arbitrator.

SEC. 3.—Should the first two experts not agree as to this selection, the third expert shall be named by the chief of the custom-house.

SEC. 4.—Should the director of customs suppose that the interests of the treasury have been injured by the arbitrators, he must appeal to the tribunal for technical litigations. The same faculty is also accorded to the proprietors of goods.

ART. 15.—Proprietors of damaged goods are authorized, before or after the valuation, to separate that portion of the goods not damaged, to clear the same for consumption, and to re-export or abandon the remainder.

SEC. 1.—In case of re-exportation the customs authorities shall inform the Portuguese consul at the port of destination, in order that he may notify the custom-house thereat.

SEC. 2.—In case of abandonment, if relating to alimentary or medicinal products, the goods must be immediately destroyed, and a written statement drawn up, with the witnesses and formalities required in analogous cases; when relating to other goods, the formalities generally adopted in cases of abandonment shall be complied with.

SEC. 3.—Whenever the examiner detects that alimentary or medicinal products are damaged he should request the sanitary authority to inspect the same, and he shall proceed in compliance with the instructions of the said authority and of the laws and regulations in force.

ART. 16.—No reduction of duties on account of damage is made:

1. For cereals, vegetables, meat, cod fish, cheese, fruits, sugar, and other alimentary substances, nor for medicaments and medicinal drugs;
2. For rough wood, beams, planks, joists, sleepers, crude metals and other articles, the value of which cannot be diminished by an accident happening either during the voyage or on discharge;
3. For goods damaged through accidents other than those mentioned in article 12.

CONTESTATIONS.

ART. 17.—Disagreements between merchants or their agents, and customs employees, or between the employees intervening at the time of clearance, relating to the classification of goods, average, tare, application of the tariff, and, generally, to everything concerning the examination of goods, the application of duty, or goods not enumerated in the tariff, shall be settled according to the following rules:—

1. When disagreements arise between merchants, or their agents, and customs employees, the said merchants or their agents must, the day after the disagreement arose, at the latest, present their petition to the chief of the second division of customs or to his substitute.

When, on the contrary, the disagreement arose between the customs employees intervening at the time of clearance, they must, within the same time, present their written explanations and give their opinions to the same officer.

2. The petitions and information, the clearance forms, as well as the samples of goods, and all other facts relating thereto, are submitted to the council of examiners, which must meet once every week at least.

3. The council of examiners, meeting at a custom-house, is composed of examiners of any class, and is presided over by the director, or by the chief of the second division, who, however, is not entitled to vote.

4. When the disagreement or contestation has arisen in a secondary customs office, the documents and other facts relating to the case must be forwarded to the custom-house to which it is subordinate, with the opinion of the chief of the office, in order to be submitted to the council of examiners according to the established rules.

5. Minutes of the resolutions of the council of examiners must be preserved, containing the reasons for the vote of every employee, and, whatever be the issue of the deliberations of the council, the result must be communicated to the merchant or his agent, so that within three days he may, if he deems proper, take the necessary steps to protect his interests; documents annexed to the petitions must be drawn up on stamped paper.

6. Appeals shall be submitted to the board of verification, who will give its opinion on the case.

7. In case there should be a difference of opinion between the examiners and verifiers, or when the merchant protests, the respective directors may, should they deem it proper, order the clearance of the goods, on condition that the majority of the council of examiners and board of verifiers are of the same opinion.

8. Samples of goods for the procedure in question should be addressed directly to the technical reporter.

9. When the merchant or his agent or the director of customs appeals to the tribunal for technical litigations, a copy of the minutes of the council of examiners, together with certified copies of the declaration, the clearance bill, the opinion of the verifiers, of the chief of the second division, and of the director, as well as samples of the goods and the claims of the interested party. In fact, everything necessary for deciding the case in appeal—must be addressed directly, within eight days, to the technical reporter attached to the said tribunal.

10. Should it be impossible to forward samples, these can be substituted by a drawing or by a minute description of the nature, form and use of the articles in question. In such case the goods may not be withdrawn from the custom-house unless the reporter has deemed the drawing, description, etc., sufficient for the information of the judges. If it be necessary to chemically analyse the products occasioning the litigation the result shall be submitted to the tribunal.

11. If the interested party desires to withdraw from the custom-house the articles causing the contestation or difference of opinion before a superior decision has been given, he must deposit the maximum amount of the duties increased by one-third.

12. When the contestation is decided in favour of the merchant, the expenses for the trial and the freight charges for forwarding the samples shall be collected. In cases of disagreement between the employees, the samples are forwarded at the expense of the treasury, and the costs for the trial shall not be collected.

GOODS NOT MENTIONED IN THE TARIFF.

13. When goods of any kind are presented for customs clearance and the merchant or examiner thinks that they are not included under one of the paragraphs of the tariff, the rules relating to contestations shall be complied with.

14. Goods considered as omitted in the tariff may be withdrawn from the custom-house, provided sufficient bond be given, unless the administration dispenses the interested party from giving bond or any other guarantee.

15. Relative to the admission of claims. The director of customs may, with the unanimous opinion of the verifiers, reject any claim relating to questions of fact, such as requests soliciting the comparison of goods with the legal patterns or samples on which the tribunal for technical litigation has already decided, contestations as to weight, tare, etc.

16. The interested party may always appeal from these decisions to the technical reporter by means of a petition, examined and transmitted by the director of customs, together with samples of the goods in question.

17. The technical reporter may admit or reject such claims. In the first case he will order the beginning of proceedings. Appeal to the tribunal for technical litigation may always be made by the owner of the goods causing the contestation.

II. SPECIAL REGULATIONS.

IMPORTATION.

General provisions.

ART. 18. The following imports are subject to special regulations:—
1. Goods imported from countries with which commercial treaties are in force.

2. Goods proceeding from Portuguese transmarine provinces.

3. Goods subject to the tax known as "real de agio" and to local taxes.

4. Sugar the product of Madeira.

5. Tobacco.

6. Specially, which can only be imported for pharmaceutical purposes with the permission of the Government, after having taken the opinion of the tribunal for technical litigations.

7. Wheat and flour, in compliance with the law of July 15, 1889, and the decree of August 29, 1889.

8. Maize, in the grain, imported into the island of Madeira and proceeding from foreign ports.

9. Maize the product of the Cape Verde Islands imported into the island of Madeira.

10. Maize, in the grain, imported into the kingdom and proceeding from the island of Madeira.

11. Compound medicines.

SEC. 1. Goods the product of Portuguese transmarine provinces conveyed directly on national vessels, and those proceeding from Mozambique, Portuguese India, and Timor conveyed on vessels of whatever nationality, shall pay at the custom-houses of the kingdom and adjacent islands only one-half of the duties stipulated in the tariff, with the exception of tobacco.

SEC. 2.—Rice, spices and fibres, when nationalized in one of the custom-houses of Asia or Eastern Africa, enjoy the treatment prescribed in the present article, and shall be considered as the proper produce of transmarine provinces.

SEC. 3.—All goods proceeding from Macao on national vessels, with certificates of origin from that port shall enjoy at the custom-houses of the kingdom and adjacent islands a reduction of 50 % of the duties stipulated in the tariff.

SEC. 4.—Sugar the product of the Madeira Island, cleared for consumption at custom-houses of the kingdom and Azores, shall pay one-fourth of the duty established for foreign sugar of similar quality.

SEC. 5.—Maize, in the grain, imported into the island of Madeira shall, when proceeding from foreign ports, pay one-third of the duty established in the tariff; when it is the produce of the Cape Verde Islands it is exempt from import duty.

SEC. 6.—Maize, in the grain, proceeding from Madeira and imported into the continent is subject to the same import duty as foreign maize.

Goods subject to inferior taxes.

ART. 19.—All the goods included in Table I, imported from foreign countries or from Portuguese transmarine provinces for consumption in Portugal shall pay in the custom-house, in addition to the import duties, the duties established in the customs tariff for consumption when they are destined to be consumed in Lisbon; when for consumption in other districts of the continent they shall pay the "real de agio" tax or all other local taxes established or which may be established in the future.

ART. 20.—Goods which in the general customs tariff are subject to duties inferior to those established for the same goods in the tariff for consumption shall, when cleared for the city of Lisbon, only pay the duty of the present tariff, saving the provisions of the preceding article.

ART. 21.—Goods exempt from duty in the import tariff, but mentioned in the consumption tariff, shall be subject to the latter duties when destined for the city of Lisbon.

Mixed yarns.

ART. 22.—Mixed yarns composed of fibres of different nature shall, for levying the duty, be considered as if they were wholly composed of the fibres subject to the highest duty.

Mixed tissues and combined or compound tissues.

ART. 23.—Mixed tissues, i.e., those made of different fibres, as well as combined or compound tissues, shall be subject to the following rules:—

1.—Mixed tissues not containing silk shall be dutiable as if wholly composed of fibres paying the highest duty, with the exception of the fibres most highly taxed entering in the tissues as non-continuous threads.

2.—Mixed tissues containing silk or floss silk, gold or silver threads, shall be dutiable according to their classification in the matters of the tariff.

3.—Knitted, net, and generally all tissues without warp or woof, formed of different fibres, shall be considered as if wholly composed of the fibre paying the highest duty.

4.—Combined or compound tissues, i.e., those composed of different kinds of tissues, the texture of which cannot serve as a basis for their classification, shall be taxed as if wholly composed of the tissue predominating in quantity.

ART. 24. The preceding rules relating to yarns and tissues shall be subordinate to the regulations established in the tariff.

Industrial machines and implements.

ART. 25.—In order that industrial machines and implements can enjoy the special classification mentioned in No. 372 of the tariff, they must be complete, and it is necessary to present to the customs officers a detailed description of the quantity and quality of the pieces of which they are composed and the uses to which these machines are destined. The classification of the object is made according to this description.

SEC. 1.—Machines imported in separate shipments can also enjoy the special classification mentioned in the present article. In this case it is absolutely necessary for the importer to remit to the customs officers a drawing of the complete machine with the description indicated above, and he must also bind himself to import the complete machine within a stipulated time.

SEC. 2.—As long as the entire machine is not imported the importer must successively depo it, with an increase of one-third, the duties corresponding to the objects imported by every shipment.

SEC. 3.—If within the time allotted to section 1 the entire machine be not imported, the parts introduced shall be assessed according to section 2.

Implements of various kinds.

ART. 26. Implements or machines of various kinds, and having different classifications in the tariff, although destined to act together, shall be subject to their corresponding duties when they are separated in such manner that they can be utilized alone.

Sole section.—When the implements or machines mentioned in the preceding article are not separated in such manner that one can act without the other, they shall be classed conformably to the uses for which they are destined.

Goods composed of various materials.

ART. 27.—Articles or products not inscribed in the tariff composed of materials or substances subject to different duties shall be dutiable according to the substance or material predominating in quantity. If, however, there should be a doubt as to the predominating material or substance, they will be subject to the duty levied on the material or substance paying the highest duty.

Vessels.

Abandoned goods.

Temporary importation.

REIMPORTATION.

Reimportation exempt from duties.

IMPORT TARIFF OF PORTUGAL AND MADEIRA.

NOTE.—A Decree (No. 6,263) of the 2nd December, 1919, authorizes the Government to double the present import duties and surtaxes.

† The English system is adopted for numbering yarn.

To ascertain the number to which a cotton yarn corresponds, any number of metres of cotton yarn may be taken, and this number is to be multiplied by the factor 59.05. The product of the above multiplication is to be divided by the weight of the yarn. The quotient multiplied by the number of threads composing the yarn will then give the corresponding English number, to which 7 or 10 % is to be added, according as the cotton yarn is of more than one thread, only spun, or spun and dyed.

* By "similar substances" is to be understood textile fibres capable of being heckled obtained from various vegetables.

LAW OF MAY 7, 1902, MODIFYING THE COLONIAL ADMINISTRATIVE AND CUSTOMS REGIME APPLICABLE TO SPIRITUOUS AND FERMENTED BEVERAGES.

("Diário do Governo," No. 105, of May 14, 1902.)

ART. 1.—The administrative, customs and fiscal regime affecting distilled spirits, wines, beers, cider and other fermented beverages in the Portuguese African Provinces, is modified according to the Regulations hereinafter established to be read together with the present Law.

ART. 2.—All contrary legislation is hereby repealed.

Regulations to be observed in application to the Law.

(1.) The importation of distilled spirituous liquors, of whatever origin, is prohibited in the Province of Mozambique south of the River Save, except in the cases referred to in Regulation 5.

(2.) Importation, as well as manufacture and sale of distilled spirituous liquors, including Caffres' fermented or distilled beverages, are prohibited in the military district of Gaza and Namabane district up to the Save River.

(3.) The erection of distilled spirit factories or installation of any apparatus for the manufacture of distilled spirituous liquors, or of Caffres' fermented or distilled beverages, is prohibited south of the River Save.

(4.) Clearance of all kinds of distilled spirituous liquors in transit by rail to the Transvaal is permitted at the Lourenço-Marques Custom-house.

(5.) The Governor-General of the Province of Mozambique, or its deputy, may, on production of a permit, allow non-natives to import, south of the Save River, prepared brandies (aguardentes), cognac, gin and liqueurs, provided that under no consideration shall such spirits be supplied for the consumption of natives.

(6.) No distilled spirituous liquors, including Caffres' fermented or distilled beverages, shall, on any account whatsoever, be sold to natives south of the River Save.

(7.) Affected only San Thomé and Príncipe; which see

(8.) Tariffs of April 16 and December 29, 1892, the Decrees of April 25, 1895, July 7 and 14, 1900, September 2 and December 13, 1901, and also all other legal provisions relative to import duties and manufacturing taxes applicable to the under-mentioned articles, are modified as follows:

PROVINCES OF MOZAMBIQUE (NORTH OF THE RIVER SAVE), ANGOLOA, GUINEA AND CAPE VERDE.

| Wines of national production: | Reis. |
|-------------------------------|-------|
| a. Up to 15° strength         | 1     |
| b. From 15° to 17° strength   | 4     |
| c. Above 17° strength         | 200   |

Special, generous, or sweet wines, such as port, madira and muscatel of national production, in bottles, up to 23° strength 4 |

Foreign wines, sparkling wines, beer, cider and other fermented beverages not mentioned in the Tariffs shall follow the regime applicable in St. Thomas and Prince's Islands and in the Province of Mozambique south of River Save.

(9.) Wines crossing from the left to the right bank of the River Save will be considered as contraband, entailing the infliction of a fine equal to 20 times the duty, besides the forfeiture of the wine, receptacles, and conveyances if seized.

(10.) Wines of national production shall be exempt from any additional or municipal tax in the Portuguese African Provinces.

(11.) The Mozambique Company shall comply with the prescriptions of the present Law in territories comprised in their concessions, and situated south of the Save River.

(30.) In the Portuguese African Provinces, the full differential benefit accorded by the Customs Tariffs in force respecting goods produced or nationalized in, or exported from Portugal or other transmarine Provinces or the Province of Mozambique, north of the Save River, shall cease to be applied as regards wines and distilled alcoholic beverages, beer, cider and fermented beverages.

(31.) The provisions of the present Law shall be applied without prejudice to International treaties and conventions and to acts of concession of privileged companies.

(32.) The Government and the Governors of the Portuguese African Provinces shall adopt such Regulations as they consider necessary to insure full execution of the present Law.

DECRETE OF SEPTEMBER 2, 1901, AS TO THE REGIME APPLICABLE TO ALCOHOL AND SPIRITS.

("Diário do Governo" No. 197, of September 4, 1901.)

ART. 1.—Alcohol and plain spirits manufactured in the Provinces of Angola and Mozambique shall, on exportation to any national or foreign port, be entitled to drawback of the manufacturing tax levied thereon in said Provinces, under the Decrees of July 7 and 19, 1900.

ART. 2.—Alcohol and spirits intended for export shall first be scheduled in a declaration specifying the quantities of the goods and their alcoholic strength. On removal from the factory or distillery, they shall be accompanied by a memorandum indicating numbers on packages and kind, their respective marks, the quantities of the liquid they contain and alcoholic strength of the latter.

§ 1. It will be necessary to deliver to the Custom house of export a duplicate of the memorandum issued by the manufacturing or distillery to enable the Customs to check the scheduled spirits.

§ 2. The shipper shall deposit the amount of the manufacturing tax payable on the quantity of alcohol or spirits to be exported, or guarantee payment of the tax by furnishing bills of substantial firms at six months' date.

§ 3. The deposit or bills shall be returned on production of a certificate to the effect that the alcohol or spirits have entered the country of destination or that the standing import duties have been paid to the Portuguese Customs, save at Angola, Mozambique and Guinea, where alcohol and spirits presented under like conditions shall be liable to a duty corresponding to the manufacturing tax established by the Decrees of July 7 and 19, 1900.

The Government will make with the Mozambique and Nyassa Companies the necessary contracts for carrying out this provision within the limits of their concessions.

§ 4. On the expiration of six months, if the exporter has failed to produce the certificate mentioned in § 3, or to prove that the delay is due to an uncontrollable cause, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Treasury, or immediate steps will be taken to cash the bills.

ART. 3.—Alcohol and plain spirits of Colonial manufacture imported into the Province of St. Thomas and Prince's Islands shall pay an import duty equal to the tax chargeable on alcohol and plain spirits of national origin.

ART. 4.—The prohibition to import raw materials for use in the distillation of alcohol, enacted by the Decree of July 19, 1900, for Mozambique, and by Decree of April 25, 1895, for the other Custom-houses beyond the seas, shall likewise apply to the Colony of Angola, except that such prohibition does not include machines, apparatus, re-agents and essences employed in the manufacture of alcohol and spirits, which shall, however, pay the duties respectively applicable thereto under the Tariffs in force.

ART. 5.—The exemption from export duties to which alcohol and brandy manufactured in the Province of Mozambique are entitled in virtue of Article 3 of aforesaid Decree of July 19, 1900, shall also extend to the Province of Angola.

ART. 6.—Alcohol and spirit manufacturers in the Province of Angola may re-import free of duty demijohns and iron or wooden barrels in which to export their manufactured products, subject to complying with the following conditions:

- (1.) Demijohns and barrels to be re-imported through the same Custom-house as that of export.
- (2.) Receipts to be returned within six months.
- (3.) Receipts to be re-imported by the same manufacturers.
- (4.) At the time of leaving, due note to be taken of any marks deemed necessary for identification of the receipts on return.
- (5.) Customs documents, issued at place from whence returned, to be produced for enabling identification of the exported articles, and if same are of foreign origin, the signature appearing on such documents to be certified by the Portuguese Consul.

ART. 7.—Alcohol and plain spirits of colonial manufacture shall pay, on importation into Custom-houses of the Kingdom and adjacent Islands, the aggregate duties fixed in Article 73 of Decree dated June 14, 1901, and be subject to the provisions of § 1 and 2 of said article.

DECREE DATED SEPTEMBER 2, 1901, RELATIVE TO SUGAR.

"Diário do Governo" No. 197, of September 4, 1901.)

ART. 1.—In accordance with Article 4 of the Law dated December 27, 1870, the differential duty of 50% applicable to sugar manufactured in the Angola and Mozambique Provinces is maintained until otherwise decreed.

ART. 2.—The differential duty referred to in the foregoing article shall, however, only apply to a maximum quantity of 6,000,000 kilogrammes for each of the said Provinces.

ART. 3.—In case sugar imported from Angola and Mozambique exceeds respectively the maximum above fixed, the privilege shall be reduced proportionately so that the total advantage granted shall, in no case, exceed the quantity corresponding to 50% of the Customs duties applicable to 6,000,000 kilogrammes of sugar manufactured in each of these two Provinces.

ART. 4.—Sugar manufactured in the Provinces of Angola and Mozambique and intended for consumption in the province of production shall only pay a tax of 20 reis per kilogramme; and, if exported to national or foreign ports, it shall be subject to a statistical tax of 1 reis per kilogramme.

ART. 5.—Import duty on sugar levied according to the Tariffs in force in the Provinces of Angola and Mozambique, dated April 15 and December 29, 1892, is raised to 80 reis per kilogramme. This rate is applicable to sugar intended for consumption in the said Provinces.

ART. 6.—Exemption from duty granted by No. 15 of Schedule B of the Angola Tariffs and by No. 14 of Schedule B of the Mozambique Tariffs, in the case of importation of machines, implements, apparatus and their accessories for use in the manufacture of sugar, is maintained until otherwise decreed.

ART. 7.—Exemption from duty granted by the Tariffs in force in the Angola and Mozambique Provinces (under Nos. 20 and 18 of respective Schedules) on importation of sacks of coarse packing or sack cloth, of linen or similar materials, of national origin intended for exportation of sugar, is also maintained until otherwise decreed.

ART. 8.—The quantity of sugar manufactured in each of the Provinces of Angola and Mozambique, to which the differential rate of 50% is to be applied according to the general Customs Tariff of the Kingdom, is fixed at the same figure as hitherto, namely, 6,000,000 kilogrammes.

SOLE PARAGRAPH.—If the production of sugar exceeds the above-mentioned maximum, the method explained in Art. 3 shall be adopted.

ART. 9.—All contrary legislation is hereby repealed.

DECREE OF OCTOBER 3, 1901, RELATIVE TO SUGAR.

"(Diário do Governo" No. 223, of October 4, 1901.)

ART. 1.—Sugar on which a drawback has been allowed on exportation through the Custom houses of the Kingdom shall, on importation into the Portuguese transmarine Provinces, be assimilated at the Custom house of arrival to sugar re-exported from the Kingdom in regard to the application of import duty.

ART. 2.—All contrary legislation is hereby repealed.

$ 2.—Alcohol and plain spirits imported into the Province of St. Thomas and Prince's Islands and in the Province of Mozambique, South of the River Save, manufactured in other Portuguese Colonies, shall be subject to an import duty equal to that levied on alcohol and plain spirits of national exportation.

$ 3.—The importation into the aforesaid territory of the Province of Mozambique of deacidulated alcohol, manufactured in the district of Lorenzo-Maque, shall be subject to the payment of a tax of 10 reis per litre.

$ 4.—For the purposes of $ 1, the proportional duty per litre and additional degree shall always be charged in full, fractions of a tenth of a degree being reckoned as a full degree.

$ 5.—The importer shall deposit the amount of the import duty for each clearance of alcohol of 83 centesimal degrees or more in store or will guarantee payment thereof by means of bills signed by substantial persons, at six months' date and bearing interest at 6% duty on such alcohol shall, however, be paid in cash up to the amount tax not subject to drawback hereinafter referred to.

$ 6.—The alcohol strength to which this article relates shall be ascertained at the temperature of 15° centigrade.

ART. 119.—Imported alcohol of 83 centesimal degrees or more strength at the temperature of 15° centigrade, once deacidulated according to the provisions of these regulations, shall be entitled to a refund of a portion of the import duty equal to the difference between the amount of such duty and the following taxes, viz:—

OF 13th MAY 1916 WHICH EMBODIES A TARIFF FOR THE TERRITORIES OF THE PROVINCE OF MOZAMBIQUE UNDER THE DIRECT ADMINISTRATION OF THE STATE.

General Dispositions.

Imported shall be subject to the payment of the duties (specific or ad valorem) set out in the Schedule, whatever be the conditions of importation, except in the cases specified in these preliminary dispositions.

Authorities of any kind, are required to pay the duties fixed in the Schedule, and other taxes leviable on account of the State, in the case of imported products, whether such products come from foreign ports, from Portugal and the adjacent islands, or from Portuguese provinces. When such products are imported for the exclusive use of the State, however, the municipal taxes shall not be levied thereon, and a special percentage tax levied for the benefit of the Customs officials, shall be subject to the duties in force at the time when they are cleared for clearance through the Customs, and not to the duties in force at the time when they were deposited in Customs warehouses.

Clearances shall be effected by means of declarations drawn up in duplicate, and signed by the importer or his legal representative. The statement must contain:—

- The name and nationality of the ship, and the port from which she sailed.
- Year and number of registration of ship.
- Name of the master.
- Origin of the goods.
- Marks, numbers, quantity, and gross weight of the packages.
- A specification of the goods contained in each package.
- The net weight of each kind of goods or the number of articles, according to the unit on which duty is levied.
- Value of the goods.

ad valorem duties established by the Tariff shall be levied on the value of the goods at the place of origin or manufacture, increased by all expenses, commission, and up to the place of unloading, the value shown in the invoice shall be increased by 25%.

The respective invoice does not specify the expenses of freight, commission, &c., up to the place of unloading, the value shown in the invoice shall be increased by 25%.

Ad valorem duties leviable on goods of foreign origin shall, at the Mos Houses of Lourenço Marques and Inhambane, be paid in gold, the sum payable is not less than 2 escudos 25 centavos, the value of gold (sterling) being taken as 4½ escudos for the purpose of payment. When the amount payable is less than 2 escudos 25 centavos, it be paid at the current rate of exchange. In the same way, the value is payable on a specific basis or free of import duty shall be declared at the current rate of exchange.

The Customs authorities regard the declared values as being too low, shall contest the declaration, and in such cases the Customs appraiser fix the value on which, in his opinion, duty should be paid. In the amount of Customs duties and taxes payable exceeds 500 es, payment may be made by means of bills, subject to the conditions of this Article (One-third part is to be paid in coin, and the two-thirds may be paid in three and six months' bills—interest at 6 per annum being charged—the bills being guaranteed by two commercial firms of recognised standing or by the deposit of securities equal to the amount of the bills.)

Gross weight is the total weight of the package; and the net weight weight of the package less the total weight of the external wrapping. The net weight of goods is established by means of examination or other of the following ways:—

- By separating the goods from their external wrappings (net weight—peso effectivo).
- By deducting from the gross weight the legal tare percentage specified in the Schedule in this Article (legal net weight—peso por tara legal).
- By subtracting the legal tare from the estimated gross weight, i.e., from the gross weight of all the packages calculated from the weight of some, or by estimating the total net weight of the goods, taking the net weight of a proportion of the goods as basis for the calculation (estimated net weight—peso liquido por estimativa).

The two last-named methods of fixing the net weight shall only be used when the packages are approximately of the same size and of the same kind of goods; and the second when the whole of the packages are of the same kind and quality.

Interior wrappings used for packing separately the goods contained in the same package shall be regarded as part of the merchandise, and the weight thereof shall therefore be included in the net weight, and in the case of tissues of any kind, of tea, of tobacco, and of leather.

Articles are presented as internal or external packing, which are not used as packing material or which are not indispensable for packing and which can be sold separately, such articles shall pay duty at the rate which would be applicable thereto if they had been imported separately.

The estimated net weight shall not be applied in the case of tissues, and in the case of unbleached cotton tissues, of which the net weight may be obtained by using the legal tare allowance, and in which case some of the following tare allowances shall be deducted from the gross weight of goods subject to duty by weight:—

|  | Percentage deduction. |

| Of glass .....   | 10                    |

Importers who are not willing to accept the "legal net weight," or to abide by the "estimated net weight" have the right, in the first case, to have duty assessed on the "real weight," and, in the second, to have the whole of the goods weighed.

For the Customs classification of goods, the specific heading of the Tariff under which they may fall is always to be applied, as against any general heading of the Tariff which may also apply thereto.

It is prohibited to change the packing of goods, except in certain specified cases, where, for instance, part of the goods in a package are to be re-exported.

It is prohibited to transform or change the nature of goods in general free warehouses, in any way, except in the case of goods which are free of duty.

The importation of the following is prohibited:—

- Foreign goods having trade or manufacturers' marks in contravention of existing legislation.
- Cases or bales, tied or tied together, with the same mark, making one single package which contains different kinds of goods, or which, if containing only one kind of goods, is not accompanied by a declaration of the number and total weight of the separate cases or bales.
- Animals and animal products coming from regions affected by zoonotic diseases.
- Plants coming from districts infected by phylloxera or other plant disease.
- Editions, pirated abroad, of books with a Portuguese copyright.
- Saccharine (except in cases exempted by law from the prohibition), and alimentary substances containing saccharine.
- Periographical publications, prints or any other articles offending public morality and decency.
- Foreign literary or artistic works which are fraudulent reproductions of other works of which the property rights are guaranteed by international conventions.
- Goods brought by vessels which do not comply with the conditions laid down by the Paris Congress of the 16th April, 1856.
- Opium (unless legally imported).

Books, printed matter, lithographs, photographs, prints and manuscript in any language may be cleared through the Customs, without submission to censorship, except in cases provided for in the Penal Code.

As "average" shall, for Customs purposes, be considered the damage suffered by goods from the time maritime risks commenced for the ship in which imported, up to the time of unloading, or by the dropping of the packages in the water during unloading, and injury arising from the deterioration of the goods, in so far as it was not the fault of the consignee.

A reduction of duty is conceded in respect of average goods, proportioned to the difference between the value of the goods at the time of clearance and their value in good condition; but such reduction shall only be accorded where the average exceeds 5 per cent. of the value of the goods before damage.

Owners of average goods may separate the part of the goods which is in good condition and clear the same for consumption, and may re-export or abandon the remainder.

Reduction of duty by reason of average shall not be allowed in the case of:—

- Cereals, vegetables, meat, fish, cheese, fruits, sugar and other alimentary substances, medicaments or drugs used in medicine.
- Wood in the rough, beams, "tabuns," logs, sleepers, unroughed metals, and other articles which are not susceptible to change of value by accident during shipment or unloading.
- Goods which have deteriorated.

Note.—Duties on the undermentioned are payable in gold, at par (i.e., at the rate of 4½ escudos to the pound sterling):—

Customs duties and "commercial" and "industrial" contributions on goods of foreign origin, except foodstuffs; re-export and transshipment duties; interest on outstanding Customs dues; stamp duty on clearance papers of foreign goods; tonnage, port and marine sanitary dues; storage charges; licences for carrying firearms, sale of gunpowder, cutting of timber, and manufacture of alcoholic drinks; trading licences (Schedule B); property tax; quit rent.

In view of the depreciation of the escudo, the effect of this provision will be to increase such duties by over 100 per cent.

MONEY, WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—Same as Portugal.

MONEY, WEIGHTS & MEASURES.—The monetary unit of Roumania is the leu of 100 centimes or bani. For weights and measures this country has adopted the metrical system. Commercial language: French is mainly used.

The duties as fixed by the commercial treaties concluded with the United Kingdom, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, France and Italy, are indicated in the conventional Tariff column of duties by the letters "U, K," "A," "B," "F," and "I" respectively and also the notes relating thereto. The words printed in italics are those which were added by the treaty between Roumania and Germany. The advantage of all concessions which Roumania may accord to other countries, as well as the concessions already made to those above mentioned, will be extended to the United Kingdom in virtue of the most-favoured-nation clause in the Anglo-Roumanian treaty of October 30, 1905.

Products of countries with which no commercial conventions can be concluded except by their levying differential rates on Roumanian goods, shall be liable, on importation into Roumania, to a surtax of 50% on the duties fixed in the general tariff; duty free articles shall be subject to a duty of 30% ad valorem. Should the said countries apply duties amounting to prohibition, the Government, after duly taking into consideration the economic and manufacturing interests of the country, may in case the Legislature decides that it is not expedient, and subject to subsequent ratification by them, increase as they think fit, up to prohibition, the duties affecting all or any part of the goods or products originating from, or nationalized in, those countries. When, for various reasons, said countries do not allow any product of Roumanian origin to cross their territory in transit, the transit of all products of such countries shall be prohibited to Roumania.

Note.—Goods which in the present tariff are followed by an asterisk * are dutiable on gross weight. For goods dutiable on legal net weight and on real net weight, and also those liable to the 5% tax, together with the tare allowances and Law relating thereto, see end of Tariff.

For special rates applicable to Turkey see end of Tariff.

o.s.m. = not specially mentioned.

Note.—By a recent Roumanian Decree-Law, the general Customs Law, the Customs Tariff Law, and the Law on the marking of the precious metals, now in force in Roumania, are extended so as to be applicable in Transylvania, the Bukovina, the Banat, and the other Territories united to Roumania.

(IMPORT DUTIES (In Force March 1, 1906).
Note.—From 15th May, 1913, imports of merchandise, except articles of luxury, were not to be subject to any formalities beyond those relating to Customs, &c. which were in force before the war. An additional ad valorem tax of 2 per cent. is, however, imposed on all goods arriving in the country.

GENERAL NOTES TO TARIFF.—(L) In so far as the duty leviable on an article depends on its duty on another article referred to in the tariff Schedule to the Treaty, the former duties shall be calculated according to the rate granted by the treaty, and not according to the rate of duty in the "General" Tariff. [British and German Treaties.]

(ii.) Except as otherwise specially provided, the following are considered as fine materials: amber, tortoise-shell, pearl, ivory, real jet, meerschaum, precious metals, all gilt metals and gilt or silvered wire, precious or semi-precious stones, lace, embroideries, and all articles of silk as well as tissues and plated wares containing 30 per cent. or more of silk. [German Treaty.]

Note.—A Roumanian Royal Decree, dated 6th June, 1919, and published in the "Monitorul Oficial" for the 7th June, provided for the establishment of a tax of 20 per cent. ad valorem on all goods exported from Roumania. The decree provides that, for the purpose of payment of the tax, the value is to be fixed on the basis of the selling price and the usual market price at the time of exportation. All other export customs taxes established by previous laws are abolished by the decree.

According to information which has reached the Board of Trade through the Foreign Office, however, a further decree was published on the 9th August exempting all exports from payment of the 20 per cent. export tax established by the decree of the 6th of June.

LAW RELATING TO TARE ALLOWANCES ON GOODS DUTIABLE BY WEIGHT.

(Monitorul oficial No. 231, of January 19/February 1, 1906.)

ART. 1.—The import duties affecting goods dutiable by weight shall be levied on the gross weight, the legal net weight or the real net weight of the goods.

ART. 2.—The gross weight is the result of weighing the contents together with the packing.

Double casks and wrappers, in which certain goods are packed, do not form part of the gross weight.

ART. 3.—The legal net weight is arrived at by deducting from the gross weight the tares specified in Schedule B annexed to the present Law.

ART. 4.—The real net weight is the weight of the merchandise ascertained with or without the outer or inner wrappers, as differentiated in Schedule C annexed to the present Law.

ART. 5.—When a package contains several kinds of goods classed under different numbers of the tariff, the goods dutiable on the legal or on the real net weight are to be weighed and taxed according to the provisions of Schedules B and C respectively. To the weight of goods dutiable on the gross weight there is added a part of the weight of the package in which they are contained proportional to the net weight of each kind of goods so dutiable on the gross weight. If there are several kinds of goods, all of which are dutiable on the gross weight, the weight of the package is divided proportionally, and added to the net weight of each kind of goods contained therein.

ART. 6.—Liquids dutiable by gross weight, imported in tank-waggon, shall be assessed on the real net weight, with 20 per cent. additional.

ART. 7.—Goods dutiable by gross or legal net weight, imported in bulk, shall be assessed together with the materials used for protecting them during the transport (boards, slats, straw, excelsior, &c.); in case of several kinds of goods dutiable at different rates, the weight of the package is divided proportionally and added to the net weight of each kind of goods contained therein.

ART. 8.—Goods dutiable on the legal net weight, imported in receptacles or packages other than those specially provided for in Schedule B annexed to the present Law, shall be assessed on gross weight.

ART. 9.—If, by their nature, receptacles should constitute commercial articles liable to duty under the Customs tariff, they shall be assessed separately from the goods save as specially excepted in the present Law.

The following receptacles shall be considered as having a commercial value: Metal casks and cans of all kinds, trunks in general, painted or plated cases (roulers) or lace cases, baskets of horse grass or peated osiers, cloth bags of better quality than those generally used, boxes and covers of all kinds; skins, cases and casks of oak, ash or beech; casks, barrels and tubs of wood of every description with iron hoops and, generally, all receptacles or packing which by their nature might be of commercial value or be used after consumption of the contents.

Iron casks containing soda are excepted and shall be liable to the same duties as the soda.

ART. 10.—Should receptacles or wrappers, containing goods dutiable by gross weight, be liable to higher duties than the goods, they are to be assessed separately; their weight shall be ascertained approximately without removing the contents.

ART. 11.—Goods dutiable on the gross weight, imported in bulk, shall be weighed and subject to duty together with foreign packing or receptacles used for the convenience of unloading or removing the goods at the Customs.

ART. 12.—Goods dutiable on real net weight shall be weighed together with the receptacles containing same and be assessed at the same rates as the latter; receptacles dutiable at higher rates than the goods shall, however, pay duty separately.

The weight of receptacles shall be ascertained approximately without transferring the goods. From this rule are excepted hermetically closed receptacles which after being opened with the view to consuming the contents, become utterly unserviceable, e.g. sardine or preserve boxes, tins containing essences or other liquids, boxes or bottles with medicines or other specialties all which pay the same duty as the goods even though dutiable at a higher rate than the latter.

ART. 13.—In respect to goods dutiable by legal net weight, the tare is represented by the weight of the receptacle; if such receptacle is of no commercial value, it shall be deducted from the gross weight of the goods, otherwise, it shall be dutiable according to kind.

ART. 14.—In determining the tares, fractions of a kilogramme down to a hectogramme are to be taken into account. Fractions of a hectogramme are to be ignored in importer's favor if not exceeding 30 grammes, but reckoned as a hectogramme on account of the Treasury if exceeding 30 grammes.

ART. 15.—In case goods dutiable on the real or legal net weight are imported in single or double bales or bales of common jute stuffs, half the duties chargeable on the goods under the Customs tariff shall be levied on such outside wrappings.

ART. 16.—Reels and such like, also the cloth or paper covering stuffs or other goods shall be weighed and dutiable together with the respective goods, save as specially excepted in the annexed Schedules.

Ordinary cardboard boxes used as coverings for goods dutiable by real net weight, without boxes, are to be taxed separately; bunnis or frames round which stuffs, velvets or lace are generally rolled shall be assessed separately from the goods.

ART. 17.—Articles dutiable on the gross weight, imported by parcels post, are to be weighed and taxed together with the wrapper; those dutiable by legal or real net weight shall be assessed on the real net weight as differentiated in annexed Schedules B and C.

ART. 18.—Cases, crates, casks, barrels, tubs, balsam sacks are entitled to equal tare allowance.

ART. 19.—The conditions under which each kind of receptacle or covering mentioned in the foregoing article are to be admitted to allowance of the tares granted by the present law will be determined by the Customs Department with the advice of the Committee of Experts, and be published in the Monitorul oficial in the form of a Ministerial decision.

ART. 20.—False declarations as to the nature of receptacles or wrappers, in consequence of which a profit should be derived from the allowance of a higher tare, shall be dealt with according to Art. 89, § 1 or 2 of the General Customs law.

ART. 21.—Disputes relating to tares, as regards the description of receptacles or wrappers shall be settled by the Committee of Experts connected with the Ministry of Finance; this will also be the case for disputes in reference to the kind or quality of the goods.

ART. 22.—It shall be lawful for the Government to amend, as occasion requires, any provision contained in the present law and annexes thereto.

The amendments shall be effected in virtue of a Royal Decree and are not to be operative until three months after the date of publication of the Decree in the Monitorul oficial.

ART. 23.—The present law shall commence to take effect at the same time as the General Customs Tariff.

REGULATIONS FOR THE EXECUTION OF ARTICLE 18 OF THE LAW RELATIVE TO TARE ALLOWANCES.

(Monitorul oficial No. 247, of February 9/22, 1906.)

The receptacles enumerated in Article 18 of the tare-allowance law will have to comply with the following conditions in order to be entitled to the tares therein provided for:

a The case must be completely closed and will generally have six sides; it must be of wooden boards of the usual thickness, neither planed nor painted, held together by wooden slats or occasionally by thin iron bars, or simply by nails;

b The crate differs from the closed case by the fact that the slats on the sides are not completely fitted, but show spaces of more than 5 centimetres apart;

c The cask must be of wood with flat heads, and fitted oval-shaped ebhooks;

d The cask with open top must be of wood, closed at the bottom in the form of a cylinder or truncated cone; the upper part may or may not be provided with a lid of wood or other materials;

e The tub must be of wood of the same shape as the open-top cask, but with handles, and of a capacity of at least 20 litres;

f The basket must be of common flexible materials, such as willows or osiers, split wood, sedge or chip;

g The bale must be of cloth or cardboard, secured at the ends by wooden slats, and hooped with iron. When such a package is not hooped with iron, it shall not be treated as a bale;

A The sack must be of ordinary cloth.

TARIFF

FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE  $\frac{1}{2}$  % TAX ON THE VALUE OF MERCHANDISE IMPORTED OR EXPORTED THROUGH ROUMANIAN PORTS.

(Entered into operation March 10, 1906.)

NOTE.—The numbers appearing in the present list correspond with those of the Customs Tariff under which the goods are classed; and the figures opposite those numbers represent in Lei and Bani the half per cent. tax on the value of goods according to the rates established in the Customs Tariff.

COMMERCIAL CONVENTION BETWEEN ROUMANIA AND TURKEY, SIGNED AT CONSTANTINOPLE, JULY 30/AUGUST 12, 1901, AND RATIFIED JULY 15, 1902.

ART. 1.—The Imperial Ottoman Government undertake to apply to articles of Roumanian origin or manufacture the lowest import duties which are or may be inscribed in Conventions or conventional Tariffs of the Ottoman Empire with any other power.

ART. 2.—The Royal Roumanian Government undertake to apply to articles of Ottoman origin or manufacture, as specified in the Schedule hereto, the import duties set forth therein and also to allow said articles the benefit of the lowest duties which may be granted in respect to similar products imported from another country.

Articles of Ottoman origin or manufacture not appearing in the Schedule annexed shall be subject in Roumania to the lowest rates of duty whether present or future.

ART. 3.—Products of Ottoman origin or manufacture imported into Roumania and products of Roumanian origin or manufacture imported into Turkey shall—with regard to export or transit duties, and as to re-exportation and Customs formalities, be subject to the same treatment as are enjoyed by products of the most favoured nation, and they shall be subject to no additional Customs, local octroi or any other duty or to new accessory taxes except such as now exist or may hereafter be levied upon national products, or on goods of most-favoured nations.

Tobacco produced in the Ottoman Empire shall be exempted from the foregoing provision, and on exportation to Roumania, the same remains liable to an Export duty of four piastres per cask, i.e., 312½ piastres per 100 kilograms.

ART. 4.—In order to establish that the products are of Ottoman or Roumanian origin or manufacture, the importer may be compelled to produce to the Customs in the country of importation either an official declaration made before a Magistrate sitting in the place of despatch, or a certificate from the Chief of the Customs service at the exporting office, or a certificate from the Consuls or Consular Officers of the country into which importation is to be effected, and resting in the places of despatch or ports of shipment.

ART. 5.—The two High Contracting Parties engage that shipment in their ports to the Ottoman Empire or Kingdom of Roumania, of any article prohibited or monopolized in those countries will not be allowed except with the special authority of the country of importation.

These articles are:
In Turkey: Gunpowder and explosives of all kinds, arms of war and their accessories, military ammunition, tobacco in any form, tomback and salt.

In Roumania: Gunpowder and explosives of all kinds, arms of war and their accessories, military ammunition, tobacco in any form, tomback, salt, matches, playing cards and cigarette paper.

The foregoing lists may be modified according to circumstances by previous communication made in writing to the other party.

ART. 6.—Ottoman vessels and their cargoes in Roumania, and Roumanian vessels and their cargoes in the States of His Imperial Majesty the Sultan shall, in all respects, enjoy the most-favoured-nation treatment.

Nevertheless, the two High Contracting Parties reserve and mutually acknowledge one another's liberty of action in all matters relating to Maritime or other stipulations to be laid down in the Consular Convention to be concluded between the two States.

ART. 7.—The present Convention shall have effect from and after the day of exchange of ratifications and remain in force during five years.

However, after a period of 18 months from date of exchanging ratifications, each of the two High Contracting Parties will have the right to denounce these presents. In that case, the Convention shall cease to have effect one year from date when the denunciation was notified to the other Party.

Ratifications shall be exchanged at Constantinople as soon as possible. In cases whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Constantinople July 30, August 12, 1901.

* Imported by sea. † Imported over the European land frontier.

† Note 1.—Lists of spare parts, showing the number thereof for each machine, apparatus or implement, are issued by the Minister of Commerce and Industry in concurrence with the Minister of Finance in the case of machines and apparatus mentioned in sub-division (1), classes (a), (b) and (c); by the Minister of Commerce and Industry in concurrence with the Minister of Finance and the Director-General of Agriculture, so far as concerns the machines and implements enumerated in sub-divisions (4), (5) and (6), and shall be published for the information of all concerned. The same procedure shall be followed in respect of any amplifications or amendments of the said lists. Note 2.—Machines and apparatus not separately designated which are composed of common materials other than those specified in the present section (167), and into the composition of which cast iron, wrought iron, or steel either do not enter at all or are only present as means of consolidating separate parts of the machines, as for example, bolts, tie-beams &c., are assessed for duty under the sections of the Tariff which deal with those materials respectively. Should cast iron, wrought iron, or steel enter into the composition of the aforesaid machines or apparatus otherwise than as parts intended for their consolidation, then such machines or apparatus shall be assessed for duty under sub-division (1) of the present section (167). Note 3.—(No longer in force).

Note 4.—(No longer in force). Note 5.—Exemption from duty is granted in favour of all implements and apparatus for destroying animals noxious to agriculture, as set out in the list prepared by the Minister of Commerce and Industry in concurrence with the Minister of Finance and the Director-General of Agriculture. Note 6.—The following parts of agricultural machines and apparatus, imported together with the machines or apparatus, or separately, are exempt from Customs duties, in accordance with regulations to be established by the Minister for Commerce and Industry in concurrence with the Minister of Finance and the Director-General of Agriculture, viz.—(1) Tempered steel cut to size in the shape of mould-boards for ploughs. (2) Steel teeth for horse rakes. (3) Steel discs, solid or sectional, for cultivators, ploughs and seed drills (ready for use). (4) Steel clips for fingers, sections and complete knives for reaping machines. (5) Seed-conducting tubes for row drills. (6) Binding apparatus for reaping and self-binding machines and parts thereof. (7) Ribbed beaters for drums of threshing machines, finished or unfinished, also shaped steel bars for such beaters. (8) Canvases for reaping and self-binding machines. The immediately foregoing list of parts of machines and apparatus admitted free of duty may be completed by the Minister of Commerce and Industry in concurrence with the Minister of Finance and the Director-General of Agriculture, by the addition of other non-listed parts of agricultural machines and apparatus specified in sub-division (6) of this No. (167), and also by parts of portable engines mentioned in sub-division (5) of this No. (167).

General Note.—Exemption from duty is granted, under regulations to be established by the Minister of Commerce and Industry in concurrence with the Minister of Finance, to machines, apparatus, and parts thereof intended for the manufacture of agricultural portable engines, of complicated steam threshers, of reaping and sheaf-binding machines and of reaping machines with automatic ejectors, designated in sub-division (6) of Tariff No. 167.

Exemption from duty is also granted for ten years from January 1st, 1914, 1917, for the Siberian and Ural gold mining industry to dredges and excavators and spare parts, whether imported together with the machines or separately, and appurtenances and apparatus for crushing gold ores, and for extracting gold by chemical processes, appurtenances for prospecting dredging areas, and spare parts, whether imported with them or separately, according to regulations drawn up by the Minister of Finance in concurrence with the Minister of Commerce.

1. Note 1.—Vessels for use in laboratories, in medicine, or in pharmacy, composed of clay, sandstone, glass, porcelain or the like, pay duty according to the sections of the tariff applicable to those materials respectively. Note 2.—Similarly, spare parts of electric cells, batteries and other appliances, which wear out by use and require to be replaced by new ones, such as zinc, copper and other plates for cells, carbons for the same and for lamps, lanterns &c., pay duty according to the respective sections of the Tariff.

* Spectacles, eye-glasses, opera glasses and binoculars, in settings of gold, silver, or platinum, pay duty according to Section 143, but if the settings are of mother-of-pearl, tortoiseshell, ivory or other costly materials enamelled, gilt or silvered, they pay under sub-division (1) of Section 215.

General Note to Sections 169 and 170.—The instruments enumerated in these sections pay duty on a weight which includes that of the boxes, cases &c. which contain them, and which are specially adapted for their purpose.

§ Note 1.—A "movement" of a timepiece shall be deemed to be such a combination of the various parts of the timepiece as shall consist of the protecting plates with all or part of the works, which, if fitted thereto, shall not be deemed to be "movement." Note 2.—Wall clocks, table clocks, mantelpiece clocks and carriage clocks, provided with movements which are inseparable from the cases without the aid of tools, pay duty according to the material of the cases, and, in addition, a duty of 7 roubles 41 copeks each for movements enumerated in sub-division (1) (b), and of 78 copeks each for movements enumerated in sub-division (1) (c). Note 3.—Cases imported separately from the movements, or with movements which can be separated from the cases without the aid of tools, pay duty according to the materials of which such cases are composed.

† The weight on which duty is assessed in the case of musical instruments includes that of the boxes or cases specially constructed to hold them.

* Note.—Vehicles with finished upholstery (i.e., not merely roughly upholstered) pay 30 per cent. in excess of the duties fixed by sub-divisions (1), (2), (3) and (4), to 173.

† All other kinds of axles, as well as springs, pay duty under the sections dealing with iron and steel manufacture.

§ Note 1.—Iron vessels, with or without steam engines, imported in sections, are assessed under the corresponding Nos. of the Tariff. Note 2.—In the same way, articles included in the ship's inventory (except such as are absolutely necessary for the regular and safe navigation of the vessel or are securely fitted to her hull, also with the exception of the anchors, chains and bawlers mentioned in Note 3, and imported for the purpose of fitting out and rigging sea-going sailing vessels), are assessed under the corresponding Nos. of the Tariff. The precise determination of these articles, which are dutiable together with the vessel, is left to the discretion of the Minister of Finance, in concurrence with the Minister of Marine, and, so far as concerns river and lake craft, with the concurrence of the Minister of Ways of Communication. Note 3.—As a temporary measure, and until July 1, 1928, admission shall be accorded, free of duty, in the case of iron sea-going vessels imported in a complete state, and intended for the navigation of external seas. This measure shall also be applicable in the case of vessels acquired for the navigation of the Danube and its tributaries under the Russian flag. During the same period, admission shall also be accorded, free of Customs duty, in respect of anchors, chains and bawlers, imported for the outfit or rigging of sea-going sailing vessels. The determination of the rules governing the duty-free admission of these metal manufactures being left to the discretion of the Minister of Commerce and Finance.

* In addition to the duty per ton, gross capacity, fixed under sub-division (a) of this section, for vessels not propelled by steam.

MONEY, WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The Monetary unit of Serbia is the dinar = 100 paras.

For Weights and Measures Serbia has adopted the metrical system.

[In the following pages the "conventional" rates fixed by the various commercial treaties concluded with Serbia are indicated by letters thus—A, Austrian Treaty; B, British Treaty; G, German Treaty; F, French Treaty; M, Montenegro Treaty; S, Swiss Treaty; I, Italian Treaty; Bg, Belgian Treaty; and C, Turkish Treaty, and these are placed against the duties and also the notes relating thereto.]

NOTE:—For the tax known as "Trocharion," and the schedule of tare allowances, see end of Tariff.

The letters m. s. m. in the text mean "not specially mentioned."

|      | (i) The Oustane duty, if not otherwise provided in the tariff, is that applicable to grey goods; if they are eye-washed, bleached, half-bleached, mercerized or nitrated, they pay a surtax of 15%; if dyed or woven in colours, stamped or printed, 20% (G.), (I.) and (S.).   |                             |                                       |
|      | (ii) Figured tissues pay a surtax of 10% (G.) (S.).  |                             |                                       |
|      | (iii) Broché tissues and tissues in gauze binding pay a surtax of 15% (G.) (S.).   |                             |                                       |
|      | (iv) Yarns, tissues, embroidered tissues and trimmings made of several textile materials, except silk, if not otherwise determined, pay the highest duty payable by any of the materials of which they are made. Admixtures not exceeding 5% (G.) of the total weight are without influence on the tariff classification.   |                             |                                       |
|      | (v) Yarns and thread containing silk, but not to the extent of more than 25% of their weight, pay an extra 30% (10% A.) on the duty on such goods. If they contain more than 25% of silk, they will be dutiable as silk yarns and thread. Tissues in general which are mixed with silk will be dutiable as follows:   |                             |                                       |
|      | (a) If they contain up to 10% of silk in the total weight of the tissue, they pay a supplement of 20% on the duty of the principal material.   |                             |                                       |
|      | (b) If they contain more than 10 up to 50% of silk in the total weight of the tissue they pay the same duty as half-silk tissues.  |                             |                                       |
|      | (c) If with more than 50% they pay the same duty as silk tissues (G.).  |                             |                                       |
|      | (vi) Tissues, knitted and embroidered materials and trimmings, with common metal threads, &amp;c., pay a surtax of 5% on the duty. If smoothest or otherwise dressed with other vegetable or mineral materials, they also pay a surtax of 5%.  |                             |                                       |

| (vii)  | Tissues knitted and embroidered articles and trimmings, combined with gold and silver or with gilt and silvered threads, pay a surtax of 40% (25% A.), if these threads are not more than 1/2 of the total weight of the article, otherwise they will be dutiable as gold, silver, gilt, or silvered articles, &c.   |                             |                                       |
|  | All these products combined with gilt or silvered threads, or even with threads of gilt or silvered common metals, even with gilt or silvered spangles, and other similar ornaments of gilt or silvered thread, pay a surtax of 12%. Embroideries composed only of these yarns and threads pay a surtax of 12% on the duty fixed by No. 282 (1) b and (2) b and No. 312 respectively, even if there are no embroideries of other materials (4.).   |                             |                                       |
| (viii)   | Textile goods and felts which are completed with ordinary stitches or seams, and with ordinary trimmings, will not be dutiable as ready made goods (sewn), but will only pay a surtax of 15%. Similar net-d wares will be treated as cut out and sewn knitted wares. So far as not otherwise specially provided, textiles shaped in manufacture or with indication for cutting into articles, without needlework, will be treated as textiles in the piece, subject, however, to a surtax of 5% (G.) and (S.).   |                             |                                       |
| (ix)   | Clothes, articles of fashion, and other sewn goods of tissues, combined with threads of common metal, pay a surtax of 10% (A.); if with gold, silver, gilt, or silvered threads, 30% (20% A.).   |                             |                                       |
| (x)  | Glass, porcelain, or metal beads, wire-bone fibres, in-woven, inserted, or otherwise combined with woven material, effect no change in the duty (G.).  |                             |                                       |
| (xi)   | Articles made of woven materials, which are made up in other manner than by sewing, are dutiable as sewn articles (G.).  |                             |                                       |
| (xii)  | Sewn textile articles composed of several different materials pay the duty on the material which predominates in extent on the exterior surface (G.).Linkings, buttons, gimps, ribbons, trimmings, borders, embroidered parts, &c., do not affect the tariff classification (G.).  |                             |                                       |
| (xiii)   | Stuffed mattresses, pillows, palliasses, pay the duty on sewn goods for one third of their weight, according to the duty paid by the material the cover is made of, and for two thirds of their weight the duty paid by the stuffing.  |                             |                                       |
| (xiv)  | In calculating the weight per square metre of coloured tissues for purposes of classification, a deduction of 10% is made for dye and dressing. In cases, however, in which such deduction results in subjecting the goods to a higher rate of duty, a deduction of 10% is also made from the actual weight on which duty is levied (B.). <sup>a</sup>   |                             |                                       |
| (xv)   | In counting the threads of the tissues classed in Nos. 277 and 296, each twisted strand taken separately shall be deemed to be a single thread so that threads of more than one strand shall be considered as consisting of as many single threads as there are separate strands in their composition. In counting the threads, those which have been added by braiding are also reckoned, as also silk threads which do not cause the stuff to partake of the character of silk or half-silk tissues. As to tissues which are not evenly close-woven throughout, the number of threads shall be determined by taking the average number of threads counted in the loose-woven part and in the close woven part. In counting the metal yarns inserted into the tissues, the textile yarns wound with metal threads shall be included in the number of threads. |                             |                                       |
| (xvi)  | Knitted plush is dutiable as velvet and plush.   |                             |                                       |
| (xvii)   | Netted goods, resembling lace, to be sold by the metre, are dutiable as lace. The same classification applies to articles resembling lace, consisting of ribbons, lace, gimps, sewn or embroidered, and all déterminées embroideries, even if the foundation tissue is partly visible. In embroideries are included tuile with applications, embroideries on felt, plush, ribbons, knitted or netted stuffs, such as table-cloths, curtains, fichus, &c. Embroidered trimmings are dutiable as trimmings.   |                             |                                       |
|  | Additional Note. —Unbleached or bleached tissues in the piece to be sold by measure shall not be dutiable as coloured goods merely by virtue of their having a "heading" (lines or other marks in colours) printed or woven at the end of the piece (B.).   |                             |                                       |
|  | Special Stipulation. —Kerchiefs and shawls of printed cotton tissues, furnished with fringes produced in the process of weaving, even knotted, but not sewn, shall not be subject to any surtax by reason of these fringes (S.).  |                             |                                       |
| VI.—LEATHER AND FURRIERS' WARES, AND WARES OF OUT. |  |                             |                                       |
| 1.—Leather and Leather Wares.                      |  |                             |                                       |
| 374  | Leather merely tanned, in any way; leather of all kinds further prepared; greases, dyed, &c.:  |                             |                                       |
|  | (i) If leather and any leather tanned as sole leather, and which by the consistency, thickness or other characteristics thereof may be used for the manufacture of sole leather, belting and the like:   |                             |                                       |

<sup>a</sup> As regards cotton tissues, printed, dyed, or manufactured of dyed yarn, the method of determining the tariff classification in accordance with the stipulations of the Swiss Treaty may be employed if the importer remits that method as more advantageous. This provides that in order to determine the sub-division of No. 277 under which these tissues are dutiable, they shall be weighed in the crude state, neither colouring nor dressing being taken into account. For this purpose, each kind of such tissues presented for customs clearance must be accompanied by a cutting of the same tissue in the crude state, measuring at least 1 square decimetre.

| Note II. —In the case of manufactures of iron a distinction is made between roughly finished and finely finished goods: As "roughly finished," as distinguished from rough (unfinished) wares, are included all wares which are filed, shaped by the cutting-edge, drawn, smoothed, commonly painted, blined by case-hardening, riveted, screwed or otherwise joined together. As "roughly finished" wares, are also included those which after being finished receive a fine smooth surface. As "finely worked or finished" wares, are considered all those which are finely painted, enamelled, varnished, lacquered, oxydised, polished and those which are coated with base metals, or their alloys (except copper, nickel and aluminium and their alloys) (G.). |                             |                                       |
| Note III. —Iron bars, plates, wire and other iron wares, which are covered or plated with copper or copper alloys, nickel or aluminium, pay a surtax of 50% if such wares do not come under a higher tax. In wares which are separately tariffed as commonly or finely worked, the rates on the finely worked wares are to serve as the basis for the calculation of the 50% surtax.   |                             |                                       |
| Note IV. —In case a tariff number provides for duty on articles not combined with other materials, and such articles are so combined, they shall only be dutiable under No. 578, if, by reason of such combination, they come under a higher tax.  |                             |                                       |
| Note V. —In case iron goods are combined with an insignificant quantity of other metals or materials, such combination will be without effect on the classification if it only consists of accessory or unimportant parts. The classification also remains unaffected by the presence of ordinary inscriptions, names of firms, or trade marks either cast, stamped, printed in colour or by brausing (A.).  |                             |                                       |

GENERAL NOTES TO THE TARIFF.

1.—For tariff purposes a distinction is made in the combination of articles with common, fine, or the finest materials:

1. Fine materials are leather, caoutchouc, wax, muslin and wax taffetas, bookbinders' cloth, bone and horn, artificial carving materials (except those mentioned under 2), ornamental or alckelled base metals and their alloys; meerschman and its imitations, imitations of ivory, tortoise shell and mother of pearl, glass imitations of amber, lava, false "leionisch" wire and threads; tissues (except those mentioned under 2), false pearls, embroidery on any materials except silk (G.).

2. As finest materials are reckoned: real ivory, real tortoise shell, real mother of pearl, real amber and imitations thereof except those of glass; jet, real or imitation; manufactures of silk, lace, silk embroidery; artificial flowers and leaves, worked feathers for ornament, wig makers' wares and other manufactures of human hair, semi-precious stones, real gilded or silvered base metals and real
"leionisch" wire and threads, also articles thereof, as well as articles of false
"leionisch" wire and threads (G.).

Wares in combination with precious metals or precious stones are to pay duty according to the particular provisions of the tariff (G.).

3. All other materials are considered as common for tariff purposes (G.).

11.—Unimportant accessory parts, serving only to fasten or bond together the single parts of articles, e.g., studs, rivets, screws, hooks, clips, clamps, rings, mountings (Beachtig), hinges, bars, locks (with keys), ribbons, threads, strings, thongs, cords, also insignificant ornaments, inner linings or facings are to be left out of consideration for tariff purposes (G.).

111.—In cases where various surtaxes are leviable simultaneously, each surtax shall be calculated with the original tariff as base (G.).

IV.—In so far as the duty leviable on an article depends on the duty leviable on another article specified in the Conventional Tariff, the former duty shall be calculated according to the rate laid down in the Conventional Tariff, and not according to the rate specified in the General Tariff (G.).

V.—If an article combined with other materials is not specially provided for in the tariff, it shall only be dutiable under the respective numbers if, by reason of such combination, it comes under a higher tax than is fixed for the same article without combination.

LAW OF NOV. 3, 1909, RELATING TO THE STATE "TROSHARINA."

I.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

ART. I.—The articles specified in the tariff annexed to the present law and destined for consumption in the country are liable to payment of a tax called "trosharina."

Said articles pay "trosharina" whether produced in the country or imported from abroad into Serbia.

ART. II.—Subject to the stipulations of the law respecting rural warehouses, all articles liable to the "trosharina" may be sold in the said warehouses.

Articles having paid the "trosharina" in accordance with the present law shall be furnished with marks to be affixed in the manner and to the extent prescribed by the regulations on the subject.

ART. III.—No "trosharina" shall be payable on articles of foreign origin passing through in transit Serbia to another country or removed from mixed or customs warehouses for export from the country, nor on articles of national production exported abroad.

ART. IV.—Diplomatic and consular officers are exempted from payment of the "trosharina" chargeable on articles destined for local consumption and purchased direct abroad or from the producer in the country, provided our diplomatic and consular officers enjoy the same exemption in the respective foreign countries.

Honorary consuls are not entitled to the above privilege.

II.—PAYMENT OF THE "TROSHARINA."

ART. V.—Articles liable to "trosharina" shall pay the same at the time they are offered for sale or enter into consumption.

Articles liable to the "trosharina" shall not be considered as offered for sale when with the view to their exportation to a foreign country, they are sold for despatch, accompanied by the required invoices, by rail or by sea.

ART. VI.—Articles imported from abroad pay the "trosharina" at the time of entry at the customs.

ART. X.—If the "trosharina" is leviable on the weight, it shall be assessed on the net weight after deducting the tare, and if payable according to volume, it shall be paid without taking into consideration the receptacles and wrappers in which the goods are packed for sale and consumption.

ART. XI.—The "trosharina" shall be paid in gold coin or by means of "trosharina" stamps as provided in respect of each kind of merchandise liable to the tax, by the regulations for the execution of the present law.

"Trosharina" stamps may be purchased for silver coin subject to a allowance of 2%.

ART. XII.—Payment of the "trosharina" shall not be allowed to remain in abeyance.

ART. XIII.—Disputes or objections relating to the application of the present Law and tariff thereunto annexed shall not suspend payment of the "trosharina" involved.

III.—CONTROL OF THE "TROSHARINA."

ART. XIV.—No evidence of payment of the "trosharina" shall be admitted other than the "trosharina" stamp or any other mark duly affixed to the article liable to the tax, or than the declaration in case the rifle is imported from abroad.

V.—EXPORTATION OF ARTICLES LIABLE TO THE "TROSHARINA" AND REFUND OF THE "TROSHARINA" PAID.

ART. XXVII.—In case articles having paid the "trosharina" are exported to a foreign country, the amount collected in respect of the tax shall be refunded to the producers and vendors of the said articles, but no refund will be granted unless the amount of the "trosharina" exceeds 10 dinars.

ART. XXVIII.—Applications for refund of the "trosharina" must be made to the authorities who collected the tax, and proof of exportation will have to be duly furnished to the proper customs authorities.

ART. XXIX.—Applications for refund of the "trosharina" paid can only be made within six months from the date of customs clearance of the exported goods, exclusive of the day of actual clearance.

All applications for refund of the "trosharina" lodged after the aforesaid limit shall be rejected.

ART. XXXI.—The "trosharina" is refunded in cash or in "trosharina" stamps according as to whether it was paid in cash or in stamps.

DECREE OF AUGUST 20, 1910, IN REFERENCE TO TARE ALLOWANCES RESPECTING LIQUIDS LIABLE TO PAYMENT OF THE STATE trosharina.

When liquids liable to payment of the State trosharina according to Nos. 7, 10, 11, 12 and 19 of the Tariff annexed to the State trosharina Decree are imported in single casks, in ascertaining the net weight in kilogrammes, for the purpose of its conversion into litres, a tare of 20 % is allowed on the gross weight.

CERTIFICATES OF ORIGIN FOR IMPORTS.

The following memorandum relating to the regulations as to certificates of origin for goods imported into the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes is understood to be based on information furnished by the Customs department of the Serbian Ministry of Finance:—

1. Certificates of origin are required for all goods imported into the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.
2. The application of the "maximum" or "treaty" tariffs on all goods imported is made conditional on the submission of certificates of origin.
3. Certificates of origin may be issued by the local Chambers of Commerce or by commercial associations acting as such Chambers, by Chambers of Industry, and by the police and communal authorities of the place from which the goods are sent.
4. The origin of the goods may also be certified on the original invoices.
5. Direct bills of lading (by rail or ship) may also serve as proofs of the origin of the goods.
6. Certificates of the origin of the goods written on the invoices or on the export declarations by the exporting custom houses are also considered valid.
7. Unless proper certificates of origin are produced when the goods are being passed through the custom house, the "maximum" (general) tariff rates will be applied.
8. Certificates of origin should indicate the quantity (gross weight), number of packages, marks, numbers, place of origin and the name of the sender.
9. It is not necessary that certificates of origin should be viséd by a Serbian consul.

TEMPORARY CUSTOMS PRIVILEGES FOR GOODS REQUIRED FOR RECONSTRUCTION.

A Circular Order issued by the director of the Customs department of the Ministry of Finance to all custom houses in the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes (and published in the "Official Gazette" for 5th October, 1910), provides for the total exemption from customs duty for the period of one year of certain goods required in the reconstruction of the country, and for the application of the "minimum" (conventional) customs rates of duty for a fixed period on certain other goods irrespective of their country of origin.

The provisions of the circular, which came into effect on 5th October, 1910, are as follows:—

The Ministry of Finance of the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, Directorate-General of Customs, by order dated 26th September, 1910, has made the following arrangements with a view to facilitating the importation of certain goods required in the reconstruction of the country. These arrangements are applicable throughout the whole of the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes:—

(1) The following goods are exempted from the payment of import duty for the period of one year, irrespective of the country of origin:—

- Steam boilers with all accessories for fixed and portable steam engines.
- Machinery and parts of machinery.
- Fixed and portable engines.
- Agricultural and artisans' tools and implements.
- Raw materials and half-manufactured goods which are not obtainable in the country or are not obtainable in sufficient quantities.
- Auxiliary chemical materials and dyes required by the manufacturing industry.
- All lubricating oils.
- Anthracite and brown coal, and coal briquettes.
- Naphtha and other mineral oils—except kerosene—which are used as fuel for the production of energy.

(2) Import duties at the rate of the "minimum" (conventional) customs tariff are to be levied for the period of one year, and irrespective of the country of origin, on the following articles:—

- All building materials as far as they are not obtainable in the country.
- Electro-technical articles.
- Printers' type of all kinds.
- Envelopes.
- Paper for printing and writing.
- Printing ink.
- Pencils for writing and drawing, black or coloured.
- Drawing charcoal and Indian ink (solid or liquid), pen nibs, writing ink, rubber erasers.
- Wood for fuel.
- Wooden or tin boxes for packing purposes.
- Pharmaceutical and other jars and bottles used as receptacles for goods.
- Bottles for beer and mineral waters.
- Scales and balances.
- Instruments and accessories for laboratories.
- Cotton, cotton wool, cotton yarns and plain cotton textiles.
- Tulle, bobbinet, point net, and other like tissues (cotton).
- Hosiery (cotton).
- Cord, twine and string made of cotton yarn.
- Flax and hemp, jute, manila hemp, New Zealand hemp, coconut fibre, and yarns and textiles made of flax, hemp, jute, manila hemp, New Zealand hemp.
- Shoddy, yarns and textiles of coarse or combed wool or of animal hair, warranted above No. 16, yarns of carded wool.
- Underwear, collars and cuffs.
- Men's felt hats.
- Leather footwear of all descriptions.

(3) As soon as the manufacture of any of the articles enumerated in paragraphs (1) and (2), at present not produced or manufactured in the country, is commenced, the customs authorities will take into account the country of origin of such articles when imported.

Bulky objects enumerated in paragraphs (1) and (2) above are exempted from the payment of portage charges for the period of one year. Portage charges are similarly not leviable in those cases in which the importer himself employs and pays porters for weighing and custom-house handling.

(4) For the period of six months import duties at the rates of the "minimum" (conventional) tariff, and without regard to the country of origin of the goods, are to be levied on the following, viz.: chemicals, medicines and all products used for healing disease.

When importing products for healing disease, which may also serve for other purposes besides industrial, apothecaries and druggists, who are the only authorized importers of such products, shall submit to the Minister of Health a certificate stating that the products in question are to serve solely for healing disease.

MONEY, WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—The monetary unit in Spain is the peseta (of 100 centimos), of the value of one franc.

As to weights and measures, the metrical system has been adopted.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE TARIFF.

DISPOSITION FIRST.

ARTICLES FREE OF DUTY.

1. Trees, vine shoots and plants, and moss in a natural or fresh state (see Disposition 12th).
2. Gold and silver ores.
3. Samples of any kind of merchandise, having no market value, imported in a form not admitting of their being used otherwise than for the purpose of canvassing for orders.
4. Trunks usually containing samples are free of duty.
5. This exemption shall only apply to samples of tissues, fells and painted paper, if presented under the following conditions:
  - a. These samples cannot be more than 40 centimetres in length, taken in a strip of tissue, although of the whole width of the piece: this width shall, as to tissues, be determined by the list, and as to fells and painted paper, by the narrow border which is not passed through the press.
  - b. Samples not having these indications will only be admitted free of duty when they do not exceed 40 centimetres in measurement, in any direction.
  - c. In order to avoid abuse, larger samples shall only be admitted free of duty, provided the importers have rendered them unserviceable by any means, every 20 centimetres breadthwise; if not, the importers must, after completing the clearance document, but prior to the same being passed by the second Head of the Customs, request to have the samples rendered unserviceable at the time of examination.
6. Samples of oilcloth shall be considered of no value if not exceeding on both sides 30 centimetres.
7. Samples of cables and window listings or mouldings shall be considered of no value if not exceeding 8 centimetres in length.
8. Samples of various wares in glass flasks containing up to 3 decilitres.
9. Unserviceable jewellery or plate of gold, silver, and platinum.
10. Ingots, bars, coins, pieces, dust and scrap of gold, silver and platinum.
11. No pure or alloyed silver in ingots can be imported except through the Custom-houses established in the chief towns of a province, and through those of Irun, Port-Bou, Valencia, Alcantara, Ourgatena, Vigo, Gijon, in which the standard shall be analysed and certified.
12. Gold, silver, and platinum in articles manufactured and marked in Spain.
13. Swarms of bees.

DISPOSITION SECOND.

ARTICLES FREE OF DUTY SUBJECT TO CERTAIN CONDITIONS.

1. Wearing apparel, toilet objects and articles for personal use, bed and bath linen, mattresses, sewing machines, books, portable tools and instruments, typewriters, theatrical costumes, jewels and table services bearing evident signs of having been used, imported by travellers in their luggage in quantities proportioned to their class, profession, and position.
2. When travellers do not bring their luggage with them, clearance of the same may be made by the carrier or persons authorized for the purpose, provided they can prove, to the satisfaction of the collector, that the effects are destined for personal use.
3. Coral and sponges gathered by Spaniards in free seas and imported direct on national vessels.
4. Fish caught by Spaniards in national vessels on the high seas and the redskins of the said fish obtained on board and directly brought into Spain on national vessels fresh, or refrigerated or with ice and salt necessary for its provisional preservation on board.
5. Scientific materials intended for a theoretical purpose solely supported by the State (1).
6. Scientific materials not being comprised in the Law of Feb. 14th, 1907, for the protection of national industry, and which are imported

(1) The Customs are not allowed to clear or admit free of duty the scientific materials referred to in this Disposition, unless they have received instructions to that effect from the General Customs department sanctioning the exemption.

12. Books edited and printed in the language of the country from which they come direct, or with a direct bill of lading, constituting the originals of either of that country which is entitled to copyright over said books, if that country grants the same exemption to Spanish books, and is a party to the copyright Treaties.

13. Furniture, luggage, carriages and effects of members of the Spanish Diplomatic Corps coming home from abroad.

14. Effects of the Spanish Diplomatic Corps, in accordance with the usual practice as to shields, flags and office requisites for foreign Consulates.

15. Used furniture of Spaniards, residing in the Canary Islands, in the African possessions, and in foreign countries, and of foreigners coming to settle in the Peninsula and the Balearic Islands.

16. Casks, bags and large metal barrels re-imported with dutiable goods, exclusive of the weight of the containers, provided it be duly shown, pursuant to the Customs law, that such containers have been charged with the corresponding duties on their original importation and on condition that they be re-imported by the original importer and through the same Custom-house as they were exported from.

DISPOSITION THIRD.

TEMPORARY ADMISSIONS, SUBJECT TO THE FORMALITIES DETERMINED BY THE CUSTOMS ORDINANCES.

1. Casks or cases of rough wood, whether put together or not, tin boxes, whether put together or not, crates, empty bars, iron or steel containers, including those for exporting oxygen, and all other coarse empty containers, to be used for exporting national goods, save that bottles and other receptacles of glass comprised in No. 20 of the tariff are not considered as coarse receptacles. In order that casks may receive the benefit of this treatment, they must at the time of entry be furnished with marks which can be checked on re-exportation, and as to coarse wooden cases, unfired, they must be imported in shoofs of same sizes, bound up and containing for each one an even number of shoofs.
2. Tank-wagons, with their spare wheels, intended for the exportation of Spanish wines.
3. Pumps and other apparatus intended for the salvage of vessels.
4. Materials for the repair of foreign vessels which have entered Spanish ports through stress of weather.

(1) The Customs are not allowed to clear or admit free of duty the scientific materials referred to in this Disposition, unless they have received instructions to that effect from the General Customs department sanctioning the exemption.

(2) Reproductions shall be classified as works of art when only one copy of each original is imported and intended for any of the above-mentioned official corporations, and on the condition that these reproductions are cast in gypsum, or bronze; copies imported by merchants or private persons shall not enjoy this exemption, free entry being only granted on proof that the copies are intended for public establishments.

3. Dutiable samples imported by manufacturers, traders and commercial travellers, whether Spanish or subjects of Treaty countries, provided that, in the latter case the importer belongs to the nation in which the goods have been produced, that he exhibits his identification card, and that the other formalities laid down in the Customs Ordinances be duly complied with.

6. Foreign articles coming to Spanish exhibits.

7. Submarine telegraph cables.

8. Game holders or accumulators for light bulbs.

9. Carriages, horses, mules and asses, trained animals, portable theatres, panoramas, wax figures, boats for regattas and other similar objects for public entertainment.

10. Harness, carts and horses, mules and asses, imported by land for agricultural purposes.

11. Cattle imported for pasturage.

12. Hoses, mules and asses, carriages, motor cars, balloons, aeroplanes, and bicycles belonging to, or hired by private persons temporarily coming to Spain.

13. Guns of sportsmen coming to shoot in Spain.

14. Brown American resin, imported through the Barcelona Custom-house, subject to compliance with the formalities laid down by Royal Ordinance, dated July 25, 1893.

15. Rollers used for the printing of stiffs, imported through the same Custom-houses, in order to be engraved, as provided in Royal Ordinance, dated April 13, 1895.

16. Linen yarn imported through the Barcelona Custom-house on compliance with the regulations contained in Royal Ordinances of June 11, and August 2, 1902.

17. Coconut pulp or copra, imported through the Barcelona Custom-house in accordance with the regulations provided by Royal Ordinances of June 21, 1902, and June 1, 1907.

18. Phosphate of calcium imported through the Huelva Custom house according to Royal Ordinance of June 23, 1907.

19. Tin plate for manufacturing boxes for preserves destined for export, provided that the prescriptions contained in the Royal Ordinances of March 18, and May 3, 1908, be complied with.

DISPOSITION FOURTH.

CLASSIFICATION OF GOODS NOT SPECIALLY MENTIONED IN THE TARIFF.

1. Sheet glass, enumerated in Nos. 33-36 of the tariff, if coloured, pays a surtax of 25 % on the duties leviable thereon.

2. Wire gauze articles shall pay the duties leviable under the numbers referring to wire gauze according to kind, plus a surtax of 30 %.

3. Yarns made of two or more textile materials shall pay the duty assessed on the material paying the highest duty.

4. Unbleached cotton yarn for weaving, twisted, of two strands, shall pay the duty leviable on the thinnest strand, plus a surtax of 20 %.

5. Unbleached cotton thread for weaving, twisted, of three or more strands, shall pay the duty leviable on the thinnest strand, plus a surtax of 25 % thereon.

6. Cotton yarns for weaving, bleached, glazed or dyed, shall pay the duty leviable on unbleached yarns, according to the number of strands, plus a surtax of 30 % on the duty of the yarn of single strand. Inasmuch as long as the commercial treaty with Switzerland remains in force, unbleached cotton yarn for weaving, twisted, of two strands, is imported from Treaty countries, it shall pay, in addition to the duty leviable on the thinnest strand, a surtax of 20 %; cotton yarns for weaving, bleached (glazed, mercerised), or dyed, of the same origin, shall pay the duty applicable to the single unbleached yarns, according to number, plus a surtax of 10 %.

7. Cotton yarns of wool or hair shall pay the duty mentioned in the corresponding number, plus a surtax of 20 % thereon.

Yarns of wool or hair twisted of 2 or more strands shall pay the duties applicable to the thinnest strand with a surtax of 10 %.

8. The warp of a tissue is to be considered as the totality of the threads which lie in the longitudinal sense, whether they form the foundation of the same, or whether they may have been added in order to form patterns or to give the warp more body, even though such threads may be cut or show a want of continuity.

The weft shall be considered the totality of the threads which lie breadthwise, and combine the same conditions of helping to form patterns or to add to the body of the stuff.

9. Tissues with warp of cotton and weft mixed with cotton and any vegetable fibre, or vice versa shall be dutiable as cotton tissues.

10. Tissues with warp of hemp, linen or ramie, and weft mixed with these fibres or with other vegetable fibres, shall be dutiable as tissues of hemp, linen or ramie.

11. Tissues composed of vegetable fibres and those of wool or hair, the weft or warp of which is mixed with silk or floss silk threads, shall not be considered as tissues mixed with silk, when the weight of this material does not exceed 5 % of the total weight of the tissue; if such weight is in excess of 5 %, said tissues shall pay the duties applicable to mixed silk tissues.

12. Tissues, the warp and weft of which are composed of vegetable fibres and silk or of threads of wool, hair and silk, shall be taxed as tissues of vegetable fibres or of wool, or of hair, when the weight of the silk on both sides of the stuff does not exceed 5 % of the total weight of the tissue. If the silk threads surpass 5 % but do not exceed 10 %, the tissues shall be taxed as silk tissues mixed, according to Nos. 402-404 of the Tariff; if they exceed 10 % they shall be classified in Nos. 334 to 339 according to the kind and nature of the tissue.

13. Tissues the warp of which is composed of silk and the weft of cotton or other vegetable fibres mixed with silk, and those of which the warp is of silk and the weft of wool or hair mixed with silk, shall always be classed as pure silk tissues, and the numbers relating to such tissues shall be applied, according to their kind and nature, whatever be the proportion of silk in the weft. The same rule shall be applied when the weft is entirely composed of silk and the warp of mixed materials.

14. The same rules shall be observed for the classification of woollen and cotton tissues, when the woollen threads only form part of the weft or warp or both of these, or when they form the entire weft, or entire warp, and likewise occur in the other part of the tissue, whatever be the proportion of wool entering into the mixture.

15. Tissues composed of threads of three different materials shall pay as follows:

Warp or weft. Weft or warp. Will be regarded as:

Cotton threads .... Threads of flax or hemp and other vegetable fibres

Threads of vegetable fibres .... Threads of vegetable fibres and wool or hair

| Warp or weft.                                | Warp or warp.  | Will be regarded as:                         |
|--|--|--|
| Threads of vegetable fibres                  | Threads of vegetable fibre and silk                    | Tissues of vegetable fibres mixed with silk. |
| Do. ....                                     | Threads of wool and silk                               | Do.  |
| Threads of wool or hair                      | Threads of two or more vegetable fibres                | Tissues of vegetable fibres mixed with wool  |
| Do. ....                                     | Threads of vegetable fibres, wool or hair              | Tissues of wool                              |
| Do. ....                                     | Threads of vegetable fibres and silk                   | Tissues of wool mixed with silk              |
| Threads of silk ....                         | Threads of different vegetable fibres                  | Tissues of vegetable fibres mixed with silk  |
| Do. ....                                     | Threads of different vegetable fibres and wool or hair | Tissues of silk mixed with wool              |
| Threads of cotton and flax or hemp           | Thread of flax or hemp and other vegetable materials   | Tissues of hemp or flax                      |
| Threads of vegetable fibres and wool or hair | Threads of vegetable fibres and silk                   | Tissues of wool mixed with silk              |
| Do. ....                                     | Threads of vegetable fibres, wool and silk             | Do.  |
| Threads of vegetable fibres, wool and silk   | Do.  | Tissues of silk                              |
| Threads of cotton and floss-silk             | Threads of wool and floss-silk                         | Tissues of floss-silk                        |
| Threads of wool ....                         | Threads of wool, cotton and silk                       | Tissues of silk mixed with wool              |

When in the mixed part (warp or weft) of tissues composed of three or more different materials the threads of the material dutiable at the highest rate do not exceed 10 % of the total weight of the tissue, such thread shall not be considered in the assessment, and the duty on tissues mixed with other materials shall be applied.

16. Knitted tissues of vegetable fibres, containing up to 10 % of silk or wool shall pay as tissues without mixture, those containing more than 10 % of silk or wool shall be treated as knitted tissues of wool or silk. Knitted tissues of wool containing more than 10 % of silk shall be dutiable as knitted tissues of silk.

17. Tulle and lace edgings ("puntillos") shall pay the duty on the material forming the ground, and should this be mixed, the duty of the predominant material.

18. Shawls with fringes shall pay, including the weight of fringes, according to the number under which the tissue is classed.

19. Embroideries, hand or machine (not made on the loom), shall pay the duty applicable to the tissue, and, in addition, a surtax equal to the duty if the embroidery be in lock stitch, and a surtax equal to 60 % of the duty if the embroidery be of other kinds.

In virtue of the treaty with Switzerland, trimmings and ornaments, such as embroideries, tapes, lace, straps, cords, fringes, hooks, buttons, &c., whatever be the material of which they are composed, are left out of account in assessing duty on the knitted tissues comprised in Nos. 308, 310, 379 and 401 of the Tariff.

In virtue of the same treaty, embroidered tissues not specially mentioned pay the duty applicable to the tissue according to kind, with a surtax of 30 % in respect of the embroidery, whatever be the quality and colour of the embroidering threads. Embroidered linen handkerchiefs, even with applications of tulle or any other tissues, are subject to a surtax of only 15 %.

While the same treaty remains in force embroidered cotton tissues, with or without applications of tulle or any other tissue, are subject to duty at the rate of 4.50 pesetas per kilo, this duty being applicable also to feather-stitch embroidered broche ("plumetis") cotton tissues.

20. Stuffs mixed or embroidered with metals, shall pay duty on the stuff, with an additional 50 %.

21. Body linen, whether completely finished or simply basted or hemmed, shall pay on the total weight of the duties fixed for the component material, with an additional duty equal to the rate mentioned in the 1st Tariff, and, in case of application of the 2nd Tariff, 50 % of the duties stipulated therein.

Clothing, whether ready-made or simply basted, shall pay the duties respectively leviable thereon, with the surtaxes of 100 % and 75 % on the rate of the native tissue, save that if wholly or partly lined with fur, it shall pay the duties of Nos. 504 without surtax.

When the clothing and articles of linen are made up and embroidered as well, these surtaxes shall be charged on the duty affecting the embroidered tissue.

Articles of clothing made of knitted tissues are exempt from the above mentioned additional duty and will pay duty according to the respective tariff number without any increase, on condition, however, that they have not been subjected to the duties of tailors or seamstresses in which case, they will be subject to the surtax for making up, fixed for clothing in the preceding paragraphs.

According to the treaty with Switzerland, embroideries of all kinds, including "chemical" or "aérienne" embroideries shall not, as account of the sewing, be subjected to any surtax if they are not worked into the form of articles of clothing or other objects ready for immediate use.

Par. 2 of Sec. 19 is applicable also in this case.

22. The assessment of duty on articles composed of two or more materials shall be subject to the following rules:

a. In cases not provided for in the Tariff, and when the value of the article is determined by the exterior material, the classification shall be made according to the exterior material, and the number of that material.

b. Articles, which, by reason of their nature and application, are composed of two different materials, as, for instance, tools, shall be taxed according to the weight of the predominant material.

c. When the mixture of different materials has been made in order to evade the payment of the duties fixed by any particular No. of the tariff on any article, as, for instance, a mixture of flour and bran, or of any other article, the duties of the product, the duty of the material paying the highest duty shall be levied.

23. Whenever the Administration is enabled to prove that with a view of evading payment of the duties provided in any number of the Tariff, certain parts of any article or object have been presented separately as the same or different Custom-houses of one or several persons, the duties payable on the complete article or object shall be levied, without prejudice to the surtax chargeable under § 6 of Art. 306 of Ordinances.

24. Electric current shall pay a duty of 1 centimo per kilowatt hour, measured by means of meters placed on the frontier.

DISPOSITION FIFTH.

PACKINGS AND RECEPTABLES.

1. By packing or receptacle, is meant that which contains merchandise. Packings and receptacles may be interior or exterior; the exterior packing is visible, when the parcel is unopened and the interior packing encloses the goods and is placed inside the former.

2. Packing cloth, matting and paper wrapped round cases, bales or other packages, as also double sacks, shall be considered as forming part of the exterior packing.

3. Boxes or cases of cardboard, metal or wood, and wrappers of paper, straw or wood shavings, in close contact with the goods, shall be regarded as interior packing.

4. Goods shall pay duty on gross weight, net weight, or subject to the allowance of the official tare assigned to them in the Tariff.

Goods followed by the letters G. W. are those paying duty on gross weight, namely together with all their containers, save in the cases provided in rule 11 of this Disposition.

Goods followed by the letters N. W. pay on net weight. For the purposes of the Tariff, net weight shall mean:

I. The weight of the goods, including the wrappers of paper, straw or wood shavings, with which they are presented for clearance.

II. The weight of the goods together with the boxes or cases forming their natural containers, and in which they are retailed, as for instance, scientific and artistic instruments, toys, pens and other like articles.

5. Fine cases and boxes, and other receptacles, not coming within the conditions mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, shall be dutiable under the following numbers relating thereto.

6. The following articles, of which the weight must be stated in the clearance documents, shall be free of duty, namely:

a. Common boxes of cardboard or wood, and the separate straw, shavings, saw dust and paper clippings used to pack the goods.

b. Wrappers of paper or cardboard containing shirt fronts, tissues, faces, furs, &c., and paper in which shawls of silk mustelin are placed, paper laid for sheets of gold or imitation gold leaf, and paper enclosing articles of gold, silver or platinum.

c. Rollers, boards and pieces of cardboard around which are wrapped fabrics and wire gauze, oilcloth and trimmings; spools, carls and reels of cardboard, on which thread is wound, and the cardboard to which buttons and other articles are affixed.

7. In assessing duty on cotton or linen thread wound on wooden reels, 30 per cent. shall be deducted from the weight for the reels only; in the case of silk or floss silk threads, under like conditions, the deduction will be of 45 %, and in regard to perfumery contained in flasks or pots, and further packed in cardboard or wooden boxes, it will amount to 25 %.

8. Pipes and barrels when not containing goods dutiable on the gross weight; receptacles of alkaloids and their salts, of fancy biscuits, breads, liquors, beer, cider, wines and mineral waters, shall be dutiable according to component materials.

9. Sacks and bags imported with goods dutiable on net weight, shall pay 10 centimos each for the first (immediate) sack, and for the others the duty leviable under the Tariff number corresponding to the tissue of which made.

10. When in one and the same exterior packing are goods paying on gross weight, and others paying on net weight, all the goods shall be dutiable on gross weight, provided the net weight goods do not weigh more than 10% of the total weight; otherwise they shall be dutiable on net weight.

11. When the packing or receptacle of goods are liable to higher duties than those applicable to the goods themselves, and do not constitute the usual packing of the goods and can be used for another purpose, they shall pay the duties proper to the latter.

Mineral fertilizers included in Tariff Nos. 206 and 207 shall pay duty on the combined weight of the goods and the bag in immediate contact therewith. Other sacks shall pay duty under the Tariff number corresponding to the tissue of which made.

Sulphate of ammonia and nitrates shall pay duty on the combined weight of the goods and a single sack; second sacks will pay 10 centimos each, and other sacks shall pay duty under the Tariff number corresponding to the tissue of which they are made.

12. The tare percentage provided for certain goods in the third column of the Tariff shall be deducted from the aggregate gross weight of the latter except in the following cases:

When the packages contain goods not subject to the legal tare in a quantity greater than 2 % of the gross weight, in such case all the goods contained in the packages shall be assessed according to the result of the corresponding net weight.

When a same package contains two or more articles of merchandise subject to different tares or duties, in that case the clearance shall be effected on the net or dutiable weight of the goods.

DISPOSITION SIXTH.

RE-IMPORTATION OF NATIONAL PRODUCTS.

National goods, products and articles, exported to foreign countries and returned to the Peninsula and the Balearic Islands are considered as foreign and subject to the duties fixed in the Tariff. The following articles are excepted and will be admitted free of duty, on proof of exportation being furnished by production of the export invoices in the form provided in the Ordinances, and on compliance with the regulations stated in each case:

1. Paintings which are works of art, with or without frame, provided the artist's signature appears thereon.

2. Books printed in Spain when, on their exportation, the number of the copies, the title of the work, and the name of the editor have been stated in the export invoice.

In the following particulars, the following conditions must be complied with in order to secure for the books exemption from duty:

(1) The writers, editors, and translators of the books must apply for re-importation.

(2) In satisfying themselves as to the nationality of the works, the Customs shall abide by the title of the book and name of the printer.

(3) In the case of books, the Customs will acquiesce the Direction-General with the fact to enable the latter to compare the works with the copies deposited at the Ministry of Public Works and prove by that means that the books about to be re-imported were printed in Spain.

3. Copper coins returned from foreign countries, if, on examination at the Spanish Mint, it is seen that they have been coined legitimately in Spain. The Customs-houses shall forward samples of such coins to the Direction-General for its examination, and shall suspend clearance, pending the adoption of a decision in the matter.

4. Wine and filled grapes.

5. Full or empty containers including iron cans.

6. Articles returned from foreign exhibitions, or from competitions and exhibitions organized in the Canary Islands.

7. Collections of national samples returning from abroad and those which have been nationalized by the payment of duty on re-importation from Portugal.

8. Sporting guns of persons temporarily going to shoot in a foreign country.

9. Ordinary or motor carriages, velocipedes, draught and saddle animals and cattle which have been temporarily exported.

10. Regatta boats, aeroplanes, portable theatres, wax figures, decorations, printed music and other similar articles employed in theatrical performances and public entertainments.

11. Salvage of Spanish vessels wrecked in foreign countries.

12. Articles returning from abroad, owing to their entry being prohibited by the country to which they were sent.

13. Goods passing in transit through Portugal, in conformity with the Regulations for transit and communication.

14. Staves (duelas) and oars coming from the mountains of Irati and the valley of Roncal, in the province of Navarre, having passed in transit through France.

15. Iron ores conveyed by the River Bidassoa in transit through France for re-exportation.

16. Wine, oils, wheat, rye, potatoes, and other agricultural products which, coming from the territories of Spanish Cerdagne, are being conveyed to Ampurias, or vice-versa, in transit via the French route of Mont-Louis.

17. Spanish products and naturalized foreign products, conveyed in transit through the French territory between the Customs-houses of Port-Bou and Lés, excepting codfish, petroleum, tissues and colonial commodities.

18. Paper pulp and newspaper and packing paper exported through Lés in transit through France, and re-imported through Irun or Port-Bou.

19. Fresh fish exported from Irun in transit via France and entering through Port-Bou.

20. National arms coming back from abroad, provided that the fire-arms or sidearms are marked on the barrels or blades with the name of the manufacturer and place where made.

21. Pumps and life-saving apparatus for ships.

22. Foodstuffs and drugs returning from the Philippine Islands in consequence of the application of the North American pure food and drug law.

23. Nets ("palas") and other national articles used in hunting doves by the Echaral (Navarre).

24. Corks re-imported by the manufacturers if proved to be of their own manufacture.

DISPOSITION SEVENTH.

TRADE WITH THE CANARY ISLANDS.

(For Tariff of Canary Islands see at end of Spain.)

The only ports of these Islands authorized to trade with the Peninsula and Balearic Islands are Santa-Cruz de Tenerife, Orzava, Ciudad del Real de las Palmas, Santa-Cruz de la Palma, Arrecife de Lanzarote, Puerto de Cabras, San Sebastian, Valverde, and Sardinia del Gaidar.

The following products from these Islands shall be admitted free of duty:

Kitchen plants, green and dried fruits, cochineal, barillas, orchill, natural mineral water, small dials ("relojes"), rough and manufactured basalt, altered stone, and fresh, salted or dried fish, cod prepared by Spaniards, on proof of the fact being duly furnished.

Other products liable to duty on importation into the Peninsula and Balearic Islands shall enjoy the same treatment as those of the most-favoured nation.

Goods, products, and articles imported into the Canary Islands from the Peninsula and the Balearic Islands shall have their origin and be considered as foreign, if returned to their country of origin as unsalable, or from any other cause.

Furniture of Spaniards who have resided in the Canary Islands may be admitted duty-free on production of documents showing shipment thereof on coasting vessels, or of a certificate in lieu.

War material and military equipments shall also be admitted free of duty, on the permit or pass of the qualified Commissioner, or by the Head of the Army Corps to whom they are consigned.

Postal parcels returned to the senders by the postal authorities are admitted duty free.

DISPOSITION EIGHTH.

TRADE WITH FERNANDO-PO AND ITS DEPENDENCIES, RIO DE ORO AND OTHER SPANISH POSSESSIONS IN AFRICA.

(For Tariff of Spanish Territories in the Gulf of Guinea see at end of Spain.)

Products of the soil and industry of Fernando-Po and Dependencies, Annobon, Corisco, Elobey, and Cape St. John, and like products of Rio de Oro and other Spanish Possessions in Africa are subject to the payment of the import duties appearing in the Tariff save in the case of seed, the skins, and roots; from the salted or cured fish caught and prepared by Spaniards, provided such last-named conditions be duly proved according to the stipulations contained in the general Customs Ordinances; cotton in the wool, wool, hides and skins, ivory, gum arabic, palm oil, palm nuts, India-rubber, unwrought wood, dyewoods, cocoa-nuts, copra, and ostrich feathers.

Goods, products and articles imported into said possessions from the Peninsula and the Balearic Islands shall lose their nationality and be considered as foreign if re-shipped to their country of origin as unsalable or from any other cause.

All war material and military equipments proceeding from all free ports shall be admitted duty-free, when forwarded with a permit or pass of the Commissioner or Head of the Army Corps to whom they are consigned.

Furniture the property of Spaniards who have resided in Fernando-Po and Dependencies, in Rio de Oro or other Spanish Possessions in Africa, shall be granted free entry, on production of documents showing shipment thereof on coasting vessels, or of a certificate in lieu.

In order that cocoa and coffee may be treated under Tariff No. 634 and 635, the following conditions must be adhered to:

1. The product must be imported into the Peninsula and Balearic Islands on the same vessels as took the goods on board at Fernando-Po and with a manifest certified by the Governor.

2. The vessels must be national; they will be allowed to stop at foreign ports of natural call, provided they prove that they did not take on board cocoa nor coffee.

3. Cocoa and coffee must be contained in sacks branded with the name of Fernando-Po in bold letters, and the Administrator of Finance of Santa Fe shall control both the shipments and transshipments of the portions loaded on the shores of the island, according to the certificates issued by the Municipal Council, and satisfy himself that the products actually originate from the said island.

Master of the transporting vessels shall draw up, prior to their departure for Spain, a manifest setting out the whole cargo, and the Administrator of Finance shall verify whether the same agrees with the above mentioned certificates; the manifest shall afterwards be visé by the Governor of the Colony in accordance with the provisions of Rule 1.

Should the cocoa and coffee from Fernando-Po have been landed and re-shipped in the Canary Islands or in any other port whatsoever, the same will be liable to the duties set forth in the Tariff for goods of like description, the product of foreign countries.

The duty applicable under No. 635 of the tariff to unroasted cocoa in the form of the product and origin of Fernando-Po, shall only be levied to an amount of 2,000 tons per annum. Provided always that quantities in excess are to pay duty at the rate of 120 pesetas per 100 kilos, net weight leviable on cocoa of other origin. For the purposes of the application of the reduced rate, the date and hour of presentation of the manifest at the port of destination will, in case of several consignments, be taken as a basis. If a full consignment cannot be included in the quantity entitled to the privileged treatment, the advantages shall be allotted proportionally among the various consignments of the goods.

DISPOSITION NINTH.

DIRECT IMPORTATION.

Direct importation, within the meaning of the Tariff, is understood to be the traffic of vessels which, having loaded goods in any port, convey them to their destination in the Peninsula or the Balearic Islands without touching at any other foreign port during the voyage.

Goods shall retain the privileges of direct importation in the following cases:

1. Whenever on account of damage or of some unavoidable sea accident, the vessel is obliged to tranship her goods on other vessels to proceed to their destination.

2. When vessels call at foreign ports situated on their route in order to take on or land cargo and passengers, provided the goods arrive with direct bill of lading and be entered in the manifest certified by the Spanish Consul in the port of origin.

3. Raw cotton and in unmanufactured bides, when, without entering the Customs warehouses or stores, they have been landed in a European port to await on quay or lighters the arrival of the vessel intended to transport the same to Spain, and without entering a depot or warehouse, provided that the fact be attested by a certificate from the Customs at the European port visé by the Spanish Consul, and that the shipments be accompanied by direct bills of lading.

4. Vessels arriving from America with a cargo of unmanufactured bides and skins, raw cotton, and staves, consigned to different ports in Spain, after entering one or more ports of the Peninsula, are allowed to call at the port of Oren, for the sole purpose of landing therein the portions of such goods as afore-said as are accompanied by through bill of lading and are designated in the corresponding transit manifest and are conveyed to said port; they may also proceed on their voyage to other ports in Spain, and their cargo consigned to such ports shall not lose the customs benefit of direct importation, provided that the transporting vessels do not go out of their ordinary course specified on the manifest of the voyage.

DISPOSITION TENTH.

APPLICATION OF THE COMMERCIAL TREATIES.

For the purpose of the application of the privileged treatment resulting from the different Commercial Treaties and Conventions in force the countries are divided into four Groups:

GROUP 1.—Countries bound by Treaties at present in force.—Denmark, Norway, Netherlands and her Colonies; Portugal, Switzerland and Sweden.

GROUP 2.—Countries entitled to all Customs benefits, save such as are accorded to Portugal.—Germany, Austria, Anson, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Bolivia, Bulgaria, Costa-Rica, Egypt, United States of America and Porto Rico, Cuba, Chile, China, France and Algeria, Great Britain and her Colonies, Greece, Guatemala, Japan, Luxembourg, Morocco, Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Spain, Argentine Republic, Roumania, Russia, Salvador, Sardinia, Siam, Tunis, Turkey, Prussia and Venezuela.

GROUP 3.—Nations entitled to the benefit of the duties provided in the second Tariff.—Colombia and Ecuador.

GROUP 4.—Countries subject to the duties established in the first Tariff.—All countries not enumerated in the foregoing Groups.

1.

The advantages and Customs duties agreed upon in the treaty with Portugal do not apply to any other country, but those conceded by the Conventions entered into with the other countries mentioned in Group 1 are applicable to products of the soil and industry of Portugal.

II.

The Conventional regime stipulated with Denmark, Norway, the Netherlands, Switzerland, and Sweden shall indiscriminately apply both to the products of the soil and industry of each of these countries and to the nations comprised in Group 2.

III.

In order that goods and produce of the countries mentioned in Groups 1 and 2 should obtain the lowest rates of duty, or, in the case may be, of three stipulated in the second Tariff, it will be necessary to present a certificate of origin drawn up according to the formalities established in the present disposition.

IV.

Goods destined to Spain proceeding from a Treaty-country and accompanied by the corresponding certificate of origin, which pass in transit through a third Treaty-country need not prove such transit, but a special certificate will be required when the transit is effected across a non-Treaty-country.

V.

The duties of the first Tariff shall be applied to products and goods of nations not enumerated in foregoing Nos. 1, II and III.

VI.—Certificates of Origin.

The certificates of origin must be drawn up in the following manner:

A.—The certificate shall consist of an official declaration made by the producer or manufacturer, or his authorized representative, before the authority of the place of production or despatch in the country of origin, stating that the goods to which such certificate refers were duly manufactured or produced in such country. This document shall, besides a declaration to the above effect, contain the following particulars:

Certificates of origin shall be issued by the authorities to be proposed or designated as empowered for that purpose by each country in accordance with its administrative system; the final designation and approval of such authorities shall be notified to the Customs in due course.

The following authorities and corporations are empowered to issue certificates of origin:

In Austria-Hungary: the Local authorities (Mayoralities), Chambers of Commerce, and the Customs;

In France: French Chambers of Commerce, Mayors and their Deputies, Police commissaries, and the Customs;

In Great Britain: Chambers of Commerce, Mayors, Magistrates, Customs officers, and the Customs House;

In Portugal: the Customs authorities, whom failing the Fiscal authorities;

In Denmark: Governors of Provinces, whom failing their Secretaries; Mayors, Notaries Public, and further the Inspector-General of Customs at Copenhagen, and outside the Capital, other Customs authorities;

In the United States: Mayors, Judges, Clerks, Notaries Public, Customs Authorities, Presidents and Secretaries of legally authorized trade committees;

In Sweden and Norway: the Customs authorities, Governors of Provinces, whom failing their Secretaries; Mayors, and Notaries Public;

In Switzerland: the Local authorities and the Customs officials;

In Turkey: the Ottoman Customs and other authorities;

In the Empire of Germany:

1. The Principal active authorities of Prussia, the Kingdom of Saxony, Baden, Hesse, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, Oldenburg, Saxe-Meiningen, Saxe-Altenburg, Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Anhalt, Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt, Renss (younger branch), Schaumburg-Lippe, Lippe, Bremen and Hamburg.

2. The Local authorities of Prussia, Bavaria, the Kingdom of Saxony, Wurtemberg, Baden, Hesse, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Oldenburg, Saxe-Meiningen, Saxe-Altenburg, Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Renss (elder branch), Renss (younger branch), Saxe-Meiningen, Lippe, Altsch-Lorraine.

3. Customs and Tax Offices of Bavaria, the Kingdom of Saxony, Wurtemberg, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Mecklenburg-Strelitz, Oldenburg, Anhalt, Schwarzburg-Sonderhausen, Lubeck.

4. Chambers of Commerce and like corporations of Prussia, Bavaria, the Kingdom of Saxony, Wurtemberg, Baden, Hesse, Brunswick, Saxe-Meiningen, Renss (elder branch), Renss (younger branch), Lubeck.

In Russia: the Local and Customs authorities;

In Costa-Rica: the Governors of Provinces;

In Colombia: the political authorities of the place of production, subject to the certificates being visé by the Governor of the proper Department and verified by the Customs at the place of export;

In Peru: the Customs Administrators at Pisco, Eten, Pimentel, Pucallpa, Salaverry, Callao, Fisco, Mollendo and Ilo.

As to other countries, the Customs will, unless otherwise decided, continue to conform to the practice hitherto adopted.

Spanish Chambers of Commerce, legally constituted abroad, as well as career Consuls and Vice-Consuls of Spain, may likewise issue certificates of origin.

Honorary Consuls, Vice-Consuls and Consular-Agents cannot issue above documents except with the previous special authority of their Superintending Consul for every registered producer, manufacturer, agent or merchant.

Certificates of origin shall be issued either according to the declaration presented by the producer or manufacturer of the goods, or by his legal representative, proving that the goods are really the product of his manufacture or industry, or according to the declaration of a licensed merchant who must produce original invoices; in the latter case, it is not necessary to mention the name of the manufacturer or producer in the invoice. The certificate shall be issued, according to the official form adopted by each country, either on the signed declaration presented to the competent authorities by the interested party, or on the verbal statement made before said authorities. In the first case, the fact shall be stated that the certificate was issued on the presentation of a written declaration; in the second case, the certificate must bear the signature of the declarer under the following words: "thus declared under my responsibility."

B.—Certificates of origin shall state the name, residence and domicile of the manufacturer directly requesting the certificate and, when concerning a legal representative, the same indications, as well as those relating to the declarer himself, and for licensed merchants, their name, residence and domicile.

Should it be impossible to state in certificates of origin, the residence of the manufacturer, of his representative or person applying for same, owing to the factories or works being situate outside the town or to localities having nameless streets or unnumbered houses, the fact shall be stated in the certificates.

In all cases, the certificates of origin will contain the following particulars:

The commercial condition or quality authorizing the applicant to make the declaration of origin;

The number and kind of packages; their marks, numbers and gross weight;

The designation of the goods according to material and class and, when concerning yarns and tissues, the specification whether of cotton, hemp, flax, wool, silk, or of an admixture of these materials.

The place of destination of the goods in Spain as well as the consignee's place of residence.

Certificates of origin issued "à order" shall be accepted in every case when the Customs Ordinances do not impose the express consignment, and provided the bills of lading be also "à order," but on condition that the final consignee affix to the certificate his acceptance as consignee, adding date, and that this formality be fulfilled prior to the production to the Customs of the document referred to, accompanied by the import declaration.

The certificates must be signed by the authorities issuing the same and the signature verified and legalized by the Spanish Consul.

Spanish Consuls shall issue no certificates of origin except when requested to do so and, in such case, only when the declarers are known at the Consulate, and when the Consul is enabled to appreciate the accuracy of their declarations.

The competent authorities issuing certificates have the right and it shall be their duty to require proof of the accuracy of the declarations made before them, whatever be their form, and for this purpose to call for the production of all necessary documents, in exceptional cases, or when serious reasons exist for suspecting the accuracy of certificates presented by a certain commercial firm, notification of the fact can be given, through the diplomatic channel, to the Government of the country where the certificate was issued, to order that a proper decision, conformity to the laws of the country, be adopted, and that, if necessary, the future declarations presented by said firm be more minutely controlled.

Certificates of origin shall cease to be valid three months after the date of the Consular visa, when they were issued in European countries, on the coasts of Asia in the Mediterranean and the Ocean up to the Gulf of Guinea. They shall lapse at the expiration of six months when issued in any other place. When, owing to damage, sanitary measures, or general interruption of traffic or other cause which could neither be foreseen nor prevented, the production of these documents has been delayed, the time of validity may be prolonged, provided that the Administration is enabled to appreciate the reasons justifying such extension.

In order that the privileged treatment may be accorded to goods proceeding from countries which have been warehoused in any country whatsoever, a certificate issued in the country where such goods have been warehoused must, in addition to the certificate of origin, be furnished proving that the goods are really those which had been stored and that no alteration has been made in their packing, that no other goods have been added to the packages, and that the nature of the goods has never altered by any process of manufacture or otherwise.

The Customs shall require production of such certificate of origin for the clearance of goods belonging to each consignee.

C.—The certificates can be written in the Spanish or French language. When they are presented in another language they will be translated into Spanish, either by sworn translators, shipping agents, commercial brokers, Agricultural, Industrial and Commercial Chambers of the locality, or by the Consul of the nation to which the goods belong.

The translation must, in these translations, consist of the Agricultural, Industrial and Commercial Chamber, a right but not an obligation.

Translations of certificates of origin made by the Spanish Chamber of Commerce in London will be held as valid.

In all cases, certificates of origin are liable to a stamp duty of 2 pesetas. D.—When the certificates presented are drawn up both in the language of the country and in Spanish, the Spanish copy shall not be considered as valid and another translation shall be made according to the established rules.

E.—Small quantities of goods, or parcels, brought by messengers shall be subject to the general import Tariff.

F.—Postal parcels shall be subject to the second Tariff, provided always that their way-bill has been issued in a Treaty-country, and that on examination at the Customs the origin thereof be indisputable.

When the way-bill has not been issued in a Treaty-country, the first Tariff shall, without exception, be applied.

Goods contained in so-called "commercial" packages weighing not more than five kilograms shall be dealt with in the same way.

If the consignment consists of various parcels of an aggregate weight not exceeding 25 kilograms, it will be unnecessary to produce a certificate of origin, even in case they are despatched from the same station, and the sender and consignee should be one and the same person.

Localities bordering the frontier shall in no case be considered as place of origin.

Under the treaty with Switzerland, no certificate of origin is necessary to secure for postal parcels the benefit of conventional treatment on entry.

G.—In levying duty on articles brought into the country by travellers, such articles will be divided into two categories. Those of personal use, in a quantity proportionate to the condition of the traveller; and those which, by their nature and quantity, possess the character of a commercial shipment or commission.

Goods which later shall be subject to the first Tariff, and as to the former, should the traveller arrive direct from a Treaty-country by sea, the reduced rates, i.e., the duties of the second Tariff, shall, as the case may be, apply, having regard to the country of origin; should the traveller, however, arrive by sea or land from a non-Treaty-country he must prove by his ticket or the labels affixed to his luggage, that he comes from a Treaty-country, in which case only shall the reduced rates or duties of the second Tariff be applied as aforesaid, in the absence of these proofs, the duties of the first Tariff shall be levied.

H.—The certificates of origin for products of China and of Japan specially destined for Spain are to be written in Spanish at the Spanish Consulates established in those countries and must bear the visa of the Consul; the vessels conveying them may transship them on other vessels without the goods losing the corresponding privileges, provided it be proved that the transshipment was effected in the same manner.

Spanish Consuls in these countries shall mention in certificates of origin relating to products of that country intended for Spain, the name, description and nationality of the vessel transporting vessel, also the port wherein the goods are to be transhipped.

Spanish Consuls will, on their part, after checking the transshipment, certify on the manifests submitted to their authentication in ports where such transshipment took place that it was duly effected from vessels arriving from China or Japan.

VII.—Transit Certificates.

Transit certificates shall be drawn up in the same terms as certificates of origin, save that the authorities issuing the same will note by which route the packages are to travel; if by land, it will be necessary to state the name of the dispatching station, and also the Spanish frontier station; if partly by sea the certificate shall state the dispatching station, the station of entry in the non-Treaty-country, and also the port of shipment of that country.

In the latter case, the Customs documents showing the transit must be produced to the Spanish Consul, to enable him to note them in the certificate.

If the merchants so desire they may request the Consul to issue a separate certificate.

Goods the produce of Treaty-countries and proceeding therefrom by sea, and pay the duties stipulated in the second Tariff, i.e., the reduced rates, even when the vessels conveying the same have called during the voyage at ports of non-Treaty-countries, and have transacted business or have transhipped on other vessels the goods destined to Spain.

For that purpose, the goods must appear in the manifest made out at the port of shipment in the Treaty-country as consigned to Spain. If, afterwards, the goods are transhipped on another vessel, the Spanish Consul will state on the manifest, after having examined the documents, that the goods were shipped from a Treaty-country in destination of Spain.

If, in addition to these formalities, the goods require a certificate of origin, this certificate must be furnished.

VIII.

When merchants receive certificates for which the above-stated formalities have not been complied with, they may return them for a new document by clearing the goods; in the interval they may avail themselves of the time allowed by the Customs Ordinances for the storage of the goods. The certificates of origin must be presented at the time when application is made to clear the goods, and are to be accepted by the Customs authorities regardless of any slight irregularity in form.

If however, at any time thereafter, it should be ascertained that the accepted certificate contains fraudulent statements, recourse will be had to the Tribunals who will deal with the matter according to law.

If on clearance of the goods, the certificates do not tally with the goods to which they refer, they will be considered as null and void, and the goods shall pay duty according to the first Tariff.

The certificate shall be accepted and acted upon when the difference between the weight of the goods mentioned in the manifest and that verified by the Customs examiners does not exceed 20%; but it will be considered as null and void when the difference is greater, and the goods will have to pay the duties stipulated in the said first Tariff.

Certificates made in a country for products from another country shall also be considered as null and void, notwithstanding that they both be Treaty-countries.

IX.

Colish proceeding from Treaty-countries mixed, without distinction, in the holds of vessels with colish the origin of non-Treaty-countries, as well as that presenting characteristics of not being the production of a Treaty-country, shall be subject to duty at the rate stipulated in the first Tariff.

X.

All articles, although originally from a non-Treaty-country, which through industries of a Treaty-country have been changed in such manner as to increase their value, will enjoy the benefits of Treaty-countries; but for this purpose the mere handling of the goods, for packing them or dividing them into commercial classes, will not be considered sufficient.

In order that goods requiring a certificate and destined for deposit in the Customs warehouse may benefit of the duties of the second Tariff, the said certificate must be produced at the time of Customs clearance of the goods for consumption.

DISPOSITION ELEVENTH.

BOUNTIES AND DRAWBACKS.

1. National shipbuilders shall receive the following bounties:

|   | Pesetas.             |
|---|----------------------|
| (a) For every wooden vessel, built to navigate without an engine.....   | per ton gross 80 00  |
| (b) For every like vessel, built to navigate with an engine.....  | per ton gross 100 00 |
| (c) For every vessel with iron or steel hull, or of mixed construction, intended to navigate without an engine, including draggers, mud boats, tank vessels, pontoons and barges..... | per ton gross 120 00 |
| (d) For every vessel intended to navigate with an engine, for transporting goods, with iron or steel hull, or of mixed construction.....  | per ton gross 160 00 |
| The same benefit shall be allowed for vessels with iron or steel hull, with engine, used for the national sea-fishing industries or port services, regardless of their speed.         |                      |
| (e) For every vessel with an engine, for transporting goods and passengers, with iron or steel hull, or of mixed construction.....  | per ton gross 170 00 |
| (f) For passenger vessels of the same construction as the previous.....   | per ton gross 185 00 |

The amount of the bounty shall be increased by 10% for every full mile of speed above 14 miles travelled by the vessel on trial and with full cargo.

2. According to the Laws of December 18, 1899, August 3, and October 26, 1902 levying a sugar tax, manufacturers of chocolate, sweetmeats, preserves, fruits in syrup or naturally candied, fruit pastes, jellies, syrups and fine biscuits, aniseed and other brandy with sugar, exporting these products abroad and to the Canary Islands and Spanish Possessions, shall be entitled, by way of drawback of the duty paid on the sugar employed in the preparation of said articles, to a refund of the following sums:

|  | Pesetas.           |
|--|--------------------|
| Chocolate, bonbons, jams, fruits in syrup, fruit pastes, jellies and syrups..... | 100 kil, net 18 00 |
| Fruits preserved in their natural state and fine biscuits.....                   | 6 00               |
| Aniseed brandy with the addition of sugar.....                                   | 100 litres 6 00    |
| Compound spirits with sugar.....   | 6 00               |

In order to obtain the drawback of the tax also referred to, the rules regarding the sugar tax law and supplementary dispositions must be duly complied with.

3. In accordance with the Law of December 10, 1908, regulating the spirit tax and Royal Ordinance of November 22, 1910, drawback of duties shall be allowed on exported goods, to the following persons, namely:

(1.) Manufacturers of compound spirits and of liquors manufactured with neutral brandy and alcohol the output of other manufacturing factories, on the quantities used in manufacturing the goods exported by them, at the rate of 25 pesetas per hectolitre at 25° O.

(2.) Merchants, for the neutral alcohol and brandy, compound spirits and liquors exported by them: 25 pesetas per hectolitre of liquid reduced at 95° O. or 7 50 pesetas for the same unit and the same degree in the case of denatured alcohol. They shall further be entitled to refund of the value of the control bands affixed to bottles containing compound spirits and liquors exported by them.

(3.) Wine growers and exporters, for the sweet wines exported by them, shall be entitled to drawback of 3 pesetas per hectolitre of wine testing from 20° to 80° by Beaume's hydrometer, and 4 25 pesetas per hectolitre of wine testing more than 80° by such hydrometer.

(4.) Exporters of chemicals, perfume, F. ysaiah and medicines prepared with alcohol shall be entitled to drawback of duty at the rate of 25 pesetas on the alcohol contained in the same.

In order to obtain the foregoing drawbacks, it will be indispensable to comply with the rules contained in the Spirit Tax Regulations.

DISPOSITION TWELFTH.

ARTICLES PROHIBITED ON IMPORTATION.

1. Arms of war, projectiles and ammunition, i.e. pistols, revolvers, guns and carbines which have a bore exceeding 7 millimetres, with their ammunition, save with the previous authority of the Government.

2. Reproductions of hydrographic charts published by the Marine Depot.

3. Air-guns and tubes for blowing pellets ("cerbatanas"), swordsticks, dagger sticks, or hidden, side and fire arms, daggers of all kinds and pointed knives, except those of ceremonial use including handle.

4. Books and printed matter in Spanish, and hand and plans of Spanish authors, when prohibited by the Copyright Law.

5. Live pigeons arriving from Gibraltar, and, in Spanish Possessions in North Africa, the Balearic and Canary Islands, pigeons of any foreign origin.

6. Moorish furnishings ("objetos morunos").

7. Paintings, figures, or any other objects offensive to morality.

8. Pharmaceutical preparations or secret remedies of unknown composition, or whose formulas have not been published.

9. Rosaries, reliquaries and other pious objects from the Holy Places, introduced for commerce and private use.

10. Tobacco, in the form and cases specified in the Regulations of the Government monopoly, tobacco seed and juice, in conformity with Royal Ordinance of August 22, 1903.

11. Vests and all other kinds of matches, the manufacture and sale of which form a State monopoly.

Quick phosphorus may only be imported by the State or by duly authorized manufacturers in the service of the State.

By Royal Decree of July 31, 1897, the monopoly for the exclusive manufacture and sale of gunpowder and other explosive substances was adjudicated to the Company La Española de Explosivos.

According to the provisions of the Royal Ordinance of September 1, 1897, relating to the execution of the Company's contract, the latter or its duly authorized representatives shall alone be allowed to import from abroad gunpowder and explosives, inflammable yarns and tissues, except those intended for the War and Marine Departments. In terms of § 3 of the Ordinance aforesaid, however, as long as the above named company does not manufacture sporting cartridges similar to the foreign product marked F., F.F., F.F.F. and T.B. Diamond, white "Anniebe Schulze" powder, and the like, private persons are allowed to import the same in boxes of one quarter and one half kilogramme each, as well as cartridges loaded therewith and caps for the latter. Nevertheless, these products can only be withdrawn from the Custom-house of arrival after discharging the duties provided in the tariff and paying to the lessee company the royalty referred to in Art. 16 of terms and conditions of concession dated June 12, 1897.

13. Articles and goods the importation whereof is prohibited by other Ministries in the interest of public health or in view of protecting agriculture and industry. (A. B. C. D. E. F. G. H. I. J.)

A.

The importation of plants, American vines and residues of the same can only be allowed on compliance with the formalities prescribed by the Plagas del Campo Law of May 21, 1908, and Royal Ordinance of December 31, 1909.

B.

The importation is prohibited from the entire American continent, of potatoes, of their leaves, stalks, wastes and peelings, and of the sacks or packages in which they have been packed. The importation of potatoes of unprohibited origin will be effected through specially authorized Custom-houses, and the examination of the same will be made by members of the Board of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce, or their delegates appointed by the Civil Governor of the Province.

Further, live plants, and fruits proceeding from the United States of America shall not be admitted to importation, if from examination by agricultural engineers of the Province it appears that these products are unsound and are contaminated by the insect known under the name of coccus or commonly called San Juan coccus, which it will be necessary to prove by certificates issued for the purpose.

C.

Importation from the United States of America is further prohibited of lard not obtained by melting, and, from Algeria, of swine and pork-butcher's wastes.

Hogs' flesh imported from the United States shall be exempt from the microscopical examination prescribed by Rule 2 of Ordinance of the Ministry of the Interior dated November 9, 1887, provided that the cases containing same be accompanied by certificates of origin and inspection issued in accordance with the United States Act of March 3, 1891, and that such documents show that said meat contains no trichina or other principles dangerous to the health of consumers.

Hogs' flesh of like origin, unaccompanied by the certificates aforesaid, shall as in the past, be rigorously submitted to the microscopical examination prescribed in Rule 2 of Ordinance dated November 9, 1887, this to be effected by the Maritime Health Directors in the manner provided in said Ordinance, such directors and officers charged with the inspection being required to report monthly to the Direction-General of Health the number of cases inspected, nature of contents, place of origin, name of importing vessel, consignment and result of examination.

Trichinosis meat will be thrown into the sea, with all due precaution, at a proper distance from the port. Lard obtained otherwise than by melting will be treated in a like manner, unless the importers prefer re-exporting the same.

Lard obtained by melting and fat bacon freed of its muscular tissues are exempt from microscopical examination, and from the production of the certificate of inspection issued in the port of shipment.

D.

Alimentary products containing any proportion of saccharin, as also refreshing drinks, and all articles containing saccharin or any other similar substances; glucose and sugar mixed with saccharin and the like, when not medicinal in use, and not imported in the manner and according to the rules provided. (Law of December 24, 1908, and Royal Ordinance of January 9, 1904.)

E.

Ground pigment mixed with other materials, even if the latter are not injurious to public health. (Royal Decree dated December 31, 1902.)

F.

Under the provisions of Article 127 of the Industrial Property Law dated May 6, 1902, foreign products furnished with marks of Spanish goods are prohibited and shall be forfeited at the time of entry, at Spanish Custom-houses, if they are found to be counterfeit of completely new marks, and those counterfeiting previously registered marks.

G.

By Royal Ordinance of August 4, 1904, the importation of oysters from foreign countries is prohibited between the 1st of May and the 1st of October in each year.

H.

The importation of spirits mixed with ether is prohibited. (Law and bye-law of the spirit tax of December 10, 1908.)

I.

The Decrees of December 22, 1908, and August 31, 1910, prohibit the importation under the name of coffee any coffee which has been subjected to any other manipulation than that consisting in mixing coffee of different origin and roasting it, being a treatment intended to render it fit for consumption.

It is also prohibited to import under the name of coffee any product used to substitute or adulterate the coffee.

J.

The importation is prohibited of playing cards, or of packs of cards of whatever origin.

PAYMENT OF CUSTOMS DUTIES.

For the application of the Law of December 24, 1912, to take effect on January 15th, 1913, it has been decided that in payment of the Customs Duties is to hold the following shall from that date be accepted for their full value:

Spanish gold coin; gold coins of countries of the Latin Union, of the United Kingdom and Germany; Bank of France or Bank of England notes.

Drafts or cheques on Paris, London or Berlin, provided they be payable respectively in francs, pounds sterling, or marks, and be duly guaranteed. Until further notice and owing to the present monetary depreciation in relation to the par equivalent of gold at Brussels, the acceptance of drafts and cheques on that city is suspended.

Payment of duties is to be made in pesetas, and amounts on goods verbally declared by passengers may continue as heretofore to be settled in silver money with a surtax equal to the average price of the franc during the month preceding the month of payment.

TARIFF OF IMPORT DUTIES ON FOREIGN GOODS ENTERING THE PENINSULA & THE BALEARIC ISLANDS.

(In force January 1, 1912.)

NOTE.—Numbers of the Tariff marked with the letter C affect goods imported from countries designated in Groups 1, 2 and 3, which are to be accompanied by a Certificate of origin, in order to receive the benefit of the reduced rates, namely those appearing in the 2nd Tariff. See Disposition 10th and § 11.

The letters G.W. and N.W. in the text after the designation of the goods indicate gross weight and net weight respectively. See also Disposition 5th, § 4.

SURTAXES.

The under-mentioned products, imported into the Peninsula or Balearic Islands, proceeding from Europe or shipped in a European port, shall, in addition to the duties stipulated in the Tariff, be subject to the following surtaxes:

| No. | Articles.  | Rate of Surtax. |
|-----|--|-----------------|
|     |  | Pescetas.       |
| 1   | Petroleum, crude or refined.....                       | 100 Kil. 0 50   |

| 12  | Tea.....   | „ 9 60          |

REMARKS.

1. The surtaxes provided in this tariff apply to the products therein named when of extra-European origin but imported from a European country either by land or sea.

In case of voluntary transshipment in European ports, the duties established in this Tariff will be levied.

2. To be entitled to exemption from the surtax, the products enumerated in this Tariff must be accompanied by certificate of origin if of European production.

3. Crude petroleum from America arriving in Spain in tank vessels which have called at a French port and discharged part of their cargo at such port, is exempt from the surtax, provided that the quantity of petroleum destined for Spain comes with through bill of lading from America, that the quantity discharged in the French port is certified by the Customs authorities there, and that the certificate is viséd by the Spanish Consul. Vessels proceeding from America with a cargo of untanned hides or skins, raw cotton and staves, destined for various Spanish ports, after having entered at one or several ports of the Peninsula, and given the undertaking required by Art. 68 of the Customs regulations, may call at Oran in order to discharge the quantities of the above-mentioned goods which, under through bill of lading and included in the corresponding manifest they carry for that place, and may then continue their journey to other Spanish ports without the cargo destined for such other port losing the benefit of direct shipment, provided that the vessels observe the itinerary indicated in the waybill.

MONOPOLY DUTIES ON IMPORTATION OF MANUFACTURED TOBACCO.

| No. | Articles.           | Duty.     |
|-----|---------------------|-----------|
|     |                     | Pescetas. |
| 1   | Cigars in bulk..... | 40 00     |
| 2   | „ in boxes.....     | „ 40 00   |
| 3   | Cigarettes.....     | 25 00     |
| 4   | Cut tobacco.....    | „ 25 00   |

REMARKS.

1. Manufactured tobacco (cigars, cigarettes, and cut tobacco) shall be dutiable together with the weight of interior packages or receptacles in which presented to the Customs, whatever be the quantity, quality or nature thereof, but exclusive of the weight of the outside case or receptacle enclosing the other containers.

2. Cigarettes and cut tobacco imported in bulk in rough receptacles shall be dutiable after deducting the weight of such receptacles containing and used to transport them.

3. Cigarettes of cut tobacco wrapped only in tobacco leaf are regarded as cigars; while those rolled in paper even with an outside wrapper of leaf tobacco are regarded as cigarettes.

4. The Tobacco Monopoly Company is alone authorised to clear through the Customs tobacco destined for private persons, on compliance with the formalities prescribed in Art. 21 of the regulations of Feb. 21, 1901. The Company will charge by way of commission, and in addition to the monopoly duties, 12% on the original value (at factory) of cigars, and 25% on the value of cigarettes or cut tobacco proceeding from abroad.

NOTES.

NOTE 1.—Coal, coke, and briquettes shall be cleared in conformity with the weight indicated in the certificate issued to the master of the vessel by the Spanish Consul at the port of shipment, showing the quantity received on board according to the charter-party and the bills of lading, which the Consul shall demand to see for the purpose. Before the discharge of the coal the Customs Officials shall visit the vessel conveying it, and the approximate weight of the cargo shall be calculated from the empty space in the hold and the net tonnage of the vessel, it being considered that each cubic metre of net tonnage corresponds to 800 kilograms of coal or briquettes, or 450 of coke. If the result of this calculation differs from the weight as shown on the manifest and declared in the document to be weighed. Whatever the method employed in assessing duty, a written record shall be kept of the manner of verification adopted, and of the Customs official or officials by whom the operation was performed.

NOTE 2.—Tarred tissues weighing more than 10 grammes per sq. decimetre shall be dutiable under this heading; and under Tariff No. 705 if such tissues are of less weight. Tarred paper, whether or not lined with tissue, weighing 350 grammes or more per sq. metre, shall be dutiable under this heading; tarred paper of less weight shall be dutiable under Tariff No. 431.

NOTE 3.—As mineral oils dutiable under this No. will be considered all such as, when distilled at a temperature of 300°, leave a residue of 80 %; emit inflammable vapours below 150°; rise in temperature more than 3° when treated with concentrated sulphuric acid; contain more than 10% of their volume of tar and leave a solid residue of more than 3% of the liquid distilled. Oils which do not fulfil these conditions and not included in Nos. 22, 23 or 24, will be classed as lubricants in No. 25. For every shipment of petroleum and mineral oils under Tariff Nos. 19, 20, 22, 23 and 24, a sample of 200 cubic centimetres shall be taken for every 500 cases, and a like quantity for every 10 barrels, or for each tank comprised in one declaration and belonging to the same class. If the oil is of different classes, the mixture shall be made by classes, the quantity of each class being recorded.

These samples shall be mixed in a large vessel, and when the examination of the shipment is concluded 2 litres shall be taken from them and put into separate bottles, which shall be sealed and furnished with labels signed by the Customs officers and the interested party, and forwarded to the Director-General of Customs for examination. As regards products under Tariff Nos. 19 and 20, 1 kilogram will be taken if solid.

The declared tariff number shall be applied and the duty levied immediately, and the importer shall be bound by the results of the analysis, the clearance not being considered final until such result is known.

The samples shall be analysed within one month, and the interested party shall have the right to be present when the samples are opened and analysed, and to appeal to the Minister of Finance from the decision of the Direction. When, in appealing, the interested party requests a new analysis, he shall bear the expense of such analysis if the decision of the Direction is sustained. In contrary cases, the expenses shall be borne by the Administration.

If the interested party desire to be present at the analysis, he must request permission in writing when he signs the label of the sample.

When petroleum and mineral oils are imported in tanks or reservoirs fixed on board vessels, clearance shall be carried out in the following manner, provided that the port arrangements admit of it:

1st. The petroleum or oil shall be extracted through a tube from the ship-tank by a steam pump, and shall be run into a reservoir or reservoirs, which shall be furnished with a tap to conduct the liquid to two receptacles of tin-plate or iron.

2nd. These reservoirs shall be provided with a tap to conduct the liquid to two receptacles of tin-plate or iron.

3rd. Each of these two receptacles shall be placed on a balance, the tap leading thereto shall be opened, and when the receptacles are nearly full and the balance tends to become level, the flow of petroleum shall be arrested, and the tap shall be closed completely when the needle indicates the weight placed beforehand in the pan.

4th. The weight being determined, the liquid shall be poured out, and the weight of each empty receptacle found, the official charged with the clearance taking a note of the results.

5th. The petroleum or oil once weighed, shall be run out from each receptacle through a tube placed in its lowest part, which tube shall fit into another tube leading to a second reservoir, from which the liquid will be transported to the manufactory; and

6th. The Administration will take care to exercise the greatest vigilance, unfitting the tubes at the end of the daily clearance or removing the cocks of the same, in order to prevent the interests of the Revenue being prejudiced on account of leakage or other causes.

NOTE 4.—By "oleophantia and lubricating oils" in No. 25 of the Tariff are to be understood mineral oils, used chiefly for lubricating machinery, and not emulsifiable vapour below 150°, and which when treated with concentrated sulphuric acid do not rise more than 3° C. in temperature, and must contain less than 10 per cent. by volume of tar. The solid residuum left after the distillation of such oils is not greater than 3 per cent. of the weight of the distilled liquid. The temperature at which the distillation is to be carried out in order to obtain the said residuum is to be that at which the distilled liquid decomposes, leaving the residue.

Oils which emit inflammable vapours below 150°, shall not be regarded as oleophantia; but in the case of a mixture made in order to elude the duty fixed by No. 25, this duty shall be applied in accordance with Section 21 (c) of Disposition 4th.

NOTE 5.—The benzine referred to in No. 26 is that of bituminous coal (hulla). It differs from gasoline or petroleum benzine by the fact that, when treated with a mixture of concentrated sulphuric and nitric acid it emits a disagreeable colour, and gives a greenish tint, and emits a pleasant smell, and by the fact that a crystal of iodine colours benzine a more or less yellowish red, and imparts to gasoline a purple colour.

NOTE 6.—Glass of the natural colour of the component paste, which colour, therefore, is not due to the addition of any colouring substance, shall be regarded for the purpose of tariff classification, as uncoloured glass.

NOTE 7.—The rubbing (desgrate) necessary to remove mould marks shall not be regarded as cutting.

NOTE 8.—Glass strengthened with iron wire, and glass ribbed, frosted, or with relief work, of a thickness of from 4 to 12 mm., shall pay duty under No. 34, and that of greater thickness under No. 33.

NOTE 9.—Frames of mirrors shall be dutiable according to kind, if the duty applicable thereto is greater than that applicable to the mirrors.

NOTE 10.—Only bricks, squares, and tiles of baked earth or clay, rough, and unglazed in the construction of walls, furnaces, &c., are included in this number.

NOTE 11.—The term "jewellery" (joyeria o alhajas) includes all small articles, whatever their stan ard of fineness, intended generally for the adornment of the person.

The term gold or silver ware (vajilla) includes writing, toilet, and other domestic utensils, articles for the service of churches, and all large articles serving as ornaments in houses. In clearing wares (vajilla) not entirely composed of gold, silver, or platinum, a reasonable reduction shall be made from the total weight for the weight of the other materials, which shall be dutiable under the appropriate tariff numbers.

Gold, silver, or platinum wire is dutiable under No. 52, wire which passes through the holes of the English wire gauge being regarded as wire for this purpose.

NOTE 12.—In order to distinguish gilt articles, they shall be rubbed with warm alcohol, and then tried with a drop of nitric acid. If the articles are varnished, the varnish disappears with the alcohol, and the nitric acid has no effect; if they are gilt, the varnish remains, and the alcohol or the nitric acid, silvered articles are to be filed sufficiently to disclose under the surface plating the colour of the principal metal; or again, if a portion of the silvered metal is dissolved in nitric acid, the silver, should any exist, is precipitated on the addition of hydrochloric acid, chloride of silver being formed, soluble in ammonia, and having the other properties of this substance.

NOTE 13.—By (tuchos) is understood crude wrought or rolled iron or steel, generally imported in the form of rectangular or rhomboidal lumps or coils, and intended for the purpose of being rolled in different directions, produced in the process of compression, provided that the minimum transverse dimensions are 10 by 10 centimetres. In case of doubt samples of the goods must be sent to the Laboratorio Metalografico de la Escuela de Minas. When the tuchos have been rolled to dimensions smaller than those indicated above, the goods being known as "palanquillas" or "hojas," they will be classified as bars, and be assessed for duty under Tariff No. 39.

NOTE 14.—In order to be dutiable under this number, articles must be incapable of serving any other purpose than that of being cast in iron or steel works, or must be waste articles destined for use in the production of copper by cementation.

All bars (barras or carriles) shall not exceed 1 metre in length.

NOTE 15.—Iron bars are to be distinguished from plates or sheets by the fact of the latter having their edges trimmed, while the bars retain their rough edges resulting from the action of the rolling-mill.

NOTE 16.—In polishing sheet iron, it is first washed in a solution of sulphuric acid to remove the oxide of iron, and then passed through a hard polished cylinder. Common sheet iron may therefore be distinguished from polished sheet iron by scales of oxide of iron detaching themselves from the former when one of the corners is doubly bent; this does not occur with polished sheet iron.

NOTE 17.—For the application of Nos. 67 and 68 of the Tariff, the minimum thickness of the tube walls will be taken.

NOTE 18.—Rough pieces of iron or steel, neither turned, adjusted nor polished, even if intended for machinery, shall pay duty under Nos. 72-73, according to weight, except those pieces which, though presenting the same characteristics, are specially classified in other numbers.

NOTE 19.—Wheels weighing less than 100 kilograms, for railway and tramway carriages and waggon shall be dutiable under No. 80.

When such wheels are presented in parts, they shall be dutiable, provided they be complete, under numbers 79 or 80, according to their weight; but if they are not complete they shall be dutiable under No. 80.

NOTE 20.—By "wire" is understood any metal thread, whatever the shape of its transverse section may be, which can be passed through the English gauge; when the section is not cylindrical the number of the Tariff embracing the smallest diameter of the section shall be applied.

NOTE 21.—The number of threads in the case of articles dutiable under Nos. 102 and 103 is half the sum of the warp and weft threads of the gauze.

NOTE 22.—The thickness of screws and wash screws, shall be that at the thickest part, where the rod has not been threaded.

NOTE 23.—No. 122 includes kitchen knives, scissors for use in arts and crafts, sewing needles, and needles exceeding 6 centimetres in length and of a maximum diameter of more than 1 millimetre, and also those of which the length is less than 6 centimetres with a maximum diameter exceeding 2 millimetres.

NOTE 24.—All needles for sewing and embroidering whose length and thickness in their maximum diameter does not exceed 6 cms. and 1 mm. respectively, are included under this number.

NOTE 25.—Unfinished parts of slide-arms and fire arms shall be dutiable according to kind and condition. By unfinished parts is understood those parts not smoothed and waiting filing.

NOTE 26.—Metallic alloys into which copper enters in less proportion than 2 per cent. of the weight of the article are not considered as alloys of copper. Such alloys shall pay duty according to the tariff numbers to which they correspond, leaving the copper out of account.

NOTE 27.—Articles made of metallic alloys into which aluminium, nickel, or cobalt enters in less proportion than 2 per cent. of the weight of the article, are not regarded as of aluminium, nickel, or cobalt respectively. Such articles shall be dutiable according to the tariff number to which they correspond irrespective of said metals.

NOTE 28.—In accordance with the law of the 3d July, 1892, the Customs will mix 13 per cent. of wool fat or petroleum with all cotton or rayon yarn imported. The cost of the materials used for denaturing these oils will be borne by the importer.

NOTE 29.—Products with alcoholic base are subject, in addition, to a tax of 25 pesetas per hectolitre of liquid, whatever may be the proportion of alcohol, in accordance with the provisions of the law of December 10, 1908, and the Royal Decree of December 25, 1909, regulating the taxation of alcohol.

NOTE 30.—The colours included in this number are those composed of a metallic base, which are used mixed with oil or with turpentine, and are generally insoluble in water, alcohol or ether. They are rarely crystallised, and are almost always in powder or lumps, such as white lead, chrome yellow, vermilion, Prussian and cobalt blue, English green, and "parrot" (papagayo).

NOTE 31.—This No. includes artificial colouring materials which in neutral, acid or alkaline bath, dye textile fabrics, either with or without the addition of mordant. They are all destroyed by the action of heat.

NOTE 32.—In the application of these rates of duty, it is to be understood that the paste must be damp; and that when colours are imported in lumps completely dry they must pay duty under No. 204.

NOTE 33.—Products included in this number shall be dutiable hereafter, even if imported in capsules.

NOTE 34.—This product is subject, in addition to the Customs duty, to a consumption tax of 0.04 peseta per kilogram, in accordance with the law of March 18, 1900.

NOTE 35.—The products or substances included in Nos. 243 to 247 shall be examined by the pharmaceutical inspectors who, with the Customs officials, will attest the declarations in the following form: "The goods are those expressed in the declaration, and are (or are not) admitted to importation by virtue of their formulas having been published (state where), or their composition having been ascertained by analysis made by —."

NOTE 36.—All medicinal wines, whether containing natural or added sugar or not, are included under this number.

NOTE 37.—Saponified greases, even those imperfectly saponified, and soaps of any degree of purity, unscented, are dutiable under this number.

NOTE 38.—By virtue of Art. 68 of the Ordinance of December 10, 1908, concerning the taxation of alcohol and other excise, rum, cane spirit, cognac, gin, aniseite, portation of alise or other essence, rum, cane spirit, cognac, gin, aniseite, curacao, maraschino and whisky is only allowed on production of evidence by the importers or their agents that they are registered as manufacturers of compound spirits or liqueurs, in which case the Customs will send a permit with the goods to their point of destination to prove that they have been duly cleared. Chemists, manufacturers of perfumery and confectioners may also import the above-mentioned essences so long as the quantity does not exceed 10 kilograms.

NOTE 39.—By "explosive compounds" are understood not only dynamite, under any of its different formulas or compositions, but also fulminates, gonias, nitro-glycerine, smokeless or white powders, and in general any explosive preparation which cannot be regarded as ordinary sporting or mining powder. Favier explosives, commonly called nitramines, are considered as explosive compounds.

To determine the duty payable on caps of all kinds for mines, each 100 caps shall be taken as equivalent to 1 kilogram of explosive compound. As

NOTE 72.—Cases, stands, glass covers, and other accessories, even when belonging to alarm clocks, are dutiable as manufactured articles of the material of which they are composed.

When clock-work is imported within cases, on stands, &c., and the importer does not wish to separate them for the assessment of duty, the weight of the dial will be reckoned as weighing 500 grammes in the case of alarm clocks, and 2 kil. in the case of wall and table clocks.

NOTE 73.—Cable or wire, uncovered, shall be dutiable in accordance with the tariff number under which the wire, by reason of its kind and condition, is classified.

NOTE 74.—By agricultural machinery, dutiable under No. 553, shall be understood the machinery employed by farmers and agriculturists for preparing the ground, gathering the crops and cleaning them; also machinery used for crushing grapes and olives; and machinery for dairy work (milk, butter and cheese).

The motors and hoisting apparatus (matracas), including electrical, of agricultural machinery, shall be dutiable under No. 553, provided the importer affords proof that the motors &c. are destined exclusively for use in agriculture.

Landlords and tenants who at present enjoy the advantages of the Law of June 3rd, 1868, shall pay on implements, instruments, and machines intended exclusively for agricultural purposes an import duty of 1 peseta per 100 kilograms. For this purpose, however, the importer must pay the higher tariff rates unless, within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Customs, he produces a certificate signed by the Mayor of his locality specifying the denomination, class, and weight of the agricultural implements, instruments, and machines employed on the respective estates, together with a further certificate from the proper authorities to the effect that the estate in question is in enjoyment of the privileges of the agricultural law. If he fails to produce these two documents, he shall pay the full duties provided in the Tariff.

NOTE 75.—For the definition of parts of machinery, the following rules will be observed:

1st. A separate piece of a machine is understood to be any article not expressly specified under some heading of the Tariff, which by its shape and the condition in which it is presented for clearance, though not completely finished, can only be used, and can only be considered as destined, for a machine, which, if finished, would pay under the heading of the Tariff referred to in the machinery.

2nd. Tubes, bars, axes, screws, sheets, plates, boiler bottoms, wire, and other articles expressly tariffed, must pay duty accordingly, even though they be destined for machinery.

3rd. In order that hose pipes, filters, and cloths, or blankets of wool, linen, cotton, or other textile fibres employed in manufacturing processes, may be dutiable as machines, and added to the industry or for which they are destined must be produced.

4th. Tools, implements, and utensils employed in the arts and in industry cannot be considered as detached parts of machinery, and must pay duty according to the materials of which they are composed.

NOTE 76.—By multitubular generators is understood generators formed of rows of tubes, through which the heat circulates internally and externally.

NOTE 77.—As regards machines and other manufactures included in Class 15 under different tariff Nos., according to their weight, the tariff No. applicable shall be determined by taking the net weight of the goods.

NOTE 78.—Separate parts of copper or copper alloys combined with other materials shall also be dutiable under this number, provided that the copper or copper alloy predominates in weight.

NOTE 79.—The duty fixed by this number shall be applicable to the machines in the condition in which they are presented for clearance, i.e., including the weight of the stands, tables, or supports on which they are fixed.

NOTE 80.—As textile machinery will be considered all machines used from the preparation of the fibre to the finishing of the cloth, including dyeing and printing.

NOTE 81.—When carriages comprised in this group are presented for clearance without axles, wheels, or other accessories, they will be charged with duty as complete carriages.

NOTE 82.—In order to determine the weight of the chassis of the automobiles mentioned in Nos. 586 and 587, 200 kil. shall be deducted from the total weight of the carriage in the case of No. 586, and 400 kil. in the case of No. 587.

NOTE 83.—The duties on ships include the anchors, kedges, cables and chains, barometers, chronometers, binnacles, compasses (loose and fixed), speaking trumpets, telescopes, casks, cordage, sails, and masts and spars, necessary for the manoeuvres and safety of vessels, with due regard to their class. Spare masts and spars, cordage, and sails, in accordance with the requirements of the vessels, will also be admitted free of any import duty. This rule will also apply to carriages, glass, earthenware, lamps, fixtures, furniture, and other articles of comfort or luxury destined exclusively for the cabin service or for the use and defence of the vessels, in quantities suited to the class and occupation of the same. Spare parts for steam vessels are also included. When the Customs authorities are in doubt as to whether parts for ships which are claimed to be spare parts or are not in accordance with the regulations, they shall require from the proper Marine authority a certificate specifying the quantity and nature of the parts which, having regard to the class of the vessel they are intended for, should be regarded as spare parts in accordance with the regulations. When the articles referred to in this note do not meet the requirements indicated, they will pay the duties fixed in the respective numbers of the Tariff.

NOTE 84.—Duties on steam vessels are to be levied on the total tonnage measurement, and no separate duty is to be levied on the machinery, which will be considered as an integral part of the vessel.

As a basis for the Tariff clearance of ships introduced from abroad the certificate of tonnage measurement may provisionally be used, which, in conformity with Article 28 of the Regulations of the 2nd December, 1874, and the Royal Order of the 12th January, 1876, has to be delivered to the Collector of Customs with the visa of the Commandant of Marine.

The interested parties must present to the Customs authorities a certificate of the Commandant of Marine stating that the certificate of measurement has been approved by the Inspector, in accordance with Articles 19 and 22 of the said Regulations; and it is to be understood that the Customs authorities will not consider the clearance and payment of the duties as finally settled until this formality has been complied with and noted in the declaration or other document.

Spanish ships lengthened in foreign dockyards must, on their return to Spain, pay duty on the additional tonnage.

Spanish vessels refitted with engines abroad, when it is impossible to ascertain the weight of the new machinery, will pay a duty of 25 pesetas per indicated horse-power. Boilers and accessories thereof, funnels, tubes, &c., refitted abroad, will pay 14 pesetas per each square metre of heating surface.

For other repairs done to such vessels in foreign ports, duty shall be paid on the materials employed.

NOTE 85.—Vessels having their holds and covered spaces arranged to receive merchandise of any kind, even though with quarters for one passenger to each 150 tons of the vessel's total tonnage, shall be denominated cargo vessels.

NOTE 86.—Vessels having their holds and covered spaces arranged to accommodate passengers and any kind of goods shall be denominated cargo and passenger vessels. The quarters for passengers of all classes in this kind of vessel shall not be capable of accommodating more than 20 passengers to each 100 tons of the vessel's total tonnage.

NOTE 87.—Vessels which are principally arranged for the accommodation and transport of passengers of all classes, but which, notwithstanding, may carry cargo corresponding to the capacity of their holds and other unoccupied spaces, shall be denominated passenger vessels. The quarters for passengers shall be sufficiently spacious to enable the vessel to carry at least 20 passengers to each 100 tons of the total tonnage of the vessel.

NOTE 88.—The operation of breaking up shall be certified by the Customs Administrator of the port in which that operation takes place, which port shall be the port at which the vessel enters, or the port in which the breaking up is authorised by the Customs Department.

NOTE 89.—In order that oysters for breeding purposes be dutiable at the rate established, it is necessary that the weight of each 1,000 oysters shall not exceed 25 kil.

NOTE 90.—The fruits included in this number are those destined for distillation.

NOTE 91.—In pursuance of the Law of the 5th July, 1892, the Customs will only examine all olive oil introduced, and if any oil be found to contain an admixture of cotton-seed oil, or other fats, they will mix with it 1 per cent. of wood or petroleum tar, in order to render it unfit for consumption. The cost of the materials employed will be borne by the importer.

NOTE 92.—In virtue of the Law of the 10th December, 1898, and of the Royal Decree of the 25th December, 1900, regulating alcohol taxation, alcohol, spirits, liquors, and industrial products having an alcoholic base, are, when imported from abroad, subject to a tax of 25 pesetas per hectolitre, whatever may be their alcoholic strength; and this tax is to be paid to the Customs in addition to, and in one amount with, the import duty proper, but it is to be brought to account separately in the Customs-house records.

Wines and other alcoholic beverages of over 15 degrees strength are, when imported from abroad, subject to payment of the tax at the rate of 25 pesetas per hectolitre of liquid.

The strength of wines and alcoholic beverages is to be calculated at the temperature of 15 degrees Centigrade, Gay-Lussac's centesimal alcoholometer and Salleron's still being used.

Methyllic alcohol is not subject to the alcohol tax.

NOTE 93.—Bran which, on being passed through sieve No. 150 (60 grains to the linear centimetre), is shown to contain more than 5 per cent. of flour is dutiable as flour.

NOTE 94.—Milk preserve with the addition of other substances shall be dutiable under No. 659 if it does not contain sugar, and under No. 661 if it does contain sugar.

NOTE 95.—By common biscuit is understood "ship's biscuit," which is consumed by the crews of vessels.

NOTE 96.—Honey and molasses imported from abroad shall be analysed to determine whether they contain aërial alcohol, in which case the duties on alcohol are to be paid.

Two samples will be taken of all honey or molasses presented for clearance, and these will be placed in two flasks, which are to be sealed; the labels of the flasks are to be signed by the importer and the Customs officials, and one of the samples is to be sent to the Director-General of Customs for analysis.

The declared tariff number is to be applied, and duty levied immediately.

The importer will be bound by the results of the analysis, and the clearance will not be considered final until the result of the analysis is known.

NOTE 97.—Sword-sticks will pay the duty fixed for foil blades, in addition to the duty applicable to the sticks themselves.

By Royal Orders in Council dated 9th November, 1907, and 11th May, 1908, the importation of sword-sticks or other hidden side-arms is prohibited.

NOTE 98.—Brushes dutiable under this number are clothes brushes, hat-brushes, nail-brushes, hoist-brushes and brushes used for polishing fragile objects.

NOTE 99.—For the purposes of the gunpowder and explosives monopoly, 1,000 caps for central-firing cartridges for the standard army gun are to be regarded as equivalent to 1 kilog., and 10,000 caps for other central-firing cartridges for shot guns or revolvers as equivalent to 1 kilog.

The duty on 1 kilog. of sporting powder shall be levied for each 250 ordinary cartridges for sporting guns, or for each 600 cartridges for revolvers.

NOTE 100.—By "waterproof tissues" is to be understood those tissues which are coated on one or both sides with india-rubber, or also those saturated inside with this material.

Other impermeable tissues, into the composition of which india-rubber does not enter, shall be dutiable according to those tariff numbers under which they fall by virtue of their quality and condition.

NOTE 101.—Olecloth weighing 10 grammes or more per square decimetre shall be dutiable under No. 705; those weighing less under No. 706. Textiles woven with the rule as "vax-neth" (encarnado) and the like, are dutiable under No. 705, whether lustrous or not, and even if they weigh less than 10 grammes per square decimetre.

NOTE 102.—Felt hats will be considered as shaped (armados) when they have more hand work than is indispensable to shape the crown.

CANARY ISLANDS

The provisions of the tariff of March 30, 1900, as modified by Royal Ordinances of Aug. 4, 1900, Sept. 21, 1901, and Oct. 28, 1903, are to be re-enforced.

In consequence, the duties fixed in the said tariff shall be applicable to all goods imported into the free ports of the Canary Islands after Sept. 30, 1907.

(4.) The introduction of breech-loading or percussion-cap guns, percussion-caps and wax and wooden matches into the districts of Bata and Elobey and the islands of Annobon and Corisco is prohibited. The importation of other arms and ammunition into the Spanish territories in the Gulf of Guinea is to be effected only through the ports of Santa Isabel, Nueva Bata and Elobey; and to general sale and trade of firearms continue to be subject to the formalities provided for in the Regulations in force in these possessions.

(5.) The exportation of pieces of bokumen wood less than 75 centimetres in diameter is prohibited.

(6.) The exportation of elephants' tusks and of pieces or stabs of ivory weighing less than 6 kilograms is prohibited.

(7.) The following articles are prohibited to be imported:—

(a) Spurious coin of any country, also coin below the legal weight and standard.

(b) Obscene pictures, paintings, books, engravings, lithographs, and all articles offensive to morality.

(c) Bovine or ovine animals, poultry and other diseased animals, and also garbage of same likely to spread infectious diseases.

(d) Damaged or adulterated foodstuffs.

(8.) Importers of all kinds of wine must furnish the necessary certificates of origin for production to the Customs-houses, the certificates requiring the visa of the Spanish authorities or Spanish Consuls abroad, as the case may be.

(9.) In case of doubt as to the application of these provisions, the general Customs Ordinances of the Peninsula, as supplementary legislation, must, as far as possible, be complied with.

(10.) The present Customs Tariffs shall enter into force in the Spanish territories in the Gulf of Guinea from and after April 1, 1908.

(11.) The Customs Tariffs formerly applicable in the Spanish territories in the Gulf of Guinea, Royal Ordinance of August 2, 1893, and all regulations inconsistent with the present Ordinance, are hereby repealed.

ROYAL ORDINANCE OF DEC. 9, 1907, AS TO THE IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS INTO THE SPANISH TERRITORIES IN THE GULF OF GUINEA.

1. This Ordinance repeals the tax called "Municipal Health Tax," established by Decree of the Governor-General of the Spanish Territories in the Gulf of Guinea, dated Jan. 25, 1907, under which alcohol introduced into the Colony is liable to a duty of 1.50 pesetas per litre, on account of the Communal Councils.

2. In lieu of said tax, and in view of the necessity to restrain the importation and sale of alcoholic liquors in the island of Fernando-Po, the Communal Councils of the said island are at liberty, from the date of entry into operation of the new Customs Tariffs, viz., April 1, 1908, to levy, by way of Municipal surtax, a duty of 10% on the Customs duties chargeable on items 3, 6 and 7 of said Tariffs.

3. Sanction is given to the proposal of the Governor-General respecting the establishment of industrial licences for spirit retailers, for the purpose of further restraining the trade and sale of spirits.

ROYAL ORDINANCE OF DEC. 27, 1907, AS TO THE IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS.

From and after Jan. 1, 1908, goods classed under Nos. 5, 6 and 7 of the Import Tariff shall be assessed by the Customs authorities of the Spanish Territories in the Gulf of Guinea, with the import duties established by Ordinance of Dec. 9, 1907, and with the surtaxes fixed in the Ordinance of the same date.

Liquids of the kind referred to shall continue to be treated under the Customs Tariff now in force if they are duly proved to have been shipped to this Colony prior to Jan. 1, 1908, on strict compliance with the following regulations:—

1. All consignments of alcoholic liquors entering the Territories, manifests of which shall prove that they left the ports of origin or of transit before Jan. 1, 1908, shall be admitted by the Customs under the conditions and fiscal treatment now in force in the Colony.

2. On the contrary, shipments effected after Dec. 31, 1907, shall be subject to the duties and surtaxes provided for in the above-mentioned Royal Ordinances.

3. Should the consignees (in the circumstances set forth in the foregoing rule) refuse to pay the new Customs duties and other taxes deriving therefrom, the landing of the spirits will not be allowed, and the same must be re-shipped to the ports of despatch on account and at the expense and risk of the persons who were to receive them in the Colony, subject, however, to the latter's right to legally claim, if they deem fit, repayment of said expenses from the respective shippers.

CUSTOMS TARIFF LAW

[In force December 1, 1911.]

MONEY, WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—The monetary unit in Sweden is the Krona, which is divided into 100 öre. For weights and measures Sweden has adopted the metrical system.

(For schedule of rates and instructions on the application of the tariff see end of tariff.)

1 Articles imported from abroad are, as regards Customs duty, subject to the provisions of the Tariff appended to this Law, unless otherwise provided below.

2 If the same article is subject to different rates of duty when arriving from different countries, the importer must, if he desires a rate of duty other than the highest prescribed to be imposed thereon, produce the proof which may be required in accordance with special regulations on the point, to show that the goods are legally entitled to the more favourable Customs treatment. Further regulations on this subject shall be issued by Royal Decree.

3 Articles which are imported in vessels belonging to other countries shall not, unless otherwise provided, be subject to higher rates of duty than similar goods when imported in Swedish vessels.

4 In addition to the articles which are exempted from duty in accordance with the Tariff, the following shall also be duty-free:—

Articles imported on account of the King or for members of the Royal Household; articles which Foreign Embassies, accredited to Sweden, import for their own use; heraldic arms, flags, and office requisites, and other similar articles for official use, which are imported for the Consulates in Sweden of foreign powers, which, in their own countries, grant similar advantages to Sweden; articles imported for the land or sea forces which are not manufactured in Sweden, or which cannot be obtained in Sweden in view of the necessity that they should be procured without delay, provided each case which occurs receives Royal approval; clothing and bedding belonging to travellers or persons employed on vessels, in view of the necessity that they are evidently used, or, if accompanying the owner, is found to be in excess of his personal requirements; requisites belonging to travellers to persons employed on vessels, to the staff of trains, or to carriers, provided such requisites are found to be not in excess of their requirements during the journey, and so far as there is no reason for assuming that they are intended for other purposes; used cycles and used hand-carriers brought by persons who are stated in a written declaration on the traveller's word of honour, to be for his own use and not for trading purposes, shall also be included amongst such requisites; instruments, appliances, tools, and the like which are brought by persons engaged in the exercise of some science, art, or handicraft, for professional use, or which are specially imported by them, provided in the latter case that they give a written assurance on their word of honour that they are imported for such use, and that they are not imported for purposes of trade; ships' requisites and articles forming the equipment of vessels, including also household appliances belonging to vessels, provided such requisites and equipment can, in view of their nature and quantity, be reasonably regarded as intended for use on board the vessel in which they are imported, and so long as they remain on board; articles forming part of the equipment of wrecked vessels, also submarine treve when the treve, in pursuance of the special regulations made with regard thereto, is delivered by the proper Customs authorities to the finder; ships' stores brought on a vessel coming from abroad, so far as they are required for the use of the crew or the passengers, so long as the vessel does not, after concluding its voyage, proceed to another Swedish port in the home trade. It shall be incumbent on the Customs Administration at the place where the vessel calls during a voyage, or after it has cleared to a place abroad, to seal, and to specify on the manifest or on the Customs permit the portion of the supplies which has not paid duty, and which, in view of the number of the crew and passengers and of the length of the vessel's stay at such port, as well as the distance to the nearest port of call or to the open sea, cannot reasonably be regarded as required for the purpose stated. Such sealed stores, so far as they are not delivered for free use in accordance with preceding provisions, after being written off on the manifest or Customs permit, and provided they are not re-exported in due order, shall be subject to the ordinary rates of duty; ready-made household furniture and articles of clothing imported by a foreign subject or a Swedish subject domiciled abroad for at least one year, who, in consequence of marriage with a person in Sweden, removes thither, provided the conditions herein laid down are duly certified, and that the owner declares in writing on his or her word of honour that the goods were received as dowry or wedding presents in view of such marriage, and that circumstances do not exist to cast doubts on such statement; old and used hunting and shooting articles and other effects when imported on behalf of persons immigrating from abroad or persons who, having a domicile in Sweden, have resided abroad for at least one year, either uninterruptedly or with occasional intervals only, provided in all cases that the owner certifies in writing on his word of honour that the conditions specified as entitling the goods to free admission exist, that he himself has used the articles in question, that they are imported for his own use and not for mere purposes, and provided also that the Customs Office concerned finds that they are not in excess of the requirements of the owner; samples of goods which have no commercial value on importation, or which are rendered valueless when passing through the Customs; packing and receptacles in which goods are imported, unless they are to be included in the dutiable weight of the goods, or their form, appearance, or other circumstances show that they are not mere packages; articles which they can be used to a greater or less extent for other purposes, or that they are themselves imported for commercial purposes; sluffs composed of wooden material joined together to effect the ventilation of cargo spaces on board vessels and so-called dunnage, such as mattresses and similar goods clearly intended only for the protection of articles during transit, but not imported for trade purposes shall also be included as packing; oil and used packing when imported separately, such as empty casks, tin cans, boxes and the like, when returned from abroad or imported to be re-exported with merchandise; but this provision shall not apply to butter casks; articles produced or manufactured in Sweden, as well as foreign articles which have previously paid duty there, when re-imported in an unaltered state within 10 years after being exported. In case, however, drawback was allowed on such articles when exported or on the material used therein, such drawback shall be repaid to the Customs. If an article of Swedish manufacture or on casks or coverings in which they are evidently intended to be sold, there are marks indicating their Swedish origin, exemption shall not be obtained by persons other than the manufacturer, unless the importer either produces a statement of the manufacturer showing that he has no objection to raise against the shipment of the goods from duty, or otherwise makes it clear that no such objection can reasonably be expected on the part of the manufacturer or his legal representative; transport material imported only for temporary use in Sweden, such as railway vehicles, when used for importation or intended for the export from Sweden of merchandise and passengers; and also, under such conditions as the local Customs authorities may consider necessary in special cases, draught animals and vehicles which are evidently used only for the transport of merchandise or passengers to Sweden over the frontier and are immediately exported; insignia of orders granted by foreign states and the like; also exhibition medals or other prizes which have been granted in open competition abroad to persons domiciled in Sweden; coffins with bodies and urns with human ashes; also wreaths and the like accompanying them, as well as wreaths and flowers imported separately in commemoration of deceased persons; also natural history and ethnographical specimens for scientific collections; foodstuffs intended for, and imported simultaneously with, animals imported from abroad, in so far as such goods are shown not to exceed the animals' requirements during transport to the place to which the animals, in accordance with the accompanying documents, are finally destined, and providing that there is no reason to believe that the foodstuffs are intended for other purposes.

The special measures of control and general regulations which may be required to prevent the abuse of the exemption from duty accorded in virtue of this Section shall be issued by Royal Decree. Special provisions may also be issued in the same manner, so far as may be found necessary, with regard to vessels engaged in the home and foreign trade combined with a view to limiting the exemption from duty granted under "in respect of ships' stores."

5 The following small consignments of natural products or manufactures allowed to be imported, but subject to import duty, may be conveyed without payment of duty from Norway to Sweden over the portions of the frontier mentioned below on journeys other than those by rail, with the exception of playing-cards, which are subject to a stamp tax as well as duty, brandy and spirits, and beverages prepared therefrom, and also wine, which goods shall pay duty:—

When the journey is made over the portions of the frontier situated between the frontier station in Mitandersfers in Värmland, and the frontier between Värmland and Dalarna, and between Ljusneabacken in Härjedalen and frontier mark No. 167, and also between the parishes of Kall and Frostviken in Jämtland—Broad, all kinds, to a total of 10 kilos; pork, bacon &c., all kinds, to a total of 5 kilos; yarn, all kinds, to a total of 5 kilos; coffee, all kinds, and coffee substitutes, to a total of 5 kilos; malt, 10 kilos; malt liquors, all kinds, to a total of 5 litres; rice groats, 5 kilos; sugar and syrup, to a total of 5 kilos; cereals, not ground, 40 kilos; cereals, ground, 25 kilos; tobacco, unmanufactured or manufactured, all kinds, to a total of 1 kilo; fasses, all kinds, to a total of 15 metres, but not exceeding a total value of 25 kronor, and other articles to a total value of 20 kronor.

When the journey takes place over the portion of the frontier which is situated between the boundary between Värmland and Dalarna and Ljusneabacken in Härjedalen or over the portion of the frontier which is situated between frontier mark No. 167 and the northern boundary of the parish of Kall in Jämtland, and from the southern boundary of the parish of Frostviken and places lying to the north thereof—Broad, all kinds, to a total of 10 kilos; pork, bacon &c., all kinds, to a total of 5 kilos; yarn, all kinds, to a total of 5 kilos; coffee, all kinds, and coffee substitutes, to a total of 5 kilos; malt, 40 kilos; malt liquors, all kinds, to a total of 17 litres; rice groats, 5 kilos; sugar and syrup, all kinds, to a total of 10 kilos; cereals, not ground, to a total of 150 kilos; cereals, ground, to a total of 100 kilos; tobacco, unmanufactured or manufactured, all kinds, to a total of 1 kilo; fasses, all kinds, to a total of 15 metres, but not exceeding 40 kronor in value, and other goods to a total value of 30 kronor.

When articles are brought by travellers in quantities in excess of those specified above, duty shall be levied in accordance with the general provisions on the whole quantity imported.

Exemption from duty granted in virtue of these paragraphs shall not apply to articles imported for trading purposes, for ordinary purposes of sale, or to be supplied in payment of work performed, nor to articles imported by traders or on their account, provided they are of the kind in which they do business.

If required by the Customs officers, the traveller shall be bound to state his occupation and domicile, and to furnish a written statement, on oath, that the goods he brings with him are not imported for trading purposes, and that he does not intend to sell or otherwise dispose of them. The traveller himself, such certificate shall be given by the person on whose account they are imported. If the person concerned fails to give such a certificate, the articles shall be subject to duty in the ordinary way.

Special provisions shall be laid down showing how far sugar, which, in accordance with this Section, may be imported free of Customs duty, shall also be exempted from the sugar tax.

6 If in districts on the frontier between Norway and Sweden any person owns or cultivates properties on both sides of the frontier, and such properties either abut directly on one another or are so situated that the distance between the nearest boundaries of such properties does not exceed 100 metres, such cattle and any produce requiring for cultivation of the property situated in Sweden may be imported duty-free over the frontier.

7 The General Customs Administration, or in special cases the Customs Authorities on the frontier with Norway, shall issue such detailed regulations as they may consider necessary to prevent abuse of the privileges accorded in §§ 3 and 6.

8 Exemption from Customs duty may be allowed for short periods of fixed duration for:

Dutiable goods which are imported to be repaired or completed in Sweden and are intended for subsequent re-exportation; dutiable articles imported to be exhibited as samples or shown as public exhibits, provided that they cannot in themselves be regarded as imported for purposes of sale; for use as models in the manufacture of such articles intended for export, provided they are re-exported together with such articles; for use in connection with organized competitions, or for occasional theatrical performances or circus exhibitions; or to be tested and subsequently re-exported; in the latter case, however, the exemption from duty shall be accorded to single articles only or to goods which cannot reasonably be regarded as imported for purposes of sale; and imported dutiable packing of such articles, when saw, in, or re-exported with merchandise, glass, and dutiable packing imported for the same purposes, provided it is of a kind which is not manufactured in Sweden.

Exemption from duty in accordance with the preceding paragraph shall not be allowed for a period longer than one year, and in case such exemption is granted on articles to be tested and subsequently re-exported, as well as in the case of packing materials, the period shall not exceed six months. Exemption from Customs duty as herein provided shall be granted by the General Customs Administration, which shall issue such measures of control as may be considered necessary to ascertain the identity of the imported and exported goods; it shall also be a condition for such exemption that the owner besides complying with the regulations in this respect, shall only bring to the receipt of the Customs goods deposit with the Customs the amount of duty liable or else furnish security approved by the Customs Administration for payment of such duty in case re-exportation does not take place within the period fixed by the General Customs Administration, or in case re-exportation is not duly shown to have taken place.

It shall be determined by Royal Decree how far and under what conditions exemption from duty for a definite period may in special cases be granted for machines, appliances, tools and other articles imported for use in railway or harbour construction, drainage works, electric installations, by public authorities, or otherwise, for the public benefit, when such goods are subsequently to be re-exported from Sweden.

The conditions under which travellers not domiciled in Sweden may use automobiles, which they bring with them and which are intended for re-exportation before the expiry of a period not exceeding one year, shall also be determined by Royal Decree.

Articles which are brought from Norway or Finland to Sweden by the frontier population for household use in order to undergo some process of improvement in Sweden, such as bleaching, dyeing, tanning, grinding, spinning, weaving, or other similar process, or for repair, and which are re-exported to the country of origin after undergoing such repair, shall be exempted from Customs duty on importation, provided that the owner complies with the detailed regulations which may be issued by the General Customs Administration, or, in special cases, by the Customs Authorities on the frontier, in order to prevent abuse.

Any special regulations as to exemption from duty which may be issued in regard to samples of goods brought from certain countries or accompanying commercial travellers from certain countries shall be observed.

9 Re-importation of goods exported in order to undergo repairs or other treatment abroad which does not alter their essential character may be allowed within a period not exceeding one year on payment of duty to the amount of 15 % of the cost of repair or improvement, provided that the goods do so, as a result of such treatment, become liable to duty under a more highly-taxed heading than that previously applicable to them; in the latter case, the difference in duty shall be paid instead. The General Customs Administration may grant the above-mentioned privilege, make such regulations as may be necessary in connection therewith.

Articles which are conveyed from Sweden to Norway or Finland by the frontier population for household purposes in order to be improved by being bleached, dyed, tanned, ground, spun, woven, or by undergoing some other similar treatment, or else for repairs, and which are re-imported after such treatment or repair, may be exempted from Customs duty on re-importation, provided that the owner complies with the detailed regulations which may be issued by the General Customs Administration, or, in special cases, by the Customs Authorities on the frontier, in order to avoid abuse.

10 No reduction of the duty leviable in accordance with the Tariff shall be allowed on imported goods on account of any damage they have received, unless the owner of articles which have accidentally suffered damage during transport to the place of importation declines to accept such articles, in which case, the Customs duty, provided it is not assessed in the Tariff on the value of the goods, may be reduced in the proportion which the actual value of the goods bears to the value of similar goods in an undamaged state.

The owner who desires the preceding provision to be applied to his goods must make application for the purpose to the Customs Administration within two days after the expiry of the period within which the articles should be declared for duty under the Customs Regulations; and he must, within a period to be prescribed by the Customs Authorities, produce a satisfactory statement of the amount of the damage; after the value of the goods, both in their undamaged and in their damaged conditions, has been ascertained by the Customs Administration in accordance with the provisions of the Tariff Instructions as to the ascertainment of the value of goods, they shall be sold ex duty on behalf of the Customs at public auction, to be duly notified, and after deduction of the costs incurred by the Customs the amount thus obtained shall be handed to the owner within one year after the date of the auction, or else such amount, if not previously claimed, shall fall to the Crown; when the new owner pays duty on the articles, their value shall be taken as the amount produced by the sale, provided it is not less than the value placed on the damaged articles when valued, otherwise the value shall be taken as the latter amount.

It shall be determined by Royal Decree whether, and to what extent, duty leviable under the Tariff may be reduced for foreign goods which are salvaged from stranded vessels, or which form part of wreckage washed ashore, found at the bottom of the sea, or in the open sea.

11 Duty properly charged and paid shall not be refunded even if the goods are re-exported.

This provision shall not, however, apply in the case of articles which, when properly analysed, are found to contain arsenic or other poisonous substance in such quantities that they may not be sold on sale in view of the regulations in force as to poisons, and are re-exported by the importer, or, in cases where there was apparent cause for exemption from duty in virtue of § 8, the articles are exported within three months after importation, and there appears no reasonable doubt as to the identity of the imported and exported goods.

12 Persons who construct, alter or repair in Sweden, vessels of more than 40 register tons, whether Swedish or foreign, shall be entitled to a refund of duty paid in respect of dutiable materials and requisites used therefor if imported from abroad, including articles of household furniture firmly fixed on the vessel, which cannot be separated therefrom without losing their utility, or which are shown by special and durable marking to be exclusively intended for use on such vessel; or, in case duty has not been paid but, as provided below, a bond therefor has only been furnished, such persons may enjoy exemption from payment. The following conditions must be complied with in each case:

The intention to use the imported goods for the purposes above specified shall be stated in writing when declaring them for assessment of duty; the vessel for which the articles are used must have been completed within three years from the date of the declaration; when the vessel is completed, the person who effected the construction, alteration or repair shall submit to the General Customs Administration a statement on oath, attested by two of his assistants employed on the work in question, containing an accurate account of the quantity and nature of all the various articles used for the vessel (including any waste of materials resulting from the work) in respect of which drawback or exemption from duty is claimed, as well as certificates on oath showing that the articles in question are of foreign origin; that the import duties thereon have been fully paid or a bond approved by the General Customs Administration furnished therefor, as well as particulars of the date of declaration, together with a statement whether they were declared from bonded warehouse or transit warehouse, from a free port or direct, showing in the latter case the method of conveyance when imported; as regards furniture, certificates of the Customs authorities must be furnished showing that, on examination on board, they fulfil the conditions laid down above for the grant of exemption to the articles in question were complied with; and the person effecting the construction, alteration or repair must submit to all other measures of control which the General Customs Administration may consider it reasonable to impose.

If the construction, alteration or repair is carried out by the owner of a building yard or engineering works and he desires to obtain a delay in paying the duty on the articles covered by this paragraph, until it is decided whether exemption from duty shall be allowed, he may, on making application to the General Customs Administration, be granted such delay, if a bond which is regarded by the General Customs Administration as satisfactory is furnished for the payment of the duties; the provisions contained in Section 32 of the Customs Law shall, so far as they are applicable, govern the right of the Customs after expiration of the period of the delay granted for the payment of such duties, to exact payment of the amount from such security.

The same privilege as accorded in first paragraph shall be applied under the above-mentioned conditions to persons who effect in Sweden the construction, alteration or repair of docks, dock gates, pontoons or slips, whether for Swedish or foreign account.

|   |            |

| Rolled and pressed tobacco .....                          | 81         |
| Snuff .....   | 54         |
| For 1 kilo. of unmanufactured paper, provided that they   |            |
| do not consist in the main of paper paying a lower rate   |            |
| of duty than 10 öre per kilogramme .....                  | 10         |
| For 1 kilo. of woollen tissue .....                       | 20         |
| „ linen tissue .....                                      | 20         |
| „ cotton tissue .....                                     | 15         |

The following conditions shall also be complied with:—

That in the case of all the articles enumerated above at least 25 kilos. must be declared for export and despatched in one consignment, but this provision shall not apply when the articles in respect of which drawback is claimed are exported for the victualling of ships, provided the same conditions as in the case of foreign goods entitled to free port when destined for retailing, namely, always duly complied with; that the export declaration must always be accompanied by a sworn certificate of the manufacturer, attested by two witnesses, that the goods are of Swedish manufacture and made from foreign raw materials on which duty was fully paid, or, in the case of tissues, that they are manufactured in Sweden from yarn spun abroad, which was subject to duty and on which duty was duly paid; this certificate must be entered in the register of the Customs Office at the place whence the goods are exported; and that the fact of exportation shall be verified by means of a certificate from the competent authority at the port of discharge, showing that the goods were landed there; this certificate must be duly legalized by the Swedish Consul or Vice-Consul, if there is one at the place. In case, however, the goods are exported in a vessel of 30 tons burden or more, and the measures prescribed in Section 13 of the Customs Office Law for re-exported goods are duly complied with, it shall not be necessary to require any certificate as to the arrival of the goods at the foreign port of discharge in order to grant drawback. In case also the goods are exported on a passenger-steamship which is shown by a list of sailings previously addressed to make regular voyages, and which has a number of 30 tons registered or more, the fact of exportation may be regarded as duly attested if verified by entry on the Customs pass of the vessel, and by a certificate of the Customs officer showing that the exported goods were landed into the vessel under his inspection, with unbroken Customs seals, and that the vessel remained under his surveillance until it cleared. If the vessel puts in at another Swedish port on the voyage a certificate from the Customs officer there shall also be appended, showing that the goods were duly watched and the goods left the port with the Customs seals intact.

In case jute tissue, manufactured abroad, is used for packing articles exported by sea, a drawback of 10öre for each kilo. of tissue may be granted in accordance with the stipulations laid down at the burning of this (13) Section. In order to be eligible for the drawback the manufacturer must apply to the export declaration shall in this case be issued by the manufacturer of the goods in packing which the tissue was used, and shall show that the packing material consisted of foreign jute tissue, on which import duty was fully paid, and contain a statement as to the weight of such packing. The competent Customs authorities shall have the right, if they think fit, to verify the weight of the packing by emptying it and weighing the sample. The General Customs Administration may, however, in regulations to be issued on the subject, grant such facilities as may be accorded without prejudice to the necessary control.

In addition to the drawback specified above, the following shall also be granted:

To owners of mills on the exportation by sea from a Customs port of the following products of milling, viz., fine flour of wheat, rye or barley and groats of wheat or barley, drawback of the amount of the duty paid by them on a corresponding quantity of unground cereals of the same kind imported directly from abroad. It shall be assumed that 100 kilos. of wheat yield 75 kilos. of flour; 100 kilos. of rye or barley 68½ kilos. of flour and 100 kilos. of wheat or barley 66½ kilos. of groats. The following conditions shall also be observed:—

The intention to grind imported cereals into flour or groats for export with drawback shall be declared by the manufacturer of the cereals and reported for importation. The import of the unground and the export of the ground cereals shall take place at the same Customs port, from which, if not a staple town, the import and export declarations as well as the certificate provided for below shall be forwarded to the Chief Customs Office in whose jurisdiction it lies; at least 2,000 kilos. of each kind of flour or groats shall be exported in one consignment; the goods shall be declared for export by a certificate on oath from the manufacturer, attested by two witnesses, showing that the goods declared for export are the produce of the exporter's own mills, and stating the nature and kind of the goods; the unground cereals in respect of which drawback is allowed must have been imported within the six months immediately preceding exportation; the Customs Administration at the place of export shall, after examining the goods, and the manufacturer's certificate and the seals, supervise them whilst in transport and during loading into the vessel, issue a certificate which is to be attached by way of proof to the Customs report forwarded to the head office together with the declaration and other certificates; exportation in other respects shall be verified in the manner laid down in this Section in respect of other goods for which drawback is granted; the Customs Office concerned must keep balance accounts for duty ports and exports in a form to be determined by the General Customs Administration, for all persons who, in the manner set forth above, declare when importing cereals that they are to be ground for export; and in order to obtain the drawback herein provided, the person concerned must make application each month to the General Customs Administration by means of a request forwarded through the Customs House concerned; such request must be accompanied by extracts from the balance accounts of the Customs House and by receipts for the Customs duties in respect of the quantities of unground cereals entered in the balance sheets.

To owners of rice mills on exporting by sea from staple towns rice groats or ground rice, being the produce of their mills, which has been ground from grain, whether cleaned, whole or crushed, a drawback of the duty paid on the unhusked rice used in the manufacture of the goods in question, provided it was imported by the mill owner directly from abroad or from a free port or removed from bond. The proportion between the raw material imported and the rice product shall be calculated by assuming that 100 kilos. of unhusked rice produce 75 kilos. of groats or ground rice. The following conditions shall also apply to the grant of drawback:—

The intention to grind groats or flour for export from the rice must be stated in a declaration on import, and the exportation must take place through the Customs House where duty was paid, unless the General Customs Administration permits otherwise in special cases; at least 2,000 kilos. of groats or flour, whether separately or together, shall be exported in one shipment. The export declaration must be accompanied by a certificate under oath of the manufacturer and attested by two witnesses, showing that the goods declared for export are the produce of the exporter's own mill, stating the kind when the goods paid duty and the method of import, and declaring, if the goods consist wholly or partly of ground rice, that the ground rice was produced exclusively from cleaned whole or crushed rice groats and is free from bran; the unhusked rice used in the production of such goods shall have been imported within 12 months immediately preceding exportation; the competent Customs House shall, after examining the goods, ascertaining their net weight, plombing the sacks, watching the transport to and loading in the vessel, issue a certificate which shall be attached to the report forwarded from the Customs House together with the export declaration and other certificates by way of verification; in other respects, the export shall be verified by the method provided in this Section in respect of other articles on which drawback is allowed; the competent Customs House shall keep balance accounts of payments of import duties and of exportation in a form to be determined by the General Customs Administration; the person concerned must make application to the General Customs Administration by means of a request received through the local Customs House; such request must be accompanied by extracts from the balance account of the Customs House and receipts for the duties paid on the quantities of unhusked rice entered in such balance accounts.

The Customs drawback provided for above shall also be allowed on exports by rail to Norway under the following special conditions, which apply to exports by land:—

The consignment must have been declared for export to the local Customs House at the place of despatch, and there recorded and provided with a proper pass addressed to the Swedish Customs House at the frontier, which pass shall accompany the goods during transit; the export declaration shall in this case be accompanied by the manufacturer's certificate, in the case of foreign jute tissues used as a covering for goods, and, in cases of flour or groats; in the case of foreign jute tissues used for packing goods, proof must be furnished by means of a certificate from the frontier Customs House that the goods arrived there with seals or plombs intact, and were thence conveyed to Norway, and, in the case of other articles, that they were also found to agree with the quantity and kind, and quantity with the particulars given in the pass. Instead, however, of the latter certificate, it may, when the articles arrive under seals or plombs, be considered sufficient if it is certified that the seals or plombs were intact on arrival.

Traders desiring to import foreign dutiable goods in order to use them with or without addition of native or foreign duty-free materials for the production of articles for export may, in special cases or for definite periods, be allowed a refund of the Customs duties paid on the foreign dutiable material when the goods so produced are exported or are placed in the drawback store, or, in case the duty shall not have been paid as provided below, they may be exempted therefrom; in this connection the loss of material which is unavoidable in the manufacture of the goods may also be allowed.

The privilege in question, which may also be allowed in respect of the articles of export mentioned at the beginning of this (13) Section, in case the drawback therein provided is not regarded as an exact reimbursement of the Customs duty paid, shall be granted, after investigation, by means of a Royal Decree, which shall also contain details of the conditions on which it is granted. It shall, however, be regarded as having lapsed in the case of foreign raw material entering into the composition of goods for export which have not been exported or placed in drawback bond within one year after the declaration of the raw materials on import.

If the trader, to whom the privilege in question has been granted, desires to defer payment of duty on goods imported for the purpose stated above until it is decided whether exemption from such duty can be allowed, he shall be entitled to delay payment provided that he applies stating the circumstances to the General Customs Administration, and furnishes a bond which the Administration regards as satisfactory, for the amounts he may have to pay to the Customs revenue.

If when such delay in payment of the duty has been granted, the articles for export have not been shipped abroad or deposited in drawback bond within the time and under the circumstances laid down for the grant of duty drawback, duty must be paid to the Customs revenue with interest at the rate of 6 ½ per annum from the time when the imported goods were declared to the Customs.

The portions of the provisions contained in Section 32 of the Customs Law, which are applicable, shall govern the right of the Customs to make the duty and interest in question a free port or a free port, furnished after the expiration of the period of delay allowed in payment of the duty.

The provisions of this Section in respect of drawback or exemption from Customs duty on export shall also apply when the goods affected by such drawback or exemption are exported to a free port or admitted into a free warehouse (drawback warehouse), established for such purpose in a building supplied either by the State, or by the exporter and approved by the Customs.

If the owner of goods warehoused in such drawback warehouse wishes again to make use of them in Sweden, the drawback, together with interest at the rate of 6 ½ per annum from the date of payment, shall be repaid to the Customs Revenue. If drawback was not granted on the goods, the raw materials used therein being imported from abroad, the duty, securities, and interest shall be paid to the Customs together with interest at the rate of 6 ½ per annum thereon from the date when the imported goods were declared to the Customs.

The same provision shall apply if the goods are not exported within one year after being warehoused in drawback warehouse, and the goods shall then be liable both to duty and interest.

Further provisions regarding drawback warehouses and the conditions under which they may be used shall be issued by Royal Decree.

If any person is found to have made statements not in accordance with the truth in order to obtain the drawback granted in accordance with the provisions of this Section, the right to obtain such drawback in future may be withdrawn from him.

14. Tonnage duties shall be paid to the Crown on voyages between Swedish and foreign ports at the rate of 10 öre for every ton of the vessel's dutiable burden, as shown in the tonnage measurement certificate, without distinction as to whether the vessels are Swedish or foreign. Such tonnage duties shall be paid in the course of a single calendar year on the following occasions:

On the first voyage inwards, and on every subsequent inward voyage, when the vessel carries cargo and discharges a greater or less portion thereof. In this connection, vessels shall be regarded as being in ballast when their cargo amounts to less than  $\frac{1}{10}$  of their dutiable burden. In calculating this, one ton shall be regarded as equivalent to 2.83 cubic metres in the case of goods which are entered in the ship's papers by volume, and 1,360 kilos, in the case of those entered by weight;

On the first outward voyage only.

When a vessel discharges and loads at several places, tonnage duties shall be paid only at the first port of loading or discharge, and a certificate of payment shall be entered on the manifest or Customs pass.

The following shall be exempt from the payment of tonnage duties:

Vessels destined or not to a Swedish port, which enter and clear in ballast.

One asterisk (*) placed before numbers and notes means that the whole is conventionalized.

Two asterisks (**) mean that the numbers and notes are partly conventionalized only, under Treaty with a foreign State.

Note.—Unless otherwise expressly determined, the conventional provisions result from the Commercial Treaty concluded with Germany on May 2, 1911.

The letters n.s.m. mean "not specially mentioned."

Vessels which during a voyage between foreign ports call at a Swedish port, and there only land or take on board passengers and their luggage, or only discharge goods into another vessel for export.

Vessels which put into Swedish ports owing to force majeure or to obtain orders for their further journey, and do not discharge cargo or take on board any cargo other than necessities for the crew and passengers or the vessel itself.

Vessels which put into Swedish ports in consequence of casualty at sea, which is reported in marine depositions, and there discharge their cargo and take it on board again for export after undergoing repairs.

Vessels which, under the circumstances last mentioned, discharge their cargo and sell it, either wholly or in part, when such sale is proved to be limited to furnish what may be required to meet the cost of repairs, and Vessels which during a voyage between foreign ports discharge or load goods in a Swedish port to an amount not exceeding one-fourth of the burden of the vessel, the ship's papers being taken as evidence in making the necessary calculations.

In all these cases, the master of the vessel must, however, comply with the regulations laid down in the Customs Law as to making a report to the nearest Customs Officer and delivering the manifest, and must also comply with the provisions of that Law in regard to obtaining a Customs pass so far as they are applicable.

This Law shall come into force on December 1st, 1911.

1.—Such beverages falling under Nos. 183-195 as pursuant to par. 1 of the Ordinance of June 14, 1917, relating to the sale of intoxicating drinks, are to be regarded as intoxicants, may be imported into Sweden only by a person who holds a licence from the Control Board to carry on wholesale trade in intoxicating drinks of the kind to be imported, or by a company which carries on the sale of spirits on or off the premises, under licence from a provincial governor.

2.—Intoxicating drinks shall not be delivered from the Customs except against a receipt issued by the person who is entitled to import those drinks; nevertheless, such drinks which have been imported by a company may be delivered against receipt to a person who can show that he has been authorised by the company to receive them from the Customs.

3.—Notwithstanding the above regulations, intoxicating drinks (d) may be imported into Sweden:

(a) By a person who, in accordance with special regulations, is entitled to exemption from customs duty for imported goods;

(b) By a duly accredited commercial traveller, in the ordinary course of business, when they are imported as samples;

(c) By travellers arriving from abroad, when they are imported for their own use, but only up to a certain small quantity determined by Royal Decree.

(d) If they are to be classed as ship's stores, may be dealt with in the manner prescribed in par. 4 (k) of the Customs Ordinance; nevertheless intoxicating drinks which, pursuant to the said clause, are subject to duty as excess ship's stores, may not be taken on land.

(e) May be stored in a bonded warehouse for ship's stores in the manner enacted in the special regulations with regard thereto; nevertheless intoxicating drinks stored in a bonded warehouse for ship's stores shall not, without a licence from the Crown in each separate case, be used except for the provisioning of the vessel in the manner prescribed.

4.—With regard to the right accorded to travellers arriving from Norway in Sweden over certain parts of the frontier, otherwise than by railway, to import malt liquors duty free the regulations contained in par. 5 of the Customs Ordinance shall hold good.

5.—With regard to importation into Sweden of intoxicants for scientific, medicinal, pharmaceutical, technical, industrial or similar purposes, the special regulations made by Royal Decree shall apply.

Note 1.—In the case of leaf tobacco from which the stalk is wholly or partly removed (stripped leaf tobacco), the rate of duty shall be increased by 15%.

Note 2.—In cases where the Customs authorities are in doubt as to whether the rates of duty under Nos. 195 and 196 are applicable to a consignment, the question must be referred to the General Customs Administration. Moreover, Tariff headings Nos. 195 and 196 shall not be applied unless the tobacco manufacturer or, for whom the tobacco is imported, makes special application for assessment of duty under one or other of these headings, and at the same time furnishes a written declaration made in good faith to the effect that the tobacco shall be used exclusively for the manufacture of smoking or chewing tobacco or snuff.

Note 3 to Nos. 195 and 196.—Unmanufactured tobacco and tobacco flour may be imported only by the holder of the State tobacco monopoly.
